A Ouachita Parish school bus driver and 11 Sterlington school children miraculously received only minor injuries Friday about 3:35 p.m. when the bus in which they were riding collided with a trailer truck at the Sterlington-Bastrop Highway intersection.

Mike Pratt, 14 - year - old son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Pratt, Sterlington Road, the most seriously hurt student, was resting in good condition at St. Francis Hospital Friday night. He was sitting on the left side of the bus at the point of impact and suffered a badly gashed left ear and broken pelvis when he was thrown through a closed window.

HE'S LUCKY

"I know that I'm lucky to still be alive," was the first thing that Mike said to his parents after being brought out of the emergency room at the hospital.

Mrs. Florence Moore, 46, driver of the bus, was listed in good condition at the Jones Clinic at Sterlington. She suffered a fractured pelvis, head lacerations and other minor bruises.

Driver of the truck, William Gipson, Negro, was charged with reckless driving by Troop F, Louisiana State troopers, which investigated the accident. Gipson gave his address as 1704 Rogers, Monroe.

CONTEMPT HEARING

Barnett Refuses Pledge To Obey All Court Edicts

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)— Braving huge fines and possible imprisonment, Mississippi Gov. Ross Barnett told a federal appeals court Friday he could not do everything the judges wanted in the University of Mississippi desegregation case.

As before in the series of hearings on contempt charges, Barnett did not appear before the court. An attorney spoke for him.

The 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals took no immediate action against Barnett.

AGAINST ARREST

Asst. U.S. Atty. Gen. Burke Marshall said Barnett's arrest would serve "no remedial purpose at present.

However, Marshall said Barnett had only "partially purged himself of contempt." He recommended the court start collecting part of the $10,000 daily fine which—along with imprisonment—it had previously set as Barnett's penalty for civil contempt.

Barnett's attorney, Charles Clark, said the court had misunderstood his plea at a previous hearing. He said Barnett reserved for himself to decide which of the court's orders he could legally comply with.

U.S. Circuit Judge Richard T. Rives of Montgomery, Ala., commented: "We have indeed entered "Alice in Wonderland" where language doesn't mean what it says."

Clark said Barnett had complied with the court's orders in that James H. Meredith 29, had been admitted to Ole Miss and was attending classes there. Chief Judge Elbert P. Tuttle of Atlanta, Ga., said the Negro was "barely" an Ole Miss student.

Earlier, the Mississippi attorneys attacked a Justice Department request for an injunction to prevent interference with Meredith, saying the court has no legal power to issue it.

Marshall's suggestion to the appeals court that it only start collecting fines—and forego any jail term — for Barnett's contempt drew opposition from Meredith's attorneys. They asked the court to put the full penalty into effect immediately.

The court delayed any final decision pending submission of written briefs from opposing attorneys in the case on Monday.

CONGRESS SESSION

Lack Of Quorum Delays 'Sine Die'

WASHINGTON (AP)— Congress' hopes to adjourn Friday night were blasted when the House failed to muster a quorum, and had to quit until noon Saturday.

A roll-call vote on an amendment to a public works appropriation bill produced only 204 members after a long delay. That was 14 short of a quorum, or a majority, to transact business.

Rather than try to round up absent members, Majority Leader Carl Albert of Oklahoma moved for adjournment and Speaker John W. McCormack of Massachusetts declared the motion carried.

MANY ABSENTEES

Leaders believed they could produce enough absentees by noon Saturday to have a quorum. Many of the absentees were Easterners who had left late Friday. Many of the California members had left for Saturday's funeral for Rep. Clem Miller of California.

It had appeared earlier that action by Senate conferees in yielding to the House on $1.5 billion in authorizations for "pork barrel" projects had cleared the way for final adjournment sometime during the night.

Other ticklish problems remained, however, including two big money bills. Among other things, they carry actual funds for water and flood control projects.

This final regular session of the 87th Congress already has run longer than any since the Korean War session of 1951 wheeh ended Oct. 20.

The big break came late in the afternoon when Senate-House conferees reported agreement on a measure authorizing navigation, flood control and power dam projects to be built in future years with funds to be appropriated later.

Final action isn't necessary at present but these authorizations are important to incumbents seeking re-election.

The House had approved 166 projects to cost about $2.25 billion but the Senate boosted this by 50 projects and pushed the authorization to about $5 billion.

After a three-day struggle pitting Sen. Robert S. Kerr, D-Okla., against Chairman Howard W. Smith, D-Va., of the House Rules Committee, the Senate agreed to drop nearly all the added projects.

Last Day

Friday was the last day of work with the West Monroe police department for meter checker Sue Elledge, leaving after about a year and a half to have her second child.

She was the center of attention at a party in her honor where she got, in addition to a big cake, a colorful robe and houseshoes.

Sue has a three year old son: the new arrival is due around Christmas.

Her replacement, Mrs. Glenda Saxon, began breaking in on the job about three days ago. Glenda's the daughter of Kenneth Lee.

Slight Reprieve

Thursday was a happy birthday in more ways than one for rotund Jimmy Crawford of West Monroe — his wife let him get off his diet for a while.

A senior at Northeast Louisiana State College, Jimmy's been on a reducing kick for around two weeks now. In light of the special occasion, however, Mrs. Crawford, his official conscience, eased off and served up normal - type meals all day long.

Jimmy sat down to big successive meals of birthday cake and squirrel of his own killing. Needless to say, his two kids probably noted and enjoyed the change in his temperament.

It's been dieting as usual since then, however.

3 In Sinking Boat Reject Soviet Aid

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Three Cubans fleeing their country's Communist regime in a sinking boat rejected a Soviet tanker's rescue efforts in favor of a U.S. helicopter Friday.

The U.S. Coast Guard said the three unidentified Cuban men said they left Cuba 10 days ago. They were without food and their 15-foot sailboat was leaking. And they were 25 miles southeast of Miami.

Before dawn Friday, they spotted the lights of a ship, which turned out to be the Soviet tanker Durzhva.

The Russians broadcast a radio distress call in English, describing the situation, lowered a boat and began rescue operations.

Meanwhile, the Coast Guard dispatched a patrol boat, an amphibian airplane and a helicopter.

The helicopter pilot, Lt. Cmdr. W. C. Wallace, described the situation: "The tanker had lowered a motorboat and secured the sailboat when we reached the scene.

"By this time (after sun rise), you could see the hammer and sickle (on the funnel). The tanker was ready to hoist the motorboat. We were just hovering near the stern.

"They didn't make it on the first pass and one man jumped into the water. We went down to about five feet above the waves, fished him out and circled again.

"The motorboat started to make another pass, and two more jumped into the ocean. I don't think the Russians tried to stop them."

The Russians sank the sailboat.

Reds Charge U.S. Citizen With Spying

Czechoslovakia Claims Teacher Espionage Agent

PRAGUE (AP) — Communist Czechoslovakia announced Friday the arrest of a U.S. citizen on spy charges.

A report carried by the official Czechoslovak News Agency CTK said Robert Roy Budway, of Washington, had collected defense data about this Red-ruled country.

MOTHER CZECH

Budway, 34, a teacher by profession, was recruited for the U.S. Intelligence Service whle serving with the American Army in West Germany, CTK said.

Budway's mother, Czech by birth, left the United States in 1932 and returned here after the death of her husband. She settled at Plzen. Robert Budway remained in the United States, according to the agency.

CTK said Budway, who speaks Czech fluently, had been collecting samples of uranium ore and through friends had attempted to pass out leaflets hostile to Czechoslovakia. CTK said Budway had brought the leaflets into Czechoslovakia illegally.

The CTK report did not make clear when and where Budway was taken into custody. It said he was arrested while receiving instructions to expand espionage activities in Czechoslovakia.

(In Washington, the U.S. State Department said it had learned that Budway was born in the United States of a Czech mother and an Irish father, that his mother returned to Czechoslovakia, and that the son had been raised there.

(He subsequently returned to the United States, the State Department said, served in the U.S. Army and attended George Washington University in the capital.

(The department said Budway went to Czechoslovakia this summer and had been due back in the United States by Sept. 1. The U.S. Embassy at Prague was notified and it was learned, the department said, that Budway had been detained by the Czech government on July 31.

The duty officer at the U.S. Embassy in Prague, the only American official reachable at the time CTK released its report, said he was unaware of Budway's arrest.

Tax Blockade Rings Monaco

PARIS (AP)—France ordered a customs barrier thrown around Monaco on Friday to put a tax bite on those who found a tax-free paradise in the tiny Riviera principality.

Prince Rainier planned to fly home to take command of the crisis confronting the vest-pocket pleasure land he reigns over with Princess Grace on the Mediterranean.

The handsome monarch's negotiations here with the French broke down, bringing to an end the customs union that made Monaco such an inviting haven for rich foreigners.

Barnett Asks Public Fight On Socialism

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Gov. Ross Barnett called Friday night for marshalling public opinion nationally to curb what he called a highly centralized federal government receiving socialistic advice.

In a speech filmed for television showing locally and over a national network (CBS), the governor said:

"We need to marshal the great forces of public opinion on the rights of the states to exercise those responsibilities guaranteed so clearly in the Tenth Amendment. The Constitution is all that stands between the American people and dictatorship.

CITES THREATS

"The President of the United States continues to threaten to enforce integration of housing in every city and state in the United States. This vitally affects your property rights.

"This is not just Mississippi's fight. It is the fight of all decent, freedom-loving Americans in every state in the Union."

Barnett said a primary issue confronting the American people "is the tendency of a highly centralized federal government, with socialistic advisors embarking on a program of depriving the states of the union of all of their sovereign rights.

"The extent to which this has gone is indicated by many of the thousands of letters and telegrams which I have received from all parts of this country supporting our position but disclosing genuine fear of doing so publicly.

"When the American people become afraid to publicly express their honest opinions, are we any different from the people living in Poland or Hungary, under Russian domination?"

The governor pledged he would "continue this fight of federal dictatorship by every legal and constitutional means."

Barnett refused to permit Negro James Meredith to be enrolled at the University of Mississippi despite federal court orders directing his admittance. Under armed federal guard, Meredith was admitted and the governor is now a defendant in contempt of court proceedings pending before the 5th U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

EIGHT KNOWN DEAD

120-Mile Winds Hit West Coast

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Hurricane force winds slammed into the Pacific Northwest on Friday afternoon, raking northern California at 120 miles per hour and driving northward into Oregon and Washington.

The ocean blow piled inland as far as the Cascade Mountains and screamed northward up the Willamette Valley as well as racing along the coast.

Eight were known dead in California, Washington and British Columbia and a body was reported washed up on the central Oregon coast.

This pounding new attack was another strike from the Pacific Ocean storm that first hit Thursday, sweeping along 1,000 miles of coastline.

HEAVY DAMAGES

In early afternoon Friday all power failed at Crescent City on the northern California coast. Soon the inland southern Oregon city of Ashland was struck. Trees were leveled and a small airplane hangar was overturned.

Then reports began coming in as the wind cracked north:

On the coast at Brookings an oil storage shed was picked up and dumped into a mill pond.

A 200-foot-high steel tower blew over at the edge of Coos Bay, dropping a 115,000 - volt line across the shipping channel.

At Newport on the central Oregon coast the iron roof of a building sailed past the courthouse and slammed into parked cars.

Inland again, a small building near Cottage Grove was blown over, injuring three men. All power failed at Eugene and the Weather Bureau said the wind force was 55 to 75 knots. Radio stations went off the air.

The Eugene blow cost three and possibly four lives as small buildings toppled and debris blew through the streets. Hospitals reported many emergency cases. Five or six sawmills caught fire in that Douglas fir lumbering center from sawdust burners.

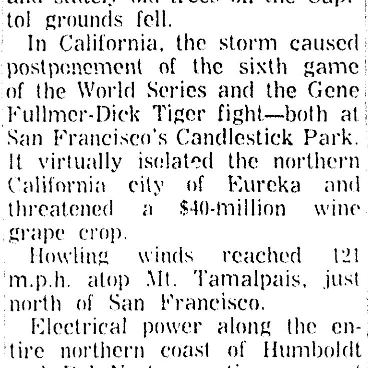
The state capital, Salem, reported gusts of 70 miles an hour and stately old trees on the Capitol grounds fell.

In California, the storm caused postponement of the sixth game of the World Series and the Gene Fullmer-Dick Tiger fight—both at San Francisco's Candlestick Park. It virtually isolated the northern California city of Eureka and threatened a $40-million wine grape crop.

Howling winds reached 121 m.p.h. atop Mt. Tamalpais, just north of San Francisco.

Electrical power along the entire northern coast of Humboldt and Del Norte counties was out more than two hours.

WARM



The weatherman just won't let up with his predictions of hot and partly cloudy days. Today is another in a long string of hot autumn days.

The high today is expected to range between 86 and 92 degrees with the not - so - low expected to be somewhere between 68 and 72 degrees.

Friday's high was 92 with the low set at 65.

Medical Group Says Anti-Fat Fad Is Foolish

CHICAGO (AP) — The American Medical Association says the "anti - fat, anti-cholesterol fad" is foolish and futile and involves some risk to health.

The organization issued a statement Friday about cholesterol — a fatty substance that can get into arteries—and diets to control it.

"Scientific reports linking cholesterol and heart attacks have touched off a new food fad among do-it-yourself Americans," the AMA said. "But dieters who believe they can cut down their blood cholesterol without medical supervision are in for a rude awakening. It can't be done. It could be even dangerous to try."

The statement also set forth:

Elimination of certain foods of proved nutritional value could be detrimental to health.

It has not been determined whether a significant change in cholesterol levels can be brought about by dietary means.

Substitution of a few food items without over - all control of the diet accomplishes little, if anything, in reducing cholesterol.

The AMA said its Council on Foods and Nutrition recommends a well balanced diet chosen from the four basic food groups.

It adds that butter, margarine, fats or oils also are needed.

U.S. Extends Pacific Area For A-Tests

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission said Friday the test area around Johnston Island in the Pacific has been extended for a new series of lower-yield, low-altitude nuclear weapons tests.

A spokesman said the extension would have no effect on the missile-launched high-altitude test scheduled over the Pacific on Sunday night or early Monday morning. The new regulations take effect Monday.

EXTEND RADIUS

Meanwhile, the AEC announced a low-yield underground nuclear test at the Nevada test site, the 54th in the Nevada underground series. The low-yield range includes devices with an explosive force of up to 20,000 tons of TNT.

The AEC said Joint Task Force 8 in the Pacific had extended the test area on the surface to a circle with a radius of 600 nautical miles extending outward from the Johnston Island area.

The area radius increases gradually until it is 810 nautical miles at 40,000 feet and higher. This represents an increase of 130 nautical miles on the surface and 110 miles at 40,000 feet.

The AEC announcement said the new restrictions were "designed to accommodate tests of lower yield and altitude than the high-altitude test of July 9, 1962."

"As in the establishment of previous restricted areas around Johnston Island, the size and shape of the area is dictated largely by requirements for protection against the possibility of retinal burns," it added.

"While lowering the altitude will result in a brighter flash of light, it also will minimize the possibility of contributing new radiation to the natural radiation belts above the earth."

Old coins are often worth a fortune, and, as every girl knows, the same holds true for old bucks.

SIGHTED BY PATROLS

Soviet Spy Ships In U.S. Test Area

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. patrols have sighted three Soviet instrument ships apparently steaming into position to spy on the impending high-altitude nuclear weapons test over the Pacific it was disclosed Friday night.

Three Soviet missile range ships—the Sibir, Suchan and Sakhalin—appeared two days ago on the western fringe of the test area around Johnston Island.

The ships "carry extensive electronic instruments and have been used in the past during Soviet space ventures as well as missile testing," the Defense Department said in response to an inquiry.

Navy patrol planes notified the Soviets "of their proximity to the U.S. restricted area," the Pentagon said, "but while continuing slow southeasterly movement, they have manifested little concern."

Since the U.S. nuclear test zone lies in international waters, this country can do no more than warn intruding ships of danger. It cannot drive them away.

For more than two months during the earlier phase of the U.S. nuclear weapons test series, four Soviet instrument ships of a different type than the Sibir class vessels now in the area hovered close to the test zone and, it is believed, collected considerable information from as many as 27 nuclear explosions.

Those four Soviet ships, basically meteorological research vessels, steamed away a day or two after the July 9 high-altitude test in which a thermonuclear device equivalent to the blast power of 1.4 million tons of TNT was detonated 250 miles above Johnston Island.

U.S. Says Cuba Arms Aid Costs Soviet Millions

WASHINGTON (AP) — Asst. Secretary of State Edwin M. Martin said Friday night the Soviet Union is now supplying military equipment to Cuba at the rate of about $200 million for this year.

Martin also estimated that at present over-all Soviet assistance in support of the Castro regime is costing the U.S.S.R. about $1 million a day "above and beyond what they are getting from Cuba."

In a CBS radio interview, Martin said Soviet help is probably just about enough to keep Cuba's "head above water-at a relatively low level."

INCOME DROPS

"We estimated," Martin said, "the Cuban people are getting about 25 per cent less income than they did before (Prime Minister Fidel) Castro (took power). This will not do more than keep them at that level as far as we can see at the present time."

Martin, who is chief of Latin-American affairs in the State Department, predicted that new U.S. penalties on foreign shipping in the Cuban-Soviet bloc trade will increase the Soviet financial burden. These penalties are expected to be imposed next week. Among other things these curbs are expected to deny U.S. cargoes to ships and shipping companies involved in carrying supplies to Castro from Communists countries.

In talking about trade, Martin said the State Department estimates the Soviets will run a trade deficit to Cuba of $50 to $75 million this year. Furthermore, Martin said, the State Department understands the Russians will be supplying long-term economic aid this year on the order of $40 to $50 million.

The Russians broadcast a radio distress call in English, describing the situation, lowered a boat and began rescue operations.

Meanwhile, the Coast Guard dispatched a patrol boat, an amphibian airplane and a helicopter.

The helicopter pilot, Lt. Cmdr. W. C. Wallace, described the situation: "The tanker had lowered a motorboat and secured the sailboat when we reached the scene.

"By this time (after sun rise), you could see the hammer and sickle (on the funnel). The tanker was ready to hoist the motorboat. We were just hovering near the stern.

"They didn't make it on the first pass and one man jumped into the water. We went down to about five feet above the waves, fished him out and circled again.

"The motorboat started to make another pass, and two more jumped into the ocean. I don't think the Russians tried to stop them."

The Russians sank the sailboat.

Barnett Asks Public Fight On Socialism

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Gov. Ross Barnett called Friday night for marshalling public opinion nationally to curb what he called a highly centralized federal government receiving socialistic advice.

In a speech filmed for television showing locally and over a national network (CBS), the governor said:

"We need to marshal the great forces of public opinion on the rights of the states to exercise those responsibilities guaranteed so clearly in the Tenth Amendment. The Constitution is all that stands between the American people and dictatorship.

CITES THREATS

"The President of the United States continues to threaten to enforce integration of housing in every city and state in the United States. This vitally affects your property rights.

"This is not just Mississippi's fight. It is the fight of all decent, freedom-loving Americans in every state in the Union."

Barnett said a primary issue confronting the American people "is the tendency of a highly centralized federal government, with socialistic advisors embarking on a program of depriving the states of the union of all of their sovereign rights.

"The extent to which this has gone is indicated by many of the thousands of letters and telegrams which I have received from all parts of this country supporting our position but disclosing genuine fear of doing so publicly.

"When the American people become afraid to publicly express their honest opinions, are we any different from the people living in Poland or Hungary, under Russian domination?"

The governor pledged he would "continue this fight of federal dictatorship by every legal and constitutional means."

Barnett refused to permit Negro James Meredith to be enrolled at the University of Mississippi despite federal court orders directing his admittance. Under armed federal guard, Meredith was admitted and the governor is now a defendant in contempt of court proceedings pending before the 5th U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

Senator Soaper Says

Sir Oswald Mosley says he likes the United States. We take it as very unfriendly of Great Britain to permit its Fascists to say nice things about us.

The happy man is one who strictly prunes the list of things he thinks are important, and caring about who is heavyweight champion of the world has just been lopped off our personal roster.

The trend is toward civic cultural centers, and there is some apprehension that the word may catch on as, for example, "Atomic" did, and we'll have everything from the cultural bar and grill to the cultural body works.

When we humans reach the moon we naturally hope that the creatures up there will regard us as friendly, attractive, interesting — almost anything but delicious.

EIGHT KNOWN DEAD

120-Mile Winds Hit West Coast

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Hurricane force winds slammed into the Pacific Northwest on Friday afternoon, raking northern California at 120 miles per hour and driving northward into Oregon and Washington.

The ocean blow piled inland as far as the Cascade Mountains and screamed northward up the Willamette Valley as well as racing along the coast.

Eight were known dead in California, Washington and British Columbia and a body was reported washed up on the central Oregon coast.

This pounding new attack was another strike from the Pacific Ocean storm that first hit Thursday, sweeping along 1,000 miles of coastline.

HEAVY DAMAGES

In early afternoon Friday all power failed at Crescent City on the northern California coast. Soon the inland southern Oregon city of Ashland was struck. Trees were leveled and a small airplane hangar was overturned.

Then reports began coming in as the wind cracked north:

On the coast at Brookings an oil storage shed was picked up and dumped into a mill pond.

A 200-foot-high steel tower blew over at the edge of Coos Bay, dropping a 115,000 - volt line across the shipping channel.

At Newport on the central Oregon coast the iron roof of a building sailed past the courthouse and slammed into parked cars.

Inland again, a small building near Cottage Grove was blown over, injuring three men. All power failed at Eugene and the Weather Bureau said the wind force was 55 to 75 knots. Radio stations went off the air.

The Eugene blow cost three and possibly four lives as small buildings toppled and debris blew through the streets. Hospitals reported many emergency cases. Five or six sawmills caught fire in that Douglas fir lumbering center from sawdust burners.

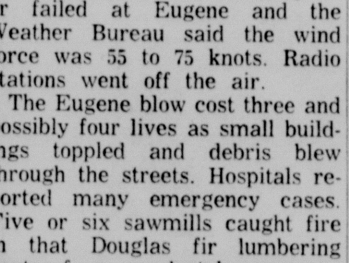
The state capital, Salem, reported gusts of 70 miles an hour and stately old trees on the Capitol grounds fell.

In California, the storm caused postponement of the sixth game of the World Series and the Gene Fullmer-Dick Tiger fight—both at San Francisco's Candlestick Park. It virtually isolated the northern California city of Eureka and threatened a $40-million wine grape crop.

Howling winds reached 121 m.p.h. atop Mt. Tamalpais, just north of San Francisco.

Electrical power along the entire northern coast of Humboldt and Del Norte counties was out more than two hours.

WARM



The weatherman just won't let up with his predictions of hot and partly cloudy days. Today is another in a long string of hot autumn days.

The high today is expected to range between 86 and 92 degrees with the not - so - low expected to be somewhere between 68 and 72 degrees.

Friday's high was 92 with the low set at 65.

Medical Group Says Anti-Fat Fad Is Foolish

CHICAGO (AP) — The American Medical Association says the "anti - fat, anti-cholesterol fad" is foolish and futile and involves some risk to health.

The organization issued a statement Friday about cholesterol — a fatty substance that can get into arteries—and diets to control it.

"Scientific reports linking cholesterol and heart attacks have touched off a new food fad among do-it-yourself Americans," the AMA said. "But dieters who believe they can cut down their blood cholesterol without medical supervision are in for a rude awakening. It can't be done. It could be even dangerous to try."

The statement also set forth:

Elimination of certain foods of proved nutritional value could be detrimental to health.

It has not been determined whether a significant change in cholesterol levels can be brought about by dietary means.

Substitution of a few food items without over - all control of the diet accomplishes little, if anything, in reducing cholesterol.

The AMA said its Council on Foods and Nutrition recommends a well balanced diet chosen from the four basic food groups.

It adds that butter, margarine, fats or oils also are needed.

U.S. Extends Pacific Area For A-Tests

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission said Friday the test area around Johnston Island in the Pacific has been extended for a new series of lower-yield, low-altitude nuclear weapons tests.

A spokesman said the extension would have no effect on the missile-launched high-altitude test scheduled over the Pacific on Sunday night or early Monday morning. The new regulations take effect Monday.

EXTEND RADIUS

Meanwhile, the AEC announced a low-yield underground nuclear test at the Nevada test site, the 54th in the Nevada underground series. The low-yield range includes devices with an explosive force of up to 20,000 tons of TNT.

The AEC said Joint Task Force 8 in the Pacific had extended the test area on the surface to a circle with a radius of 600 nautical miles extending outward from the Johnston Island area.

The area radius increases gradually until it is 810 nautical miles at 40,000 feet and higher. This represents an increase of 130 nautical miles on the surface and 110 miles at 40,000 feet.

The AEC announcement said the new restrictions were "designed to accommodate tests of lower yield and altitude than the high-altitude test of July 9, 1962."

"As in the establishment of previous restricted areas around Johnston Island, the size and shape of the area is dictated largely by requirements for protection against the possibility of retinal burns," it added.

"While lowering the altitude will result in a brighter flash of light, it also will minimize the possibility of contributing new radiation to the natural radiation belts above the earth."

SIGHTED BY PATROLS

Soviet Spy Ships In U.S. Test Area

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. patrols have sighted three Soviet instrument ships apparently steaming into position to spy on the impending high-altitude nuclear weapons test over the Pacific it was disclosed Friday night.

Three Soviet missile range ships—the Sibir, Suchan and Sakhalin—appeared two days ago on the western fringe of the test area around Johnston Island.

The ships "carry extensive electronic instruments and have been used in the past during Soviet space ventures as well as missile testing," the Defense Department said in response to an inquiry.

Navy patrol planes notified the Soviets "of their proximity to the U.S. restricted area," the Pentagon said, "but while continuing slow southeasterly movement, they have manifested little concern."

Since the U.S. nuclear test zone lies in international waters, this country can do no more than warn intruding ships of danger. It cannot drive them away.

For more than two months during the earlier phase of the U.S. nuclear weapons test series, four Soviet instrument ships of a different type than the Sibir class vessels now in the area hovered close to the test zone and, it is believed, collected considerable information from as many as 27 nuclear explosions.

Those four Soviet ships, basically meteorological research vessels, steamed away a day or two after the July 9 high-altitude test in which a thermonuclear device equivalent to the blast power of 1.4 million tons of TNT was detonated 250 miles above Johnston Island.

U.S. Says Cuba Arms Aid Costs Soviet Millions

WASHINGTON (AP) — Asst. Secretary of State Edwin M. Martin said Friday night the Soviet Union is now supplying military equipment to Cuba at the rate of about $200 million for this year.

Martin also estimated that at present over-all Soviet assistance in support of the Castro regime is costing the U.S.S.R. about $1 million a day "above and beyond what they are getting from Cuba."

In a CBS radio interview, Martin said Soviet help is probably just about enough to keep Cuba's "head above water-at a relatively low level."

INCOME DROPS

"We estimated," Martin said, "the Cuban people are getting about 25 per cent less income than they did before (Prime Minister Fidel) Castro (took power). This will not do more than keep them at that level as far as we can see at the present time."

Martin, who is chief of Latin-American affairs in the State Department, predicted that new U.S. penalties on foreign shipping in the Cuban-Soviet bloc trade will increase the Soviet financial burden. These penalties are expected to be imposed next week. Among other things these curbs are expected to deny U.S. cargoes to ships and shipping companies involved in carrying supplies to Castro from Communists countries.

In talking about trade, Martin said the State Department estimates the Soviets will run a trade deficit to Cuba of $50 to $75 million this year. Furthermore, Martin said, the State Department understands the Russians will be supplying long-term economic aid this year on the order of $40 to $50 million.

GIVES U.S. WARNING

Algeria Supports Regime Of Castro

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — Newly independent Algeria backed Cuban Premier Fidel Castro's regime Friday and warned the United States that any attempt to overthrow it would be "dangerous for world peace."

Algeria's position was outlined in a major foreign policy speech by Foreign Minister Mohammed Khemisti. He was the first non-Communist speaker to back the Castro regime publicly in the United Nations General Assembly.

Khemisti said the Cuban government has no aggressive aims and he called urgently for a lessening of tension between Cuba and the United States.

He spoke only three days after Premier Ahmed Ben Bella, who has been lionized socially by the Communist and other delegations here, affirmed Algerian neutralism as the country became the 109th U.N. member.

Ben Bella will see President Kennedy in Washington Monday and will go to Havana later in the week to meet Castro. Castro sent a goodwill mission to Algiers in July and Ben Bella was greeted by Cuban President Osvaldo Dorticos in a meeting here last weekend.

Khemisti largely repeated the outline of Algerian policy Ben Bella gave the assembly Tuesday. He pledged that Algeria, which won its independence from France in a seven-year war will align itself with the Arab countries. He urged African unity and paid tribute to the late Patrice Lumumba, the Congo's controversial premier.

He called for a negotiated solution to the Berlin crisis, denounced the arms race, South African racial policies and colonialism and asked the United Nations to end "imperialism" in British Oman.

Acting Secretary General Thant, meanwhile, called in his 18-nation Congo Advisory Committee to discuss steps to end Katanga's secession and speed reunification of the country.

Nehru Orders Army Action Against Reds

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru sounded a warning Friday that he has ordered the Indian army to drive Chinese Communists from "our territory" on the North East Frontier.

In a sternly confident mood, Nehru declined to say when his troops would strike but declared they were "strongly positioned and in a large number, operating from higher ground."

There was no immediate reaction from Peiping to Nehru's latest warning which sounded like an ultimatum.

But Red China repeatedly has threatened to fight any attempt to oust Communist troops by force from disputed land in the Himalayas.

An Indian spokesman indicated Friday a lull had set in after Wednesday's bloody battle near the Kechilang River in an area bordering Chinese-occupied Tibet in which New Delhi and Peiping both claimed a victory.

Nehru estimated the Communists suffered nearly 100 casualties—nearly three times the 33 casualties acknowledged by Peiping. Indian losses were officially listed here at 6 killed, 11 wounded and 7 missing.

Nehru told reporters, just before boarding a plane for Ceylon, he had ordered the army "to free our territory in the North East Frontier." The prime minister's departure from the country for three days indicated Indian troops were not about to start marching immediately.

PRAISES PEACE CORPS

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras — (UPI) — President Ramon Villeda Morales Friday hailed the U. S. Peace Corps as "one of the most formidable links between nations of the free world," and announced Honduras will establish a similar organization.

Three other Latin American nations, Chile, El Salvador and Colombia, have announced they will form development organizations paralleling the U.S. Peace Corps.

FAMED WAR BOMBER

Youth Offers $20 For 'Lady Be Good'

WARNER ROBINS, Ga. (AP)—A Washington State schoolboy offered $20 of his hard-earned cash for the honor of owning what's left of the famed World War II bomber "Lady Be Good."

Ron Abo, of Shelton, Wash., wrote the Air Material Command at Robins Air Force Base he knew he would not be able to get the "Lady" out of the Sahara Desert where she has lain since 1943.

But he felt it would be worth $20 to have the title deed in his school locker.

The Air Force had to turn down Ron's and other bids starting at 95 cents because it no longer owns "Lady Be Good." It has abandoned title to the Libyan government.

Explorers found the B24 liberator on a pebbly desert plateau in 1960. The dry desert air had preserved it with little change from April 4, 1943, when it was lost on a Naples bomb mission from a Libyan base. Its crew of nine perished in the desert 400 miles from Benghazi and 1,000 miles from Tripoli.

The Air Force surrendered title to Libya when within a prescribed time there was no bid for the wreckage.

Attendant publicity brought an assortment of offers—all too late.

The 95-cent bid, cash enclosed, came from Danny Barrett, West Hartford, Conn. He didn't say how he expected to take possession.

Frank H. North of Plainfield, N.J., offered only $1 because of the bomber's "difficult location." James C. Blazier, 15, of Pryor, Okla., bid $5 for "any part" of the aircraft.

GIVES U.S. WARNING

Algeria Supports Regime Of Castro

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) -- Newly independent Algeria backed Cuban Premier Fidel Castro's regime Friday and warned the United States that any attempt to overthrow it would be "dangerous for world peace."

Algeria's position was outlined in a major foreign policy speech by Foreign Minister Mohammed Khemisti. He was the first non-Communist speaker to back the Castro regime publicly in the United Nations General Assembly.

Khemisti said the Cuban government has no aggressive aims and he called urgently for a lessening of tension between Cuba and the United States.

He spoke only three days after Premier Ahmed Ben Bella, who has been lionized socially by the Communist and other delegations here, affirmed Algerian neutralism as the country became the 109th U.N. member.

Ben Bella will see President Kennedy in Washington Monday and will go to Havana later in the week to meet Castro. Castro sent a goodwill mission to Algiers in July and Ben Bella was greeted by Cuban President Osvaldo Dorticos in a meeting here last weekend.

Khemisti largely repeated the outline of Algerian policy Ben Bella gave the assembly Tuesday. He pledged that Algeria, which won its independence from France in a seven-year war will align itself with the Arab countries. He urged African unity and paid tribute to the late Patrice Lumumba, the Congo's controversial premier.

He called for a negotiated solution to the Berlin crisis, denounced the arms race, South African racial policies and colonialism and asked the United Nations to end "imperialism" in British Oman.

Acting Secretary General Thant, meanwhile, called in his 18-nation Congo Advisory Committee to discuss steps to end Katanga's secession and speed reunification of the country.

Nehru Orders Army Action Against Reds

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru sounded a warning Friday that he has ordered the Indian army to drive Chinese Communists from "our territory" on the North East Frontier.

In a sternly confident mood, Nehru declined to say when his troops would strike but declared they were "strongly positioned and in a large number, operating from higher ground."

There was no immediate reaction from Peiping to Nehru's latest warning which sounded like an ultimatum.

But Red China repeatedly has threatened to fight any attempt to oust Communist troops by force from disputed land in the Himalayas.

An Indian spokesman indicated Friday a lull had set in after Wednesday's bloody battle near the Kechilang River in an area bordering Chinese-occupied Tibet in which New Delhi and Peiping both claimed a victory.

Nehru estimated the Communists suffered nearly 100 casualties—nearly three times the 33 casualties acknowledged by Peiping. Indian losses were officially listed here at 6 killed, 11 wounded and 7 missing.

Nehru told reporters, just before boarding a plane for Ceylon, he had ordered the army "to free our territory in the North East Frontier." The prime minister's departure from the country for three days indicated Indian troops were not about to start marching immediately.

PRAISES PEACE CORPS

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras — (UPI) — President Ramon Villeda Morales Friday hailed the U. S. Peace Corps as "one of the most formidable links between nations of the free world," and announced Honduras will establish a similar organization.

Three other Latin American nations, Chile, El Savador and Colombia, have announced they will form development organizations paralleling the U.S. Peace Corps.

FAMED WAR BOMBER

Youth Offers $20 For 'Lady Be Good'

WARNER ROBINS, Ga. (AP)—A Washington State schoolboy offered $20 of his hard-earned cash for the honor of owning what's left of the famed World War II bomber "Lady Be Good."

Ron Abo, of Shelton, Wash., wrote the Air Material Command at Robins Air Force Base he knew he would not be able to get the "Lady" out of the Sahara Desert where she has lain since 1943.

But he felt it would be worth $20 to have the title deed in his school locker.

The Air Force had to turn down Ron's and other bids starting at 95 cents because it no longer owns "Lady Be Good." It has abandoned title to the Libyan government.

Explorers found the B24 liberator on a pebbly desert plateau in 1960. The dry desert air had preserved it with little change from April 4, 1943, when it was lost on a Naples bomb mission from a Libyan base. Its crew of nine perished in the desert 400 miles from Benghazi and 1,000 miles from Tripoli.

The Air Force surrendered title to Libya when within a prescribed time there was no bid for the wreckage.

Attendant publicity brought an assortment of offers—all too late.

The 95-cent bid, cash enclosed, came from Danny Barrett, West Hartford, Conn. He didn't say how he expected to take possession.

Frank H. North of Plainfield, N.J., offered only $1 because of the bomber's "difficult location." James C. Blazier, 15, of Pryor, Okla., bid $5 for "any part" of the aircraft.

September Paychecks Rise

WASHINGTON (AP)—Industry worked longer hours and handed out bigger paychecks in September even though the national unemployment rate stayed as high as in August.

In a job report which suggested that new gains in industrial production and personal income will soon be posted, the Labor Department said Friday that factory hands worked record hours of overtime last month.

The factory work-week lengthened to 40.6 hours, a gain of 0.2 hours in a month when little if any change is normally seen.

In the automobile industry—rushing to get the 1963 models into showrooms—the work-week soared to a 10-year high of 42.4 hours, the department announced.

The report provided fresh and fairly encouraging details on the September employment estimates issued last week. Those figures showed unemployment at 3,512,000—the lowest in two years—and employment at 68,668,000, a September record. But a wave of new job-seekers kept the unemployment rate at 5.8 per cent.

Industry evidently is working its present employes longer hours and absorbing the resulting increase in overtime costs, rather than taking on new workers, a department spokesman told reporters.

A special study of this cautious attitude toward hiring is being considered by the Bureau of Labor Statistics, he said.

Several theories have been advanced, the simplest being that industrial managers, uncertain of the business outlook, believe it may be cheaper to pay overtime now than incur penalty payments later when they may be obliged to discharge workers.

Ships To Cuba Court Risk Of Attack

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States declined Friday to guarantee the safety of British ships carrying cargoes to Cuba. In effect, it warned all maritime powers that vessels in the Cuban trade run some risk of attack by anti-Castro raiders.

State Department Press Officer Lincoln White told a news conference:

"There is no absolute guarantee against any incident taking place."

There already has been at least one attack which involved a British ship. A Cuban-exile organization, Alpha 66, which claimed to have carried out that operation, announced Thursday it is declaring war on all ships carrying supplies to Cuba.

The British government, through its embassy here, had expressed concern to the State Department about an incident which took place on Sept. 10. News dispatches from London reflected British displeasure with the general U.S. attitude toward Cuban shipping.

White dealt specifically with the problem of attacks on shipping and did not get into the broader issues raised by U.S. efforts to reduce the number of free world vessels carrying supplies to Prime Minister Fidel Castro from the Soviet Union and other Soviet-bloc countries.

"The British were assured that these attacks do not have the sanction of the U.S. government," he said.

But he went on to say that Cuban refugee groups "reside in many places all around the Caribbean Sea and the United States cannot assume responsibility for acts initiated by Cuban exiles who have left from points not under U.S. jurisdiction."

In the affair of Sept. 10, a hit-and-run assault was made on a Cuban harbor, and the Havana radio said that the raiders fired more than 60 shots into a British freighter and other vessels. The port was Caibarien, on Cuba's north coast. The British ship involved was the 7,043-ton freighter Newlane.

Earlier this week, Alpha 66 claimed that it had raided a Cuban port on Oct. 8 and had killed 20 defenders, including some Soviets.

Newspaper Week

Newspapers make a big difference in peoples' lives.

All of us know that but it is hard to determine just how much difference they do make. Helping to understand this difference is one of the purposes of Newspaper Week, which is being celebrated October 14-20.

One of the first things we realize is that a free press means a free country and a suppressed press means an enslaved people. Nowhere down through history, since the first small newspapers came into existence, has there ever been any deviation from this truth.

In 45 words in article I, amending the United States constitution, the founding fathers set forth no less than five freedoms. This first amendment to the constitution is the very cornerstone of American liberties.

These five freedoms we carelessly take for granted in a world still largely in the chains of dictatorship and tyranny of one kind or another. In our carelessness, thoughtlessness, indifference and smugness lies the greatest danger to the freedoms of our country today.

The first amendment to the constitution of the United States reads:

"Congress shall make now law respecting an establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble and to petition the government for redress of grievance."

Let's take a closer look at the five freedoms guaranteed in that first amendment.

1. Freedom of religion.
2. Freedom of speech.
3. Freedom of the press.
4. Freedom of assembly.
5. Freedom to petition for redress of grievance.

The first amendment to the constitution is immaculate in itself and so aptly, cogently and strongly portary and guarantees the freedoms which every human being instinctively wants for himself, if not for others, that it almost appears as if it had been divinely inspired.

In the laconic text of this great article of the constitution the leaders of our infant nation gave equal weight to each of these freedoms. They saw no reason to elaborate on them, to insult the intelligence of the American people by telling them what the amendment meant.

Within the lifetimes of the founders, men and women had been pilloried or had suffered martyrdom for their religious; peaceful assemblies had been broken up by the king's soldiers; humble printers had been dragged off to prison for daring to publish pamphlets or newspapers displeasing to the ruling circles.

The 45 words of the first amendment were to end forever these harsh manifestations of tyranny in a nation which had just won its independence from despotic rule.

This year marks the 125th anniversary of the martyrdom of Elijah P. Lovejoy, who was one of America's foremost fighters for the freedom of the press.

The death of Lovejoy at 35 by a mob, November 7, 1837, in defense of his fourth printing press, presents today's newspapermen with a challenge to remain free.

That challenge extends to all people who love freedom, for once newspapers have been deprived of their right to expose crookedness and wrongdoing, wherever it may appear, in federal or state or local government or elsewhere, the people have been divested of their right to know what is going on and of their opportunity to force the offenders to give up their corrupt and oppressive actions. Neither democracy nor freedom can survive without a free press.

If we lose freedom of the press we have already lost or are losing freedom of religion, freedom of speech, freedom of assembly and freedom to petition for redress of grievance. If we lose these things, then we are crushed under the yoke of tyranny and despotism from which there is no escape except by an eventual mighty resurgence of the demand for freedom such as filled the souls of the founders of our nation.

For 173 years the freedoms here enunciated have endured on this continent, standing like a rock of liberty in the turbulent seas of international gangsterism; of proletarian dictatorships; of oligarchical despotism in many forms.

We have had these freedoms so long that we have become careless about them, even to the extent of not fully understanding their profound meaning.

Seeking to extend its tentacles into every phase of life, the present national administration has attempted to interfere in newspaper consolidations, sometimes necessary because of mounting costs and strong competition. It is true that some newspapers have been driven into mergers and some weaker ones into oblivion. Nevertheless, we should remember this: there are more newspapers in the United States today, despite consolidations, than there were 25 years ago. We still have a free press and free expression and will continue to have them if the people of this country will continue to resist governmental aggression.

At the time he was president of the Associated Press Managing Editors Association, J. Edward Murray, managing editor of the Arizona Republic, outlined some of the things necessary to make a good newspaper. Among the things he said were:

The newspaper shall:

Exert maximum effort to print the truth in all news situations.

Uphold the constitutional right of free speech, respect rights of privacy and serve the public by helping to protect all the rights and privileges guaranteed by law.

Honestly and fairly select and edit its news content to provide impartial treatment of disputed issues and thorough and dispassionate handling of controversial subjects.

Label as editorial its own views or expressions of opinion and provide on the editorial page a forum for the exchange of pertinent comment and criticism (such as Views of Our Readers), especially if it is in conflict with the newspaper's editorial point of view.

Oppose selfish and unwholesome interests regardless of their size and influence.

Serve as a constructive critic of government at all levels, providing leadership for necessary reforms or innovations, and exposing any wrongdoing in office or misuse of public power.

Accent when possible a reasonable amount of news which illustrates the values of compassion, self-sacrifice, heroism, good citizenship and patriotism.

Giving the largest possible volume of accurate information, opposing dishonesty and corruption, upholding the freedoms guaranteed in the constitution and helping to build the moral fiber of a nation are goals toward which newspapers strive.

Polk County, Florida, founded in 1861, is Florida's largest citrus producer and cattle raiser. More phosphate, important as a fertilizer, is mined here than anywhere else in the world.

Young albotrosses on sun-baked Midway Island keep cool by balancing on their heels with webbed feet outstretched in the shade of their bodies. Breezes can carry away most of the body's heat.

Congress Aims At Kennedy

Tough Policy Declaration On West Berlin More For Benefit Of American President Than Khrushchev

A carefully unmentioned target is the real objective of that fight-if-we-must resolution on West Berlin that has been overwhelmingly approved by the adjourning Congress.

This tough policy declaration is actually aimed much more at President Kennedy than Premier Khrushchev.

Reason for this extraordinary backstage situation is that Speaker John McCormack and other top Democratic congressional leaders authoritatively learned the President made two far-reaching decisions regarding the defense of West Berlin—directly counter to the emphatic advice of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and Defense Secretary McNamara, as follows:

To bar the use of tactical nuclear weapons in the event of an armed showdown with the Communists.

To withdraw the 1,500-man battle group that last year was sent to the German metropolis when the U. S. garrison there was increased to 6,000.

Neither of these momentous decisions has been announced. No hint of them has been disclosed by the White House or State Department — which prevailed on the President to agree to them.

Secretary Rusk; former Harvard dean McGeorge Bundy, special foreign policy adviser to the President; and Dr. Walt Rostow, head of the State Department's Policy Planning Council, were the prime movers in overruling the Pentagon chiefs and putting through these crucial behind-the-scenes decisions.

The President made them after a series of at-times-stormy discussions in the National Security Council, top policy agency of the government.

Rusk, Bundy and Rostow participated in these closely-guarded meetings. Also present were Vice President Johnson, Defense Secretary McNamara, and General Lyman Lemnitzer, then head of the Joint Chiefs and now NATO commander.

The position of General Maxwell Taylor, new Joint Chiefs chairman, on these vital decisions is still unknown.

FAST CONGRESSIONAL REACTION — Graphically indicative of the elaborate secrecy surrounding the President's two decisions is that the day before they were promulgated in the Security Council, Secretary McNamara told a press conference that nuclear weapons would be used to defend West Berlin.

He said nothing about withdrawing one of the U. S. battle groups there — doubtless because he hadn't yet been informed of that decision, as well as the one regarding nuclear arms.

When Speaker McCormack and other top congressional leaders were appraised of these backstage decisions, they moved fast.

In fact, so speedily that State Department moguls weren't aware of the militant resolutions until it had been approved and sent to the House for action by both the Foreign Affairs and Rules Committees. Then Secretary Rusk hurriedly sought to have it watered down, but without avail.

The House whooped the tough policy declaration through 311 to 0. Its key provision asserts:

"That the United States is determined to prevent by whatever means may be necessary, including the use of arms, any violation of those rights (U. S., British and French) by the Soviet Union directly or through others, and to fullfill our commitment to the people of Berlin with respect to their resolve for freedom."

With equal alacrity and unanimity the Senate adopted the same resolution, under the leadership of Senator John Sparkman, D-Ala., acting chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee.

In the tense discussions in the Security Council over the two momentous decisions, the issue centered around the question of the danger of war.

The State Department group vigorously contended it is essential to avoid a head-on clash with Russia over access routes to West Berlin as that could easily "escalate into a general nuclear war." To that contention General Lemnitzer retorted that refusal to use tactical nuclear weapons "may very well escalate into defeat."

He warned that all indications are that the Reds plan to blockade West Berlin and use both Soviet and East German troops for that purpose.

To counter that the Joint Chiefs proposed to use whatever force is necessary, including nuclear weapons. Defense Secretary McNamara fully supported this stand.

It was overruled by the President.

Instead, under his two decisions, nuclear weapons to defend West Berlin are barred. Conventional weapons may be used, but only on his direct order. Also, a full battle group is to be withdrawn from West Berlin, thus slashing U.S. forces by one-fourth.

In the Senate debate, Senator Bourke Hickenlooper, Iowa, ranking Republican member of the Foreign Relations Committee, cited the following glaring instance of State Department muddling:

He learned that the Honduras Legislature had adopted a bill creating an agency to expropriate foreign property. When he queried State Department officials about that, they knew nothing about it. Later, he phoned again with the information that the bill had been signed by the Honduran President.

"The official I spoke to," related Hickenlooper, "told me, 'If it has been, we don't know it.' Several hours later he called back and told me, 'We called our ambassador down there, and we now know the bill was signed yesterday.' But I knew it before I telephoned the State Department. There is something mysterious about this whole matter. Why should the State Department be in ignorance of it?"

70-Year-Old Man With Hemorrhoids Is Advised To Go Ahead

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: Progress marches on but what has been done for people who are troubled with hemorrhoids? I have protruding hemorrhoids and took injections for them. But they are still the same. I am almost 70 years old. My doctor advises operation. Do you agree? Am I too old? — Mr. F.

Comment: In answer to your last two questions: Yes. No.

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: After about 35 years of drinking and 45 years of smoking, I quit both of them about two months ago. How long will it take to get all the poison out of my system? — Mr. Y.

Comment: The nicotine and liquor are long gone. Incidentally, what is the secret of your ability to apply the brakes and come to a sudden halt? Readers who have a hard time with these habits would like to know.

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I had major surgery recently and while still in the hospital it was discovered I have an overactive thyroid. The doctor says I have a toxic thyroid. I am very nervous, have a fast heart action, and palpitation. What are the common methods for treating this condition? — Mrs. J.

Comment: After a consideration of your age, general health and any other important factors that are present, your doctor will likely choose between one of three methods: medical treatment (which sometimes takes months, and is not always successful); radioactive iodine; or surgery (thyroidectomy).

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: Do most people suffer ill effects from taking aspirin for a long time? — Mr. B.

Comment: It is usually the other way around: most people can take aspirin for long periods (months or years) without any trouble. I have known patients to take six to twelve aspirin tablets a day for years, who found great comfort in the management of their arthritis. I prefered prescribing aspirin rather than the corticoiteroids. However, a few persons are definitely allergic to the drug. They get indigestion, may have bleeding from the intestinal tract. In a few instances there are even more severe reactions. But this is true for many drugs commonly used.

The more experience I have had with aspirin, the more respect I have had for its medicinal properties. But I recommend seafood, too. Yet there are those who have severe intestinal upsets after clams or oysters. I recommend corn, yet it gives others an allergic headache. Each of us must not believe we can take anything the next fellow does without getting a reaction of some kind. If you can take aspirin, and it helps without causing any side effects, be thankful for such a drug.

May Lose Japan

Kennedy And Reischauer Wooing Anti-American, Red Union

Working quietly behind the scenes, the State Department and the U. S. Embassy in Tokyo are setting American policy in Japan on its ear and taking a course which may well bring about a catastrophe in the Far East. The new policy was developed by the Attorney General during his world tour in discussions with the American Ambassador, Edwin O. Reischauer, and his Minister, John K. Emmerson.

Mr. Reischauer, once a stalwart of the Institute of Pacific Relations, qualified for his ambassadorial post by a past record of support to the disastrous theory that the Chinese Communists were "agrarian reformers" who should be cultivated by all correct-thinking Americans. Mr. Emmerson was a member of that group of State Department career men who also misjudged the character and intentions of the Chinese Reds. Ambassador Reischauer has already caused consternation among America's friends in Japan by declaring in a speech last month that "the oft-quoted words capitalism or socialism are meaningless and confusing, and as such had better be thrown away."

The Kennedy-Reischauer policy, which has won the President's assent, consists of cutting loose from pro-American labor organizations affiliated with the Zenro group and wooing the anti-American, pro-Communist union leaders who make up the Sohyo group. Sohyo has called for the overthrow of "American imperialism," seeks to revoke the U. S.-Japanese Security treaty, and is propagandizing for the elimination of American bases in Japan.

It is part of the Kennedy-Reischauer "strategy" to ignore Zenro and to invite to the United States some 200 Sohyo leaders so that they can learn to love American democracy — as Comrade Khrushchev presumably did. It should be noted that Sohyo has ties with the Japanese Socialist Party whose platform calls for a "revolutionary" overthrow of the government.

Sohyo leaders, though they sneer at the United States, are making political capital of the efforts by the U. S. Embassy to win them over. To the Japanese, Sohyo says that this indicates its strength and American weakness. As one Sohyo leader put it, "The United States is expecting me to hatch a chicken, but what I intend to hatch is a hawk." Combined, these two arguments help create a winning "climate" for the Sohyo and the Socialists and undermine pro-American elements and the government which are depicted as having been "rejected" by the United States — which to some extent is true.

Since Zenro and Sohyo are in conflict, there are some in Japan who feel that Ambassador Reischauer is intervening in domestic politics by favoring one group against the other. And this again stirs up anti-American sentiments among those who would normally be for us.

Some of the Sohyo leaders who have been given the grand tour of the United States — at government expense, of course — returned with little to say that was good about this country. What they reported at some length were their conversations with extreme leftists in the labor movement here who gave them advice in "strike strategy" and how to use labor power against the government.

It is this kind of adventurism in foreign policy that certain critics feared most when Mr. Reischauer was conformed by the Senate. The Senate Judiciary subcommittee hearings on the Institute of Pacific Relations indicated how well-intentioned men, assuming that others were as nobly motivated, could be led down the garden path of disastrous policies. There were some who believed, however, that Mr. Reischauer had learned by experience.

Ambassador Reischauer is reportedly responsible for this extension of the Administration's policy of handing the goodies to America's antagonists. But it is known that Attorney General Kennedy came back from Japan "impressed" by the leftist labor leaders he met there. The genesis of the idea is, however, academic. By offering its blessing to the Sohyo group, the United States may be giving the go-ahead signal for new troubles which can shake the friendly Japanese government and open the door to a Far Eastern Castro.

Cuba Trade Curb

U.S. Wants To Stop Free World Ships From Helping Russia

As the United States gets set to clap on the most sweeping shipping curbs in modern peacetime history to stop the free world's ships from carrying cargoes from the Soviet Union and its satellites to Communist-run Cuba, two obvious questions arise: How big has the Soviet bloc's trade with Cuba become? How lucrative has carrying these cargoes from Russia to Cuba been to non-Communist shipping nations?

In brief, the answers to both questions are: The Soviet bloc's trade with Cuba has grown at an enormous rate in the past two years and carrying the cargoes has been exceedingly lucrative to shipowners in the free world's maritime nations, including our closest allies.

To be specific, Soviet trade with Cuba this year will reach $750 million, according to a study just published in Geneva on the Iron Curtain economies by the Economic Commission for Europe. The ECE is a key United Nations organization with headquarters in Geneva.

This represents a 40 per cent jump over Russian-Cuban trade in 1961 and this trade in 1961 was in turn 300 per cent above 1960.

Poland's sales to Cuba simultaneously more than tripled between 1960 and 1961, rising from $4 million to $23 million, while her purchases from Cuba more than doubled, rising from $10 million to $24 million.

Rumania's sales to Cuba climbed from next to nothing in 1960 to $11 million in 1961. Czechoslovakia's trade followed a similar course, is scheduled to increase another 20 per cent this year.

While our trade with Cuba has been slashed from 4.3 million tons in 1959 to a picayune 75,000 tons in 1961 (mostly medicines), the Soviet bloc nations have taken our place.

Implicit in the statistics on the tremendous rise in Soviet Russia's trade with Cuba is the answer to the second question about its financial value to nations whose ships are transporting the millions of tons of food, materials, machinery. The estimate is shipping fees on the traffic are now running at over $100 million a year — a welcome bonanza at a time of world-wide maritime recession.

Between Jan. 1 and the end of August, a total of 433 ships carrying Free World flags docked at Cuban ports.

In the three months of June, July and August, the U.S. Maritime Commission reports, owners of 169 ships of Free World nations made 185 trips in and out of Cuban ports, with ships of such countries as Greece, Britain, West Germany and Norway accounting for more than 60 per cent of the trade.

Under mounting pressure from us, though, the nations have begun to act. Turkey has banned all shipments; West Germany and Italy are blocking the trade via licensing policies; Denmark has told shipowners she doesn't approve of the shipments; Norway has asked shipowners to "reconsider" hauling cargoes; Britian is "considering" our request for restrictions; Greece is asking shipowners to cancel chartering agreements.

And now the U.S., on its own, is taking unprecedented action in peacetime to tighten the trade noose around Russia's new satellite.

(1) We're going to close all U.S. ports to all ships of any country if any of that nation's ships carries arms to Cuba.

(2) We're going to withhold any U.S. owned or financed cargoes from a foreign shipowner if any of that shipowner's vessels is used to carry Soviet cargoes to Cuba after the crackdown goes into effect.

(3) We're going to bar from all U.S. ports any ship which delivers even clearly non-military Soviet cargoes to Cuba and then tries "on the same continuous voyage" to come to our ports to pick up cargoes to carry home.

(4) We're forbidding all U.S. flagships or U.S. owned ships to carry goods to and from Cuba.

The "kicker" is No. 2 — for what it does is give the free world's shippers a choice between making short-term profits on Soviet-Cuban trade or long-term profits on hauling U.S. cargoes—and we offer the world's largest total of cargoes of all sorts. The choice, experts believe, is almost certainly to be what we want it to be.

Russia will, of course, be able to replace the ships. But it'll be far more expensive, far tougher, far more burdensome for her to push the Cuban buildup. From an economic-commercial standpoint this is truly drastic action against the Soviet satellite 90 miles from our shores.

Newspaper Week

Newspapers make a big difference in peoples' lives.

All of us know that but it is hard to determine just how much difference they do make. Helping to understand this difference is one of the purposes of Newspaper Week, which is being celebrated October 14-20.

One of the first things we realize is that a free press means a free country and a suppressed press means an enslaved people. Nowhere down through history, since the first small newspapers came into existence, has there ever been any deviation from this truth.

In 45 words in article I, amending the United States constitution, the founding fathers set forth no less than five freedoms. This first amendment to the constitution is the very cornerstone of American liberties.

These five freedoms we carelessly take for granted in a world still largely in the chains of dictatorship and tyranny of one kind or another. In our carelessness, thoughtlessness, indifference and smugness lies the greatest danger to the freedoms of our country today.

The first amendment to the constitution of the United States reads:

"Congress shall make now law respecting an establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble and to petition the government for redress of grievance."

Let's take a closer look at the five freedoms guaranteed in that first amendment.

1. Freedom of religion.
2. Freedom of speech.
3. Freedom of the press.
4. Freedom of assembly.
5. Freedom to petition for redress of grievance.

The first amendment to the constitution is immaculate in itself and so aptly, cogently and strongly portary and guarantees the freedoms which every human being instinctively wants for himself, if not for others, that it almost appears as if it had been divinely inspired.

In the laconic text of this great article of the constitution the leaders of our infant nation gave equal weight to each of these freedoms. They saw no reason to elaborate on them, to insult the intelligence of the American people by telling them what the amendment meant.

Comment: The nicotine and liquor are long gone. Incidentally, what is the secret of your ability to apply the brakes and come to a sudden halt? Readers who have a hard time with these habits would like to know.

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I had major surgery recently and while still in the hospital it was discovered I have an overactive thyroid. The doctor says I have a toxic thyroid. I am very nervous, have a fast heart action, and palpitation. What are the common methods for treating this condition? — Mrs. J.

Comment: After a consideration of your age, general health and any other important factors that are present, your doctor will likely choose between one of three methods: medical treatment (which sometimes takes months, and is not always successful); radioactive iodine; or surgery (thyroidectomy).

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: Do most people suffer ill effects from taking aspirin for a long time? — Mr. B.

Comment: It is usually the other way around: most people can take aspirin for long periods (months or years) without any trouble. I have known patients to take six to twelve aspirin tablets a day for years, who found great comfort in the management of their arthritis. I prefered prescribing aspirin rather than the corticoiteroids. However, a few persons are definitely allergic to the drug. They get indigestion, may have bleeding from the intestinal tract. In a few instances there are even more severe reactions. But this is true for many drugs commonly used.

The more experience I have had with aspirin, the more respect I have had for its medicinal properties. But I recommend seafood, too. Yet there are those who have severe intestinal upsets after clams or oysters. I recommend corn, yet it gives others an allergic headache. Each of us must not believe we can take anything the next fellow does without getting a reaction of some kind. If you can take aspirin, and it helps without causing any side effects, be thankful for such a drug.

Today is Saturday, Oct. 13, the 286th day of 1962 with 79 to follow.

The moon is full.

The morning star is Mars.

The evening stars are Jupiter and Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1775, the Continental Congress ordered construction of a naval fleet, thus originating the United States Navy.

In 1792, the cornerstone of the President's house, the first public building to be built in Washington, was laid by George Washington.

In 1937, Nazi Germany promised Great Britain and France that, in the case of a future European war, she would not violate Belgian neutrality.

In 1943, Italy declared war on her former axis partner, Germany.

A thought for the day — Spanish author Cervantes said: "Can we ever have too much of a good thing?"

May Lose Japan

Kennedy And Reischauer Wooing Anti-American, Red Union

Working quietly behind the scenes, the State Department and the U. S. Embassy in Tokyo are setting American policy in Japan on its ear and taking a course which may well bring about a catastrophe in the Far East. The new policy was developed by the Attorney General during his world tour in discussions with the American Ambassador, Edwin O. Reischauer, and his Minister, John K. Emmerson.

Mr. Reischauer, once a stalwart of the Institute of Pacific Relations, qualified for his ambassadorial post by a past record of support to the disastrous theory that the Chinese Communists were "agrarian reformers" who should be cultivated by all correct-thinking Americans. Mr. Emmerson was a member of that group of State Department career men who also misjudged the character and intentions of the Chinese Reds. Ambassador Reischauer has already caused consternation among America's friends in Japan by declaring in a speech last month that "the oft-quoted words capitalism or socialism are meaningless and confusing, and as such had better be thrown away."

The Kennedy-Reischauer policy, which has won the President's assent, consists of cutting loose from pro-American labor organizations affiliated with the Zenro group and wooing the anti-American, pro-Communist union leaders who make up the Sohyo group. Sohyo has called for the overthrow of "American imperialism," seeks to revoke the U. S.-Japanese Security treaty, and is propagandizing for the elimination of American bases in Japan.

It is part of the Kennedy-Reischauer "strategy" to ignore Zenro and to invite to the United States some 200 Sohyo leaders so that they can learn to love American democracy — as Comrade Khrushchev presumably did. It should be noted that Sohyo has ties with the Japanese Socialist Party whose platform calls for a "revolutionary" overthrow of the government.

Sohyo leaders, though they sneer at the United States, are making political capital of the efforts by the U. S. Embassy to win them over. To the Japanese, Sohyo says that this indicates its strength and American weakness. As one Sohyo leader put it, "The United States is expecting me to hatch a chicken, but what I intend to hatch is a hawk." Combined, these two arguments help create a winning "climate" for the Sohyo and the Socialists and undermine pro-American elements and the government which are depicted as having been "rejected" by the United States — which to some extent is true.

Since Zenro and Sohyo are in conflict, there are some in Japan who feel that Ambassador Reischauer is intervening in domestic politics by favoring one group against the other. And this again stirs up anti-American sentiments among those who would normally be for us.

Some of the Sohyo leaders who have been given the grand tour of the United States — at government expense, of course — returned with little to say that was good about this country. What they reported at some length were their conversations with extreme leftists in the labor movement here who gave them advice in "strike strategy" and how to use labor power against the government.

It is this kind of adventurism in foreign policy that certain critics feared most when Mr. Reischauer was conformed by the Senate. The Senate Judiciary subcommittee hearings on the Institute of Pacific Relations indicated how well-intentioned men, assuming that others were as nobly motivated, could be led down the garden path of disastrous policies. There were some who believed, however, that Mr. Reischauer had learned by experience.

Ambassador Reischauer is reportedly responsible for this extension of the Administration's policy of handing the goodies to America's antagonists. But it is known that Attorney General Kennedy came back from Japan "impressed" by the leftist labor leaders he met there. The genesis of the idea is, however, academic. By offering its blessing to the Sohyo group, the United States may be giving the go-ahead signal for new troubles which can shake the friendly Japanese government and open the door to a Far Eastern Castro.

Cuba Trade Curb

U.S. Wants To Stop Free World Ships From Helping Russia

As the United States gets set to clap on the most sweeping shipping curbs in modern peacetime history to stop the free world's ships from carrying cargoes from the Soviet Union and its satellites to Communist-run Cuba, two obvious questions arise: How big has the Soviet bloc's trade with Cuba become? How lucrative has carrying these cargoes from Russia to Cuba been to non-Communist shipping nations?

In brief, the answers to both questions are: The Soviet bloc's trade with Cuba has grown at an enormous rate in the past two years and carrying the cargoes has been exceedingly lucrative to shipowners in the free world's maritime nations, including our closest allies.

To be specific, Soviet trade with Cuba this year will reach $750 million, according to a study just published in Geneva on the Iron Curtain economies by the Economic Commission for Europe. The ECE is a key United Nations organization with headquarters in Geneva.

This represents a 40 per cent jump over Russian-Cuban trade in 1961 and this trade in 1961 was in turn 300 per cent above 1960.

Poland's sales to Cuba simultaneously more than tripled between 1960 and 1961, rising from $4 million to $23 million, while her purchases from Cuba more than doubled, rising from $10 million to $24 million.

Rumania's sales to Cuba climbed from next to nothing in 1960 to $11 million in 1961. Czechoslovakia's trade followed a similar course, is scheduled to increase another 20 per cent this year.

While our trade with Cuba has been slashed from 4.3 million tons in 1959 to a picayune 75,000 tons in 1961 (mostly medicines), the Soviet bloc nations have taken our place.

Implicit in the statistics on the tremendous rise in Soviet Russia's trade with Cuba is the answer to the second question about its financial value to nations whose ships are transporting the millions of tons of food, materials, machinery. The estimate is shipping fees on the traffic are now running at over $100 million a year — a welcome bonanza at a time of world-wide maritime recession.

Between Jan. 1 and the end of August, a total of 433 ships carrying Free World flags docked at Cuban ports.

In the three months of June, July and August, the U.S. Maritime Commission reports, owners of 169 ships of Free World nations made 185 trips in and out of Cuban ports, with ships of such countries as Greece, Britain, West Germany and Norway accounting for more than 60 per cent of the trade.

Under mounting pressure from us, though, the nations have begun to act. Turkey has banned all shipments; West Germany and Italy are blocking the trade via licensing policies; Denmark has told shipowners she doesn't approve of the shipments; Norway has asked shipowners to "reconsider" hauling cargoes; Britian is "considering" our request for restrictions; Greece is asking shipowners to cancel chartering agreements.

And now the U.S., on its own, is taking unprecedented action in peacetime to tighten the trade noose around Russia's new satellite.

(1) We're going to close all U.S. ports to all ships of any country if any of that nation's ships carries arms to Cuba.

(2) We're going to withhold any U.S. owned or financed cargoes from a foreign shipowner if any of that shipowner's vessels is used to carry Soviet cargoes to Cuba after the crackdown goes into effect.

(3) We're going to bar from all U.S. ports any ship which delivers even clearly non-military Soviet cargoes to Cuba and then tries "on the same continuous voyage" to come to our ports to pick up cargoes to carry home.

(4) We're forbidding all U.S. flagships or U.S. owned ships to carry goods to and from Cuba.

The "kicker" is No. 2 — for what it does is give the free world's shippers a choice between making short-term profits on Soviet-Cuban trade or long-term profits on hauling U.S. cargoes—and we offer the world's largest total of cargoes of all sorts. The choice, experts believe, is almost certainly to be what we want it to be.

Russia will, of course, be able to replace the ships. But it'll be far more expensive, far tougher, far more burdensome for her to push the Cuban buildup. From an economic-commercial standpoint, this is truly drastic action against the Soviet satellite 90 miles from our shores.

Fire Department Expansion Slated

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the fourth in a series of articles on the proposed $11,250,000 bond issue to be voted on Nov. 20 to finance a capital improvement program in Monroe. Today's article covers Proposition No. 3 — expansion of the fire department. The series will be resumed Monday.)

By SAM HANNA
World Staff Writer

City officials are in hopes that the Monroe fire department can be expanded so that present-day protection and insurance rates can be maintained.

This is the thinking behind Proposition No. 3 which calls for a $650,000 appropriation for fire department expansion in the proposed $11,250,000 capital improvement program to be voted on November 20th.

Monroe jumped from a Class Five fire protection city to Class Three in 1955 after property owners approved a bond issue to improve the fire department and in those six years property owners have saved $1.3 million in fire insurance premiums.

This, according to city officials, is an example of the benefits that property owners enjoy by the continued improvement of the Monroe fire department.

The City Council proposes to spend the fire department revenue included in the bond issue in such a manner that Monroe will at least hold on to its Class Three rating with a possibility of climbing a notch.

Of course if this occurred, then property owners would get a reduction in premiums, but that's not a promise in City Hall — only a possibility.

Expansion plans include a change involving Station No. 4, presently located at the corner of Lee Avenue and Forest where it serves the south section of Monroe.

But because of the construction of the Plum Street underpass, trucks from other sections of town can now reach the south section without having to cross a railroad track.

In addition, with the E. A. Conway Memorial Hospital area now included in the city limits, city officials must locate a station within a mile of this section.

Sot the Fire Department proposes to re-locate Station No. 4 so that it could better serve the charity hospital area.

Another section of Monroe that is in need of more fire protection is Selman Field, especially since the Edgewater Gardens area across Bayou DeSiard has been taken into the city.

If Proposition No. 3 is approved, then a new station will be located at Selman Field where trucks could get quickly to the airport, the Edgewater Gardens area and other points east.

This station would be advantageous also if the Lakeshore Subdivision area ever comes into the city limits.

While the re-location of Station No. 4 and the construction of a new station at Selman Field are the major items included in plans for expansion, Chief H. L. Hales points out that the additional revenue would afford the purchase of new equipment.

Hales is a fire chief who follows the rules closely and contends that equipment must be maintained in workable order to keep within the regulations of the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

Two big items on the equipment need list are ladder trucks that would cost about $100,000. Hales says Monroe today is in need of one more ladder truck and that the purchase of two would place the city just a step ahead of schedule.

In fact, Monroe, according to the chief, has been short of proper ladder service since 1952.

Fire Department Expansion Slated

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the fourth in a series of articles on the proposed $11,250,000 bond issue to be voted on Nov. 20 to finance a capital improvement program in Monroe. Today's article covers Proposition No. 3 — expansion of the fire department. The series will be resumed Monday.)

By SAM HANNA
World Staff Writer

City officials are in hopes that the Monroe fire department can be expanded so that present-day protection and insurance rates can be maintained.

This is the thinking behind Proposition No. 3 which calls for a $650,000 appropriation for fire department expansion in the proposed $11,250,000 capital improvement program to be voted on November 20th.

Monroe jumped from a Class Five fire protection city to Class Three in 1955 after property owners approved a bond issue to improve the fire department and in those six years property owners have saved $1.3 million in fire insurance premiums.

This, according to city officials, is an example of the benefits that property owners enjoy by the continued improvement of the Monroe fire department.

The City Council proposes to spend the fire department revenue included in the bond issue in such a manner that Monroe will at least hold on to its Class Three rating with a possibility of climbing a notch.

Of course if this occurred, then property owners would get a reduction in premiums, but that's not a promise in City Hall — only a possibility.

Expansion plans include a change involving Station No. 4, presently located at the corner of Lee Avenue and Forest where it serves the south section of Monroe.

But because of the construction of the Plum Street underpass, trucks from other sections of town can now reach the south section without having to cross a railroad track.

In addition, with the E. A. Conway Memorial Hospital area now included in the city limits, city officials must locate a station within a mile of this section.

Sot the Fire Department proposes to re-locate Station No. 4 so that it could better serve the charity hospital area.

Another section of Monroe that is in need of more fire protection is Selman Field, especially since the Edgewater Gardens area across Bayou DeSiard has been taken into the city.

If Proposition No. 3 is approved, then a new station will be located at Selman Field where trucks could get quickly to the airport, the Edgewater Gardens area and other points east.

This station would be advantageous also if the Lakeshore Subdivision area ever comes into the city limits.

While the re-location of Station No. 4 and the construction of a new station at Selman Field are the major items included in plans for expansion, Chief H. L. Hales points out that the additional revenue would afford the purchase of new equipment.

Hales is a fire chief who follows the rules closely and contends that equipment must be maintained in workable order to keep within the regulations of the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

Two big items on the equipment need list are ladder trucks that would cost about $100,000. Hales says Monroe today is in need of one more ladder truck and that the purchase of two would place the city just a step ahead of schedule.

In fact, Monroe, according to the chief, has been short of proper ladder service since 1952.

intersection from Vicksonville Rd. toward Monroe on U. S. Highway 165 when the bus was struck broadside by the truck which was traveling from Bastrop toward Sterlington on Louisiana 2. The impact knocked the bus into the side of a service station, slightly over a hundred feet from the spot of the collision.

Ambulances from four Monroe funeral homes and a few private cars rushed the students and Mrs. Moore to hospitals.

Shortly after the Sterlington school bus accident another Ouachita Parish school bus was involved in a minor mishap at the intersection of Washington and North 9th Streets in Monroe.

Driver of the bus, Edd A. Worley, 23, said that the brakes on his vehicle failed and it bumped into the rear of a late model automobile driven by Mrs. Virginia Stephenson, 28, of Portland, Ark., who said that she stopped when she thought she heard a train coming down the track on Washington St.

There were no injuries, no charges, and damage was light.

Young Pratt and Peggy Mardis were taken to St. Francis Hospital and the other victims to Jones Clinic in Sterlington.

Agency Makes Cash Available To 9 Colleges

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Funds up to $50,000 each for nine state colleges and universities were made available Thursday by the Louisiana Bond and Building Commission.

This applies to all institutions under the wing of the State Board of Education.

The money comes from the $60 million bond program for capital outlay set up by the 1960 legislature.

Under the $50,000 program, the money will be provided for the University of Southwestern Louisiana, Southern University, Grambling College, Francis T. Nicholls State College, Louisiana Polytechnic, McNeese State College, Northeast Louisiana State College, Northwestern State College and Southeastern Louisiana College.

The commission headed by Gov. Jimmie H. Davis, also approved $75,000 for emergency repairs at New Orleans Charity Hospital.

The commission put off until its next meeting any discussion of a proposal to acquire some vacant lots near Northeast Louisiana State College at Monroe for planned college recreational areas. The lots are located between the campus and a 38-acre site already sought at a price of $260,000.

State Treasurer A. P. Tugwell said since the vacant lots were scattered in an existing residential area, he didn't see how the vacant lots would help the college situation.

EXPECT NEW SQUEEZE

Soviet Is Given Berlin Warning

United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)— The United States bluntly told Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev Friday that he would "bear full responsibility" for any new Berlin crisis.

The public warning was issued by the State Department as top administration officials disclosed privately that they expected a new Soviet squeeze against the Allies in West Berlin in late November or December.

It reinforced a high level campaign here to spotlight the Kennedy administration's belief that despite public preoccupation with Cuba, Berlin remains the No.1 cold war issue likely to spark a nuclear war.

CONCERN VOICED

State Department Press Officer Lincoln White said there was "nothing mysterious" about news stories reflecting administration concern over an impending Berlin crisis. He recalled that top officials such as Defense Secretary Robert McNamara and Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy had said publicly that a new crisis involving Berlin might come within a month or two.

White said "any potential crisis in Berlin now or at any time would be one deliberately created by Mr. Khrushchev himself and for which he would bear full responsibility."

Some Western diplomats expressed the belief that the administration was focusing renewed international attention on Berlin as a way of warning Khrushchev publicly against any adventures in that area until the Soviet leader has a chance to consult with President Kennedy.

The expectation here is that Kennedy and Khrushchev will get together for an informal session late in November when it is believed the Soviet leader plans to visit the U.N. assembly in New York.

The United States and West Germany meanwhile traded public reassurances that there were no differences between them regarding the necessity for prompt action to repel any military threat to Berlin.

The State Department spokesman said the United States was certain that West Germany, as well as all other NATO powers, would meet its commitments in this respect. And West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer said in Bonn that his government had no intention of shirking its duty.

Soviets Kick Out Second U.S. Envoy

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union Friday ordered another U.S. diplomat expelled on charges of spying—evening the score for two Soviets kicked out of the United States as spies.

The U.S. Embassy termed the Soviet move so obvious that Minister-Counsellor John M. McSweeney did not even bother to protest.

The Soviets charged Kermit S. Midthun, first secretary at the U.S. Embassy, "attempted to induce a Soviet citizen, an employe of institutions, to transmit to him information of a secret character."

McSweeney said Deputy Foreign Minister N. Smirnovsky read a statement demanding Midthun be sent home for spying activities—but refused to say how, when or where the espionage took place.

Midthun denied the charge and said he could think of no basis for it. McSweeney said that in accordance with protocol Midthun and his family would leave the Soviet Union within a few days.

The United States protested the expulsion last week of Cmdr. Raymond D. Smith, assistant naval attache, on espionage charges.

The U.S. State Department charged Smith was roughed up by Soviet agents who seized him in Leningrad and confiscated a camera, a tape recorder and other possessions. Smith denied he was on a spy mission.

The United States last week booted out two members of the Soviet delegation to the United Nations after they were caught buying American defense secrets from a U.S. sailor.

Virginia College Enrolls Negro

MARTINSVILLE, Va. (AP)—A Negro girl was enrolled at Patrick Henry College here Friday—the first of her race to break the classroom color barrier in staunchly segregationist southside Virginia.

Hazel Rurth Adams, 17, of Cascade in nearby Pittsylvania County, came to the college—a University of Virginia branch—on a day when no classes were being held and registered without incident.

Sherman Dutton, director of the community college here, kept his office open in order to register the girl, who won admission to the all-white college in a federal court suit that went unopposed.

The community college's advisory board has bitterly criticized the parent university for failure to contest the girl's suit when it came before U.S. Dist. Court Judge Thomas Michie last Wednesday.

U.S. Parades Battle Groups In West Berlin

BERLIN (UPI) — Two U.S. Army battle groups paraded through West Berlin Friday in a display of combat readiness amid continuing incidents along the Communist wall.

The East German Communists called the 3,000-man parade and war games scheduled for Saturday "gross provocations... (to) build up war psychosis and keep up political tension." But Brig. Gen. Frederick O. Hartel of Union City, N.J., Berlin troop commander, told his 6th Infantry Regiment soldiers:

"To the Berliners, you are America. You represent the strength and determination of our great country to protect and preserve the free world."

In Bonn, West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's party urged in parliament that the Western Allies and the Soviet Union create a standing four-power committee on Berlin. Government sources said Adenauer will visit President Kennedy in Washington late next month for Berlin talks.

Late Buying Flurry Helps Some Stocks

NEW YORK (UPI)—A late buying flurry in aerospace issues provided the only excitement in Friday's easier and dull stock market.

General Dynamics and Grumman paced the advance in this group, up 2¼ and 2⅛ respectively. United Aircraft followed with a gain of 1½.

Trading elsewhere, however, remained extremely quiet as many traders left early for an extended Columbus Day weekend. Volume totaled a mere 2,020,000 shares—440,000 under Thursday's tally.

Dow-Jones industrials were unchanged and Standard & Poor's 500 stock index slipped 0.10. The D-J rails rose 0.14 but utilities dipped 0.38.

Chrysler, in the motors, was a market feature with a gain of 1⅝ after receiving a $60 million contract for tanks and engines. Other changes in this group were negligible.

Chemicals were erratic with Kodak off ½ and DuPont down 1¼ and Union Carbide and Allied up fractions. Steels were irregularly higher featuring Wheeling up ⅞ on news that a high official of Hunt Foods has been buying Wheeling stock. Hunt Foods rose ¾.

Among the electronics, Beckman rose 1 and Litton ⅝ but IBM tumbled ¾ despite its recent introduction of a new low-cost computer. Oils were mixed with Amerada up 1⅜ and Barber down ⅞.

The recently strong drugs lost some ground today as American Home Products shed ⅝ and Richardson-Merrell dropped 1⅝.

A total of 1,155 issues crossed the tape Friday, the narrowest in exactly two years or since 1,124 issues were traded on Columbus Day, Oct. 12, 1960. Of these 505 declined and 372 advanced—26 to new 1962 lows and only 2 to new highs.

Stores weakened on news that department store sales this week failed to show their first advance in six weeks. Korvette, which topped the most active list dropped 1¼ to a new 1962 low of 27⅞ on a turnover of 77,100 shares.

Prices on the American Exchange were irregularly lower on a turnover of 600,000 shares compared with 810,000 Thursday. Featured on the AMEX were Syntex off 1⅛ and Mead Johnson up ¾.

COTTON

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK (AP) — Cotton futures closed $1.40 a bale higher to 15 cents lower today.

Commission house and trade buying supported an early upturn with gains at one time ranging to $2.30 a bale. Sharp market declines earlier during the week attracted buying to new crop months. However, in late trading new crop months turned weak as some traders sold those positions against purchases of current crop months, particularly in July position.

Traders awaited announcement of the national cotton acreage allotment for 1963 by the secretary of agriculture and hoped for some statement regarding price supports for farmers on the next cotton crop. Oct. 15 is the deadline for the acreage announcement. There were five October delivery notices issued today which were reported stopped rather promptly.

GRAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — Wheat and oats futures managed to finish with gains in mostly light dealings on the Board of Trade Friday but other commodities moved unevenly in a fractional range.

There was little in the day's news to stimulate much push in either price direction and traders were concerned with completing evening-up operations.

Wheat opened lower but picked up strength on reports that a Polish cabinet member was in the United States seeking 1 million bushels of grain to relieve a serious crop shortage in his country.

Oats scored the most impressive advances of the day. There were only light offerings available to fill demand both from commission houses and local traders.

Wheat was ⅛ cent a bushel lower to ⅝ higher at the close, December $2.04; corn unchanged to ⅛ higher, December $1.05⅝; oats ¾ to 1½ higher, December 64⅝-½ cents; rye ⅛ to ¾ higher, December $1.17¼-⅛; and soybeans were unchanged to ¾ lower, November $2.36¾-⅝.

Sterlington Intersection Wreck Scene

intersection from Vicksonville Rd. toward Monroe on U. S. Highway 165 when the bus was struck broadside by the truck which was traveling from Bastrop toward Sterlington on Louisiana 2. The impact knocked the bus into the side of a service station, slightly over a hundred feet from the spot of the collision.

Ambulances from four Monroe funeral homes and a few private cars rushed the students and Mrs. Moore to hospitals.

Shortly after the Sterlington school bus accident another Ouachita Parish school bus was involved in a minor mishap at the intersection of Washington and North 9th Streets in Monroe.

Driver of the bus, Edd A. Worley, 23, said that the brakes on his vehicle failed and it bumped into the rear of a late model automobile driven by Mrs. Virginia Stephenson, 28, of Portland, Ark., who said that she stopped when she thought she heard a train coming down the track on Washington St.

There were no injuries, no charges, and damage was light.

Young Pratt and Peggy Mardis were taken to St. Francis Hospital and the other victims to Jones Clinic in Sterlington.

Peggy, 14 - year - old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mardis, suffered only a bump on the head and shock but remained in the hospital overnight for observation.

Danny Pratt, 12 - year - old brother of Mike, was later transferred to St. Francis where he stayed overnight for observation.

His injuries included a bump on the head and minor bruises.

The only children who remained in the Sterlington clinic overnight were Ocie Carr Jr., 15, and Connie Carr, 11, both children of Mr. and Mrs. Ocie Carr, of Fairbanks. Their injuries were not serious.

Other children who were treated for minor cuts and bruises included: Aline McDougle, 13, and Homer McDougle, 15, both children of Mr. and Mrs. Homer McDougle; Johnny Walker, 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Walker; Debbie Hendrix, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mr Malvin Hendrix, of Fairbanks; Vicki Sanders, 8, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mac Sanders, of Fairbanks; and Curtis Carr, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ocie Carr.

Agency Makes Cash Available To 9 Colleges

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Funds up to $50,000 each for nine state colleges and universities were made available Thursday by the Louisiana Bond and Building Commission.

This applies to all institutions under the wing of the State Board of Education.

The money comes from the $60 million bond program for capital outlay set up by the 1960 legislature.

Under the $50,000 program, the money will be provided for the University of Southwestern Louisiana, Southern University, Grambling College, Francis T. Nichols State College, Louisiana Polytechnic, McNeese State College, Northeast Louisiana State College, Northwestern State College and Southeastern Louisiana College.

The commission headed by Gov. Jimmie H. Davis, also approved $75,000 for emergency repairs at New Orleans Charity Hospital.

The commission put off until its next meeting any discussion of a proposal to acquire some vacant lots near Northeast Louisiana State College at Monroe for planned college recreational areas. The lots are located between the campus and a 38-acre site already sought at a price of $260,000.

State Treasurer A. P. Tugwell said since the vacant lots were scattered in an existing residential area, he didn't see how the vacant lots would help the college situation.

JFK Pushing Vote Campaign In Five States

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — President Kennedy pushed "maximum exposure" political forays Friday into heavily populated New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania in an effort to increase his Democratic congressional majority in the Nov. 6 elections.

Embarked on a five-state political swing in behalf of his party's candidates, Kennedy jumped from New York City, to Newark, N.J., back to New York and then to Pittsburgh on a schedule designed to put him before as many people as possible.

In New York, before flying to Pittsburgh, Kennedy's motorcade made a side trip through heavily Negro Harm where five - deep crowds cheered the President.

Many signs were evidence in the Harlem crowd backing the President's use of troops in forcing Negro James H. Meredith into the University of Mississippi. One of the signs read:

"Meredith has courage—so have the Kennedys. Back them up—vote Democratic."

The President, after attending Columbus Day celebrations in both New York and New Jersey, also swung his motorcade into The Bronx and Queens Borough in New York City.

EXPECT NEW SQUEEZE

Soviet Is Given Berlin Warning

United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)— The United States bluntly told Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev Friday that he would "bear full responsibility" for any new Berlin crisis.

The public warning was issued by the State Department as top administration officials disclosed privately that they expected a new Soviet squeeze against the Allies in West Berlin in late November or December.

It reinforced a high level campaign here to spotlight the Kennedy administration's belief that despite public preoccupation with Cuba, Berlin remains the No.1 cold war issue likely to spark a nuclear war.

CONCERN VOICED

State Department Press Officer Lincoln White said there was "nothing mysterious" about news stories reflecting administration concern over an impending Berlin crisis. He recalled that top officials such as Defense Secretary Robert McNamara and Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy had said publicly that a new crisis involving Berlin might come within a month or two.

White said "any potential crisis in Berlin now or at any time would be one deliberately created by Mr. Khrushchev himself and for which he would bear full responsibility."

Some Western diplomats expressed the belief that the administration was focusing renewed international attention on Berlin as a way of warning Khrushchev publicly against any adventures in that area until the Soviet leader has a chance to consult with President Kennedy.

The expectation here is that Kennedy and Khrushchev will get together for an informal session late in November when it is believed the Soviet leader plans to visit the U.N. assembly in New York.

The United States and West Germany meanwhile traded public reassurances that there were no differences between them regarding the necessity for prompt action to repel any military threat to Berlin.

The State Department spokesman said the United States was certain that West Germany, as well as all other NATO powers, would meet its commitments in this respect. And West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer said in Bonn that his government had no intention of shirking its duty.

Soviets Kick Out Second U.S. Envoy

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union Friday ordered another U.S. diplomat expelled on charges of spying—evening the score for two Soviets kicked out of the United States as spies.

The U.S. Embassy termed the Soviet move so obvious that Minister-Counsellor John M. McSweeney did not even bother to protest.

The Soviets charged Kermit S. Midthun, first secretary at the U.S. Embassy, "attempted to induce a Soviet citizen, an employe of institutions, to transmit to him information of a secret character."

McSweeney said Deputy Foreign Minister N. Smirnovsky read a statement demanding Midthun be sent home for spying activities—but refused to say how, when or where the espionage took place.

Midthun denied the charge and said he could think of no basis for it. McSweeney said that in accordance with protocol Midthun and his family would leave the Soviet Union within a few days.

The United States protested the expulsion last week of Cmdr. Raymond D. Smith, assistant naval attache, on espionage charges.

The U.S. State Department charged Smith was roughed up by Soviet agents who seized him in Leningrad and confiscated a camera, a tape recorder and other possessions. Smith denied he was on a spy mission.

The United States last week booted out two members of the Soviet delegation to the United Nations after they were caught buying American defense secrets from a U.S. sailor.

U.S. Parades Battle Groups In West Berlin

BERLIN (UPI) — Two U.S. Army battle groups paraded through West Berlin Friday in a display of combat readiness amid continuing incidents along the Communist wall.

The East German Communists called the 3,000-man parade and war games scheduled for Saturday "gross provocations. . . (to) build up war psychosis and keep up political tension." But Brig. Gen. Frederick O. Hartel of Union City, N.J., Berlin troop commander, told his 6th Infantry Regiment soldiers:

"To the Berliners, you are America. You represent the strength and determination of our great country to protect and preserve the free world."

In Bonn, West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's party urged in parliament that the Western Allies and the Soviet Union create a standing four-power committee on Berlin. Government sources said Adenauer will visit President Kennedy in Washington late next month for Berlin talks.

Two Are Hurt When Hit By Autos Friday

Two local residents suffered minor injuries when they were involved in car - pedestrian accidents Friday afternoon.

Mrs. G. K. Godwin, 70, received a possible broken hip according to investigating officers when she was struck by a car at the intersection of Mulberry and Jackson Streets. Mrs. Godwin, who resides at 815 Jackson, was rushed to a local clinic by Mulhearn ambulance. George T. Zimmer, 25, 22A Louis Lock, Monroe, was not injured. No charges were filed.

Marvin Self, 13, was treated for minor bruises and released from St. Francis Hospital after being struck by a car driven by Michael H. Walker, 17, 400 7th, Monroe. Self's address was given as 138 Grammont. No charges were filed.

Mary W. Reid, 400 Speed Ave., was ticketed by Monroe police for reckless driving after being involved in accident on North 4th.

Virginia College Enrolls Negro

MARTINSVILLE, Va. (AP)—A Negro girl was enrolled at Patrick Henry College here Friday—the first of her race to break the classroom color barrier in staunchly segregationist southside Virginia.

Hazel Rurth Adams, 17, of Cascade in nearby Pittsylvania County, came to the college—a University of Virginia branch—on a day when no classes were being held and registered without incident.

Sherman Dutton, director of the community college here, kept his office open in order to register the girl, who won admission to the all-white college in a federal court suit that went unopposed.

The community college's advisory board has bitterly criticized the parent university for failure to contest the girl's suit when it came before U.S. Dist. Court Judge Thomas Michie last Wednesday.

Late Buying Flurry Helps Some Stocks

NEW YORK (UPI)—A late buying flurry in aerospace issues provided the only excitement in Friday's easier and dull stock market.

General Dynamics and Grumman paced the advance in this group, up 2¼ and 2⅛ respectively. United Aircraft followed with a gain of 1½.

Trading elsewhere, however, remained extremely quiet as many traders left early for an extended Columbus Day weekend. Volume totaled a mere 2,020,000 shares—440,000 under Thursday's tally.

Dow-Jones industrials were unchanged and Standard & Poor's 500 stock index slipped 0.10. The D-J rails rose 0.14 but utilities dipped 0.38.

Chrysler, in the motors, was a market feature with a gain of 1⅝ after receiving a $60 million contract for tanks and engines. Other changes in this group were negligible.

Chemicals were erratic with Kodak off ½ and DuPont down 1¼ and Union Carbide and Allied up fractions. Steels were irregularly higher featuring Wheeling up ⅞ on news that a high official of Hunt Foods has been buying Wheeling stock. Hunt Foods rose ¾.

Among the electronics, Beckman rose 1 and Litton ⅝ but IBM tumbled ¾ despite its recent introduction of a new low-cost computer. Oils were mixed with Amerada up 1⅜ and Barber down ⅞.

The recently strong drugs lost some ground today as American Home Products shed ⅝ and Richardson-Merrell dropped 1⅝.

A total of 1,155 issues crossed the tape Friday, the narrowest in exactly two years or since 1,124 issues were traded on Columbus Day, Oct. 12, 1960. Of these 505 declined and 372 advanced—26 to new 1962 lows and only 2 to new highs.

Stores weakened on news that department store sales this week failed to show their first advance in six weeks. Korvette, which topped the most active list dropped 1¼ to a new 1962 low of 27⅞ on a turnover of 77,100 shares.

Prices on the American Exchange were irregularly lower on a turnover of 600,000 shares compared with 810,000 Thursday. Featured on the AMEX were Syntex off 1⅛ and Mead Johnson up ¾.

COTTON

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK (AP) — Cotton futures closed $1.40 a bale higher to 15 cents lower today.

Commission house and trade buying supported an early upturn with gains at one time ranging to $2.30 a bale. Sharp market declines earlier during the week attracted buying to new crop months. However, in late trading new crop months turned weak as some traders sold those positions against purchases of current crop months, particularly in July position.

Traders awaited announcement of the national cotton acreage allotment for 1963 by the secretary of agriculture and hoped for some statement regarding price supports for farmers on the next cotton crop. Oct. 15 is the deadline for the acreage announcement. There were five October delivery notices issued today which were reported stopped rather promptly.

GRAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — Wheat and oats futures managed to finish with gains in mostly light dealings on the Board of Trade Friday but other commodities moved unevenly in a fractional range.

There was little in the day's news to stimulate much push in either price direction and traders were concerned with completing evening-up operations.

Wheat opened lower but picked up strength on reports that a Polish cabinet member was in the United States seeking 1 million bushels of grain to relieve a serious crop shortage in his country.

Oats scored the most impressive advances of the day. There were only light offerings available to fill demand both from commission houses and local traders.

Wheat was ⅛ cent a bushel lower to ⅝ higher at the close, December $2.04; corn unchanged to ⅛ higher, December $1.05⅝; oats ¾ to 1½ higher, December 64⅝-½ cents; rye ⅛ to ¾ higher, December $1.17¼-⅛; and soybeans were unchanged to ¾ lower, November $2.36¾-⅝.

Rain, Gale Winds Postpone Sixth World Series Game

Postponement Of Saturday's Tilt Threatens

By JACK HAND

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Rain and 45-mile-an-hour gale winds forced postponement of Friday's sixth World Series game and threatened plans to resume play Saturday at 2 p.m. EST.

An all-night rain soaked the uncut outfield grass at Candlestick Park, tugged at the infield tarpaulin and threatened to carry it away despite a number of 35-pound weights.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Probable line-ups for the sixth World Series game at Candlestick Park Saturday:

NEW YORK	SAN FRANCISCO
Kubek ss	Kuenn lf
Richardson 2b	Hiller 2b
Tresh lf	F. Alou rf
Mantle cf	Mays cf
Maris rf	Cepeda 1b
Howard c	Davenport 3b
Skowron 1b	Haller or Bailey c
Boyer 3b	Pagán ss
Ford p	Pierce p

Game time—Noon, PDT (2 p.m. EST).

If they had tried to play ball, this could have been the day of the first 900-foot home run in the winds that made it difficult to open doors and shattered glass in downtown hotel windows. Even on a sunny day, Candlestick has its well-publicized wind tunnel.

Commissioner Ford Frick, who delayed 71 minutes past game time before calling Tuesday's game in New York, wasted no time Friday. Frick was at the park early and called off the game well over three hours before it was scheduled to start. As soon as he and groundskeeper Matty Schwab stepped on the field, Frick waved his hands and said, "the game is off because the field is unplayable."

Nobody really expected to play, for the weatherman had predicted a 90 per cent chance of rain last night. Belmont Park should have such a good handicapper. His latest forecast for Saturday was for scattered showers. However, the wind gusts should help dry the outfield area. Ironically, this is the field Alvin Dark was accused of watering to slow down the Dodgers in regular season.

Billy Pierce, the stylish lefty who never has lost at Candlestick, where he has a 12-0 record, still is slated to be the pitcher for the San Francisco Giants. Manager Dark did say he might switch to Jack Sanford for Sunday if Saturday's game also is washed out.

Whitey Ford, winner of a record 10 World Series games, will be the New York Yankee pitcher. Ford and Pierce had many duels in the days when Pierce was with the Chicago White Sox. Against the Yanks he has a lifetime record of 25-38.

The Yankees need only one more victory to close out the Series, for they lead 3-2 in the best-of-7 competition. Both pitchers are well rested. Pierce hadn't worked since Sunday, when he lost the third game at New York 3-2. Ford pitched the opener Oct. 4 and toiled six innings Monday before he was taken out for a pinch hitter with the score tied at 2-2.

Most observers feel that the rainout gives the Giants a break. Ralph Houk, Yankee manager, was set with his pitching order of Ford and probably Ralph Terry for the seventh game Sunday, if necessary. The extra day of rest enabled Dark to move Sanford into line for Sunday's seventh game with three full days of rest.

Except for the pitching rotation, the rain didn't seem to make much difference. Both clubs are healthy. Both are waiting for their "big men" to start hitting. Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris of the Yanks and Orlando Cepeda and even Willie Mays of the Giants are below par.

The two postponements in one Series sent the writers into the record books to exhume reports of the famed 1911 Series between the Philadelphia A's and New York Giants, who were rained out for a full week between the third and fourth games. The six-game series covered 13 days.

This series already is sure to go to its 10th day and the way things have been going, the boys are wondering if they will be home for Thanksgiving.

The Yanks still are favored 6½-5 in the sixth game and 3½-1 for the Series.

Guards Swapped

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys placed defensive tackle Ken Frost on the injured reserve Friday and activated offensive guard Joe Bob Isbell.

Frost, from Tennessee, injured a knee two weeks ago and will be out for the remainder of the season.

Isbell, a rookie from the University of Houston, was injured during pre-season games and has not yet seen action in a National Football League regular season game, although he started most of the Cowboys' pre-season contests.

LARRY JANSEN, left, and Wes Westrum, Giant coaches, brave the wind and rain to take a look at ground conditions in Candlestick Park Friday after the sixth game of the World Series was called off due to bad weather. An all-night rain driven by winds of almost hurricane force left the field in an unplayable condition. (AP Wirephoto)

NEEDS DIRT FLOOR

Houk Is Looking For Field House

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)— New York Yankees Manager Ralph Houk said Friday he will try to find a field house with a dirt floor where his team can work out if the sixth game of the World Series is postponed again Saturday.

"I want a place where they can wear spikes, and take some batting practice," Houk said after Friday's scheduled contest against the San Francisco Giants was called off. "You don't like to see hitters miss batting practice, and we haven't been hitting as it is."

Houk said he did not think the rain will help either club, "and I sure can't see where it could help us."

The Yankee skipper, whose team leads the Giants three games to two, was obviously eager to get the rain-delayed Series going again.

"I know it's not good to have too many days off," he said.

"Whitey Ford is my pitcher, no matter when we play the game," Houk said.

Ford, the Yankee ace who was 17-8 during the season, won the first game in San Francisco 6-2, and left for a pinch hitter after six innings of the fourth game in New York with the score tied 2-2. The Giants eventually won that game, but Ford was not involved in the decision.

Houk strongly indicated that Ralph Terry, the big winner on the staff with a 23-12 mark, would start the seventh game, if one is needed.

"He's ready," Houk said. "I'm not going to say he will start but he could be the choice, with Bill Stafford in reserve."

Terry lost the second and won the fifth game, and Stafford won the third, although he was hit on the left shin by a line drive in the eighth inning.

Houk said he had no injuries, and both Stafford and Bill Skowron, who has an ailing back and injured hand, are ready to play.

TO ALSTON

Durocher Charged With 'Disloyality'

By JOE REICHLER

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Emil (Buzzie) Bavasi, charged coach Leo Durocher Friday with being disloyal to Manager Walter Alston of the Los Angeles Dodgers and said there was no longer room for both on the same club.

Bavasi, Dodger vice president, based his claim on a quote attributed to Durocher at a Dodger party in which Leo purportedly said:

"We would have won the pennant if I had been managing."

Neither Bavasi nor Walter O'Malley, owner of the Dodgers, was present at the party. It was held several hours after the Dodgers had lost the final playoff game for the National League pennant to San Francisco.

However, several members of the Dodger staff carried the remark to Bavasi who is in San Francisco for the World Series.

"Leo's crack was inexcusable and cannot be ignored," said Bavasi.

"Unless he proves to me he didn't say it, he's through, as far as I am concerned. However, I am willing to listen to him. But he'll have to confront those persons who told me and make liars out of them in front of me."

Another Dodger official, who wished to remain unidentified, insisted that the Durocher was distorted.

"What Durocher actually said was 'I would have liked my chances with the 4-2 lead going into the ninth inning,'" the official said, referring to the final playoff game the Dodgers lost 6-4 to the Giants.

"This was in reply to someone's remark, 'We never would have lost the pennant with Durocher managing.'"

Bavasi refused to be appeased. "I still say Leo was disloyal to Alston," he fumed. "He should have said, 'Don't talk that way about my manager. He did a good job.' That is what Alston would have said had their positions been reversed.

"Also, I'm not at all sure Durocher would have won the pennant. And if he knew a way to win it, then why didn't he tell Alston?"

Bavasi, who has always stood by Alston ever since the tall, silent man from Ohio succeeded Chuck Dressen as the Dodgers' manager in 1954, refused to blame his manager for losing the pennant.

"Everyone is blaming Walt," he said. "These are the same people who were singing his praises when the Dodgers were five games in front with less than two weeks to play—and with Sandy Koufax out with an injury for two months.

"It wasn't Alston's fault that the players stopped hitting, that the fielders missed some balls and that the runners were picked off base. He couldn't swing the bat for them when they were shut out three straight games."

Bavasi said he did not know whether Alston would be rehired.

"That's up to Mr. O'Malley," he said. "He owns the club. It's his money. He makes the final decisions. I just make recommendations. I know how Alston stands with me. But I don't know where he stands with Walter (O'Malley)."

Fans Buy Tickets In Wind, Rain

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A small group of hardy baseball fanatics waited through a lashing rain and gale winds of 40 to 60 miles an hour Thursday night to buy bleacher tickets for the sixth game of the World Series.

There were at least two small children in the group, and a man in a wheelchair.

When ticket sales were opened at 7 a.m., they quickly snapped up all 2,200 tickets for the game between the New York Yankees and the San Francisco Giants.

The game was postponed until Saturday because of rain and wet grounds but the tickets will be good for that game. No more are available.

The group that waited all night for a chance to buy the precious tickets was estimated at 700 by one Giants' official, although the total probably dwindled at the height of the storm.

Most of the persons huddled in the shelter of the concrete stadium, in improvised tents constructed of canvas, plywood and raincoats. Others were in sleeping bags.

The howling winds ripped many of the tents down, and the rain deposited eight inches of water in the parking lot but it did not dampen the spirits of the fans.

"We were almost blown away during the night," one fan said.

The first man in line was Tom Smith, a 29-year-old merchant seaman from Plymouth, Ind., who had been camped out in a small trailer since Wednesday.

Some of the first buyers actually entered the park to take bleacher seats, but most went on home to change into dry clothing. After the game was postponed, the others left, too.

They left behind about four truck loads of ruined umbrellas and tents.

Field Trials Set For Beagle Dogs Begining Today

BASTROP (Special) — The Morehouse Beagle Club's American Kennel Club licensed field trials for 13 and 15 inch male and female beagles is scheduled to begin near here today.

The event, which will run through next Tuesday, will be held at the organization's clubhouse, 12 miles north of Bastrop on the Old Bonita Road.

All hounds entered in each of the four classes will be measured between 6 and 7:45 a.m. the date of their respective runs.

Thirteen inch females are scheduled to run today with males of the same size running Sunday. Fifteen inch dogs will run Monday and the same sized females will run the following day.

C. O. Taylor, of Shreveport and W. G. Baker of Terry, Miss., are slated to judge the trials with Philhiol Smith and Cecil Brown, both of Bastrop serving as alternates.

Trophies will be awarded to first placed hounds in each class.

Members of the field trial committee include: Dewey Hart, chairman, Carl Hart, Jack Blackman, T. J. Brice, Clifford Byrd, Richard Cole, Nolan Williamson, Earl Jones, L. M. McIntyre and O. W. Wilson.

Each Squad Looking For 1st Loop Win

McNeese and Northeast State — two teams whose attacks feature "four yards and a cloud of dust"—clash in Saturday's lone Gulf States Conference game in Lake Charles with each team seeking to record its first league victory.

Game time is 8 p.m. in Lake Charles High Stadium.

Both Northeast's Indians and the Cowboys from McNeese rely heavily on powerful ground offenses. McNeese is 29th among National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics schools in rushing offense with 217.7 yards a game. Northeast sports a respectable 188.9 - yard average on the ground.

Both teams might go to the air more than usual, however, since both have proved vulnerable to passes. McNeese opponents have averaged 125.7 yards by passing while Northeast foes have thrown for 107.1 yards a contest.

The two clubs are the only ones left in the six - school GSC which have not recorded a conference victory. Northeast was edged by Northwestern, 18-17, and McNeese fell before Louisiana Tech, 14-6, in previous GSC starts with both victors scoring twice in the final period to win.

Overall, Northeast is 1-2 with a 14-0 loss to Lamar and a 14-12 triumph over East Texas State on the books while McNeese is all even for the year at 1-1-1, having opened with a 40-0 trouncing of Mexico Poly and battling to a 10-10 tie with Tampa last Saturday.

The Cowboys nudged the Indians in Monroe last fall, 7-0, and leads the series between the teams by a 9-2 count.

Most of Northeast's players are in good shape for the game but the status of tailbacks Robert Payne and Joe Thrailkill is in doubt. Payne has had a fever most of the week and Coach Jack Rowan doesn't know if he'll be able to go full speed tonight or not. Thrailkill has been sidelined with bruised ribs this week. Starting center Stanley Starr suffered a severe wrist sprain in practice Thursday but is expected to see action.

To bolster the tailback post, Rowan has shifted wingback Dean Mann to that spot. Mann, a speedy sophomore, is ticketed to run with the Maroon or offensive team.

Stars are plentiful on both teams. Quarterback Ronnie Myrick of Northeast is third in total offense in the GSC with 71 yards a game while tailback Ken Newton is fifth with a 55.7 -yard average. McNeese's second-string fullback, Darrell Lester, is third in rushing with a 5.9-yard average. First - teammer Don Bossier has more yards than Lester, 156 to 124, but not as good an average.

John Kelly of Northeast ranks second in punting with a 38.5 average with Tommy Thompson of McNeese close behind with a 38.1 mark. Cowboy Lloyd Guillot is first in punt returns with eight for 104 yards while Indian Thrailkill is second in kickoff returns with a 51.5 average.

McNeese is wealthy in star linemen while Northeast standouts up front include end Wendell Drost, tackle Ross Nolan, guards Billy Foster and Larry Rambin and center Starr. The Indians have a slight weight advantage up front, a 211 average to 208 for McNeese, while the backfields average about the same, 180 for McNeese to 179 for the Indians.

Grambling Star To Make Tour

GRAMBLING (Special) —Willis Reed, a take - charge type pivot and star rebounder for the Grambling Tigers, has been named to a 12 - man NAIA All-Star team that will oppose the Russian Olympic squad in a two-game series in mid - November.

Reed, a 6-9 junior, recently returned from a six - week goodwill cage tour of Latin America with six members of the Grambling squad. The tour was made under the auspices of the U. S. Department of State and the Amateur Athletic Union.

A smooth, ambidextrous shooter, Reed is a smart playmaker and a good dribbler and ball handler. He weighs 230 pounds.

Last season he grabbed 380 rebounds and scored 458 points in 26 games.

He was a steady dependable member of the 1961 Grambling team that won the NAICA championship.

TWO REASONS why Northeast State has shown vast improvement this season are fullback Devone Payne (left) and guard Joe McClain. Payne, the elder half of the Tribe's brother act that also features freshman Robert Payne, gives Northeast size (195) and power at fullback. McClain is one of the Indians' top blockers. Both men will see plenty of action tonight when Northeast takes on McNeese in Lake Charles.

INTERSECTIONAL BATTLE

Tech Faces Arlington Tonight; Labenne Out

RUSTON (Special) — Louisiana Tech, with two first unit backfielders out with injuries, takes on Arlington State College of Texas here Saturday night in an intersectional fracas.

Left halfback Paul Labenne, who leads Tech in most individual statistics, will be sidelined as will fullback Ronnie Carson.

Mickey Strother, senior halfback from Farmerville, will step in for Labenne while Carson's post will be handled by soph fullback Wayne Noland of Tallulah, who has been impressive lately.

Charlie Miller, Sicily Island freshman, has shifted back to fullback from guard and will hold down an offensive berth. Gerald McDowell, good Sulphur frosh runner, will see duty on defense this time out.

Otherwise, Tech seems to be in good shape for the Arlington tilt. The Bulldog gridmen has a good week on the practice field and should be prepared for the Texans, who upended Tech 8-7 last season.

Tech will be trying to bounce back from a 13-6 upset at the hands of Southwestern in league play. After the Arlington tilt, Tech goes against old foe Northwestern State in the annual Shreveport state fair clash next weekend.

The Techmen will be trying to get their passing attack going again. After a 249-yard production in the opening 14-6 win over McNeese, it fell off to only 59 yards last week despite nine completions in 20 attempts.

Arlington will counter with Doug Wilson, a good passer who is also adept at running the ball, as evidenced by over 300 yards rushing in the first four Rebel games.

SANFORD READY

Rain Lets Giants Improve Pitching

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)— Rain swelled the potential of the San Francisco Giants pitching staff Friday.

For with the postponement, Manager Alvin Dark will be able to pitch Jack Sanford in a seventh game if the Giants win the sixth with Billy Pierce.

Both have been nothing less than sensational in Candlestick Park—the left-handed Pierce with a 12-0 record there and Sanford at 14-1 this past season. Sanford lost only one Candlestick game in 1961 while winning eight.

"If I had my choice," Dark said earlier, "I would have used both Pierce and Sanford in the earlier games at Candlestick. Both have pitched so well there."

He did get to use Sanford in the second game but Pierce had been used in two of the playoff games against Los Angeles and needed rest. He lost his start in New York 3-2.

"I don't see how a postponement of one or even two days can hurt us at this point," said Dark, who left Candlestick Park early to go home and nurse a bad cold.

He stuck with Pierce (10-6) as his starting pitcher in the sixth game. With Sanford available for the seventh, the Giants will be able to use capable Billy O'Dell in relief when needed.

O'Dell was used both as a starter and reliever while winning 19 games during the regular season, and the Giants bullpen, without him, hasn't been too impressive.

O'Dell was the starter and loser in the first World Series game and then saved the fourth with three innings of relief.

Dark made no change in his line-up opposing Whitey Ford. Against the lefty, he'll use right-handed hitting Harvey Kuenn in left field and Orlando Cepeda at first base.

Even if Saturday's game is postponed, Dark planned no workout for his Giants, saying, "Rest at this time won't hurt anybody."

Pierce had his best record (4-0) on four days rest. He'll have five if he pitches Saturday and through the season his record was 5-2 with that long a layoff.

Wright Has Lead In Thunderbird Golf Tournament

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Long hitting Mickey Wright fired a 3-under-par 69 to break the course record and take a 2-stroke lead Friday in the first round of the 54-hole Thunderbird Ladies Open Golf Tournament.

Miss Wright, the leading money winner on the ladies PGA circuit, had little trouble with the 6,200-yard Paradise Valley Country Club layout as she set a torrid pace in the $11,000 tourney.

Long off the tee, as usual, she also managed to hit all but three greens in regulation figures and bagged birdie putts of 35 and 40 feet along the way.

Jackie Pung tied the woman's course record for the front nine with a blazing 33, but slipped on the final nine to finish with a one-under par 71.

She had a chance to tie Miss Wright with a long putt on 18, but needed three strokes to get down.

Deadlocked in third place at 72 were Barbara Romack, Kathy Whitworth, Ruth Jessen, and Murle MacKenzie Lindstrom.

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP)— Leaving the older hands to fret in the background, a pair of youngsters in professional golf, Jacky Cupit and Dave Hill, hit the midway mark of the $40,000 Bakersfield Open Friday tied with scores of 136.

Cupit, 24, now in his second year on the PGA tour, bounced into the picture with an excellent 6-under-par 66, lowest of the tournament for the par 36-36—72 Bakersfield Country Club.

Hill, 25, led the first round with a 67 and came in with a 69.

Rain, Gale Winds Postpone Sixth World Series Game

Postponement Of Saturday's Tilt Threatens

By JACK HAND

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Rain and 45-mile-an-hour gale winds forced postponement of Friday's sixth World Series game and threatened plans to resume play Saturday at 2 p.m. EST.

An all-night rain soaked the uncut outfield grass at Candlestick Park, tugged at the infield tarpaulin and threatened to carry it away despite a number of 35-pound weights.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Probable lineups for the sixth World Series game at Candlestick Park Saturday:

NEW YORK	SAN FRANCISCO
Kubek ss	Kuenn lf
Richardson 2b	Hiller 2b
Tresh lf	F. Alou rf
Mantle cf	Mays cf
Maris rf	Cepeda 1b
Howard c	Davenport 3b
Skowron 1b	Haller or Bailey c
Boyer 3b	Pagan ss

Game time—Noon, PDT (2 p.m. EST).

If they had tried to play ball, this could have been the day of the first 900-foot home run in the winds that made it difficult to open doors and shattered glass in downtown hotel windows. Even on a sunny day, Candlestick has its well-publicized wind tunnel.

Commissioner Ford Frick, who delayed 71 minutes past game time before calling Tuesday's game in New York, wasted no time Friday. Frick was at the park early and called off the game well over three hours before it was scheduled to start. As soon as he and groundskeeper Matty Schwab stepped on the field, Frick waved his hands and said, "the game is off because the field is unplayable."

Nobody really expected to play, for the weatherman had predicted a 90 per cent chance of rain last night. Belmont Park should have such a good handicapper. His latest forecast for Saturday was for scattered showers. However, the wind gusts should help dry the outfield area. Ironically, this is the field Alvin Dark was accused of watering to slow down the Dodgers in regular season.

Billy Pierce, the stylish lefty who never has lost at Candlestick, where he has a 12-0 record, still is slated to be the pitcher for the San Francisco Giants. Manager Dark did say he might switch to Jack Sanford for Sunday if Saturday's game also is washed out.

Whitey Ford, winner of a record 10 World Series games, will be the New York Yankee pitcher. Ford and Pierce had many duels in the days when Pierce was with the Chicago White Sox. Against the Yanks he has a lifetime record of 25-38.

The Yankees need only one more victory to close out the Series, for they lead 3-2 in the best-of-7 competition. Both pitchers are well rested. Pierce hadn't worked since Sunday, when he lost the third game at New York 3-2. Ford pitched the opener Oct. 4 and toiled six innings Monday before he was taken out for a pinch hitter with the score tied at 2-2.

Most observers feel that the rainout gives the Giants a break. Ralph Houk, Yankee manager, was set with his pitching order of Ford and probably Ralph Terry for the seventh game Sunday, if necessary. The extra day of rest enabled Dark to move Sanford into line for Sunday's seventh game with three full days of rest.

Except for the pitching rotation, the rain didn't seem to make much difference. Both clubs are healthy. Both are waiting for their "big men" to start hitting. Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris of the Yanks and Orlando Cepeda and even Willie Mays of the Giants are below par.

The two postponements in one Series sent the writers into the record books to exhume reports of the famed 1911 Series between the Philadelphia A's and New York Giants, who were rained out for a full week between the third and fourth games. The six-game series covered 13 days.

This series already is sure to go to its 10th day and the way things have been going, the boys are wondering if they will be home for Thanksgiving.

The Yanks still are favored 6½-5 in the sixth game and 3½-1 for the Series.

An all-night rain driven by winds of almost hurricane force left the field in an unplayable condition. (AP Wirephoto)

NEEDS DIRT FLOOR

Houk Is Looking For Field House

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)— New York Yankees Manager Ralph Houk said Friday he will try to find a field house with a dirt floor where his team can work out if the sixth game of the World Series is postponed again Saturday.

"I want a place where they can wear spikes, and take some batting practice," Houk said after Friday's scheduled contest against the San Francisco Giants was called off. "You don't like to see hitters miss batting practice, and we haven't been hitting as it is."

Houk said he did not think the rain will help either club, "and I sure can't see where it could help us."

The Yankee skipper, whose team leads the Giants three games to two, was obviously eager to get the rain-delayed Series going again.

"I know it's not good to have too many days off," he said.

"Whitey Ford is my pitcher, no matter when we play the game," Houk said.

Ford, the Yankee ace who was 17-8 during the season, won the first game in San Francisco 6-2, and left for a pinch hitter after six innings of the fourth game in New York with the score tied 2-2. The Giants eventually won that game, but Ford was not involved in the decision.

Houk strongly indicated that Ralph Terry, the big winner on the staff with a 23-12 mark, would start the seventh game, if one is needed.

"He's ready," Houk said. "I'm not going to say he will start but he could be the choice, with Bill Stafford in reserve."

Terry lost the second and won the fifth game, and Stafford won the third, although he was hit on the left shin by a line drive in the eighth inning.

Houk said he had no injuries, and both Stafford and Bill Skowron, who has an ailing back and injured hand, are ready to play.

TO ALSTON

Durocher Charged With 'Disloyality'

By JOE REICHLER

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Emil (Buzzie) Bavasi, charged coach Leo Durocher Friday with being disloyal to Manager Walter Alston of the Los Angeles Dodgers and said there was no longer room for both on the same club.

Bavasi, Dodger vice president, based his claim on a quote attributed to Durocher at a Dodger party in which Leo purportedly said:

"We would have won the pennant if I had been managing."

Neither Bavasi nor Walter O'Malley, owner of the Dodgers, was present at the party. It was held several hours after the Dodgers had lost the final playoff game for the National League pennant to San Francisco.

However, several members of the Dodger staff carried the remark to Bavasi who is in San Francisco for the World Series.

"Leo's crack was inexcusable and cannot be ignored," said Bavasi.

"Unless he proves to me he didn't say it, he's through, as far as I am concerned. However, I am willing to listen to him. But he'll have to confront those persons who told me and make liars out of them in front of me."

Another Dodger official, who wished to remain unidentified, insisted that the Durocher was distorted.

"What Durocher actually said was 'I would have liked my chances with the 4-2 lead going into the ninth inning,'" the official said, referring to the final playoff game the Dodgers lost 6-4 to the Giants.

"This was in reply to someone's remark, 'We never would have lost the pennant with Durocher managing.'"

Bavasi refused to be appeased. "I still say Leo was disloyal to Alston," he fumed. "He should have said, 'Don't talk that way about my manager. He did a good job.' That is what Alston would have said had their positions been reversed.

"Also, I'm not at all sure Durocher would have won the pennant. And if he knew a way to win it, then why didn't he tell Alston?"

Bavasi, who has always stood by Alston ever since the tall, silent man from Ohio succeeded Chuck Dressen as the Dodgers' manager in 1954, refused to blame his manager for losing the pennant.

"Everyone is blaming Walt," he said. "These are the same people who were singing his praises when the Dodgers were five games in front with less than two weeks to play—and with Sandy Koufax out with an injury for two months.

"It wasn't Alston's fault that the players stopped hitting, that the fielders missed some balls and that the runners were picked off base. He couldn't swing the bat for them when they were shut out three straight games."

Bavasi said he did not know whether Alston would be rehired.

"That's up to Mr. O'Malley," he said. "He owns the club. It's his money. He makes the final decisions. I just make recommendations. I know how Alston stands with me. But I don't know where he stands with Walter (O'Malley)."

Guards Swapped

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys placed defensive tackle Ken Frost on the injured reserve Friday and activated offensive guard Joe Bob Isbell.

Frost, from Tennessee, injured a knee two weeks ago and will be out for the remainder of the season.

Isbell, a rookie from the University of Houston, was injured during pre-season games and has not yet seen action in a National Football League regular season game, although he started most of the Cowboys' pre-season contests.

Fans Buy Tickets In Wind, Rain

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A small group of hardy baseball fanatics waited through a lashing rain and gale winds of 40 to 60 miles an hour Thursday night to buy bleacher tickets for the sixth game of the World Series.

There were at least two small children in the group, and a man in a wheelchair.

When ticket sales were opened at 7 a.m., they quickly snapped up all 2,200 tickets for the game between the New York Yankees and the San Francisco Giants.

The game was postponed until Saturday because of rain and wet grounds but the tickets will be good for that game. No more are available.

The group that waited all night for a chance to buy the precious tickets was estimated at 700 by one Giants' official, although the total probably dwindled at the height of the storm.

Most of the persons huddled in the shelter of the concrete stadium, in improvised tents constructed of canvas, plywood and raincoats. Others were in sleeping bags.

The howling winds ripped many of the tents down, and the rain deposited eight inches of water in the parking lot but it did not dampen the spirits of the fans.

"We were almost blown away during the night," one fan said.

The first man in line was Tom Smith, a 29-year-old merchant seaman from Plymouth, Ind., who had been camped out in a small trailer since Wednesday.

Some of the first buyers actually entered the park to take bleacher seats, but most went on home to change into dry clothing. After the game was postponed, the others left, too.

They left behind about four truck loads of ruined umbrellas and tents.

The Bulldog gridmen has a good week on the practice field and should be prepared for the Texans, who upended Tech 8-7 last season.

Tech will be trying to bounce back from a 13-6 upset at the hands of Southwestern in league play. After the Arlington tilt, Tech goes against old foe Northwestern State in the annual Shreveport state fair clash next weekend.

The Techmen will be trying to get their passing attack going again. After a 249-yard production in the opening 14-6 win over McNeese, it fell off to only 59 yards last week despite nine completions in 20 attempts.

Arlington will counter with Doug Wilson, a good passer who is also adept at running the ball, as evidenced by over 300 yards rushing in the first four Rebel games.

SANFORD READY

Rain Lets Giants Improve Pitching

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)— Rain swelled the potential of the San Francisco Giants pitching staff Friday.

For with the postponement, Manager Alvin Dark will be able to pitch Jack Sanford in a seventh game if the Giants win the sixth with Billy Pierce.

Both have been nothing less than sensational in Candlestick Park—the left-handed Pierce with a 12-0 record there and Sanford at 14-1 this past season. Sanford lost only one Candlestick game in 1961 while winning eight.

"If I had my choice," Dark said earlier, "I would have used both Pierce and Sanford in the earlier games at Candlestick. Both have pitched so well there."

He did get to use Sanford in the second game but Pierce had been used in two of the playoff games against Los Angeles and needed rest. He lost his start in New York 3-2.

"I don't see how a postponement of one or even two days can hurt us at this point," said Dark, who left Candlestick Park early to go home and nurse a bad cold.

He stuck with Pierce (10-6) as his starting pitcher in the sixth game. With Sanford available for the seventh, the Giants will be able to use capable Billy O'Dell in relief when needed.

O'Dell was used both as a starter and reliever while winning 19 games during the regular season, and the Giants bullpen, without him, hasn't been too impressive.

O'Dell was the starter and loser in the first World Series game and then saved the fourth with three innings of relief.

Dark made no change in his line-up opposing Whitey Ford. Against the lefty, he'll use right-handed hitting Harvey Kuenn in left field and Orlando Cepeda at first base.

Even if Saturday's game is postponed, Dark planned no workout for his Giants, saying, "Rest at this time won't hurt anybody."

Pierce had his best record (4-0) on four days rest. He'll have five if he pitches Saturday and through the season his record was 3-2 with that long a layoff.

Wright Has Lead In Thunderbird Golf Tournament

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Long-hitting Mickey Wright fired a 3-under-par 69 to break the course record and take a 2-stroke lead Friday in the first round of the 54-hole Thunderbird Ladies Open Golf Tournament.

Miss Wright, the leading money winner on the ladies PGA circuit, had little trouble with the 6,200-yard Paradise Valley Country Club layout as she set a torrid pace in the $11,000 tourney.

Long off the tee, as usual, she also managed to hit all but three greens in regulation figures and bagged birdie putts of 35 and 40 feet along the way.

Jackie Pung tied the woman's course record for the front nine with a blazing 33, but slipped on the final nine to finish with a one-under par 71.

She had a chance to tie Miss Wright with a long putt on 18, but needed three strokes to get down.

Deadlocked in third place at 72 were Barbara Romack, Kathy Whitworth, Ruth Jessen, and Murle MacKenzie Lindstrom.

Cupit, Hill In 1-Stroke Lead At Golf Meet

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP)— Leaving the older hands to fret in the background, a pair of youngsters in professional golf, Jacky Cupit and Dave Hill, hit the midway mark of the $40,000 Bakersfield Open Friday tied with scores of 136.

Cupit, 24, now in his second year on the PGA tour, bounced into the picture with an excellent 6-under-par 66, lowest of the tournament for the par 36-36—72 Bakersfield Country Club.

Hill, 25, led the first round with a 67 and came in with a 69.

BEAT OUACHITA, 7-0

El Dorado Scores In Last Seconds To Win

By HOWARD PAGE
World Staff Writer

The visiting El Dorado, Ark., Wildcats punched over a touchdown with only 55 seconds left to play here Friday night to nip the Ouachita Parish Lions, 7-0, in a non - district struggle.

Loss was the sixth straight for Coach Bob Ellen's Lions this season and the second in a row by the same 7-0 margin. They lost by a similar score to Bastrop last week. The win over Ouachita squared El Dorado's record at 3-3.

The Lions return to District 1-AAA warfare next Friday night in a match with Fair Park at Shreveport.

El Dorado marched 43 yards in 10 plays in the waning minutes of the final period for the only touchdown of the night.

SUMMARY	Ouachita	El Dorado
First Downs	2	17
Yards Rushing	30	202
Yards Passing	1	78
Total Yards	31	280
Passes Att-Comp	2-1	15-8
Passes Interc. By	2	0
Fumbles-Lost	1-1	1-1
Punts-Avg.	6-35.2	2-39.5
Penalties	3-15	6-60

With 5:15 left to play, the Wildcats took over on their 28, lost one yard in three plays, and were forced to punt. Halfback Jay Johnston, a left - footed kicker, punted to the Ouachita 40 on fourth down.

Then came the first of two costly breaks against the Lions. Fielding the punt on his 40, Halfback Johnny Knighten let the ball get away and the Wildcats recovered on the 43.

Wildcat quarterback David Self tried one pass that fell incomplete.

Then came the second break against the Lions. Halfback Donnie Powell picked off Self's second passing attempt at the 41 and raced 59 yards to paydirt with the interception.

But offsetting penalties nullified Powell's brilliant effort, and the Wildcats still had possession at the 43 with second - and- 10 and 3:12 left to play.

Halfback Junior Pittman started the Wildcats goalward with an 18 - yard sweep around the right side to the 25. Halfback Chet Blackmon tackled on five, and Fullback Jimmy Thomas, a 208- pound blockbuster, rambled to the 15.

A five - yard offside penalty moved the Wildcats back to the 20, but Pittman and Halfback Bobby Sims moved to the eight in three plays. Thomas bulled his way to the three, and quarterback Bill Rainer sneaked a yard to the two for the first on a fourth and one - foot situation. On the next play, Pittman found an opening at right tackle and lunged into the end zone for the score.

Johnston left - footed the extra point and the Wildcats had their 7-0 lead with the scoreboard showing 55 seconds left.

Ouachita had time for only two plays after the kickoff, and Knighten was smothered on the 17 for a nine - yard loss trying to get off a pass on the last play.

The Lions, who have scored only once in six games this season, mustered only one mild threat. And that came midway of the second quarter when they picked up their only two first downs of the game in driving from their 39 to the El Dorado 12.

Taking over following an El Dorado punt, the Lion's lone thrust of the night got off to a fast start when Fullback Ronnie Hamilton turned the corner at right end on a reverse and sprinted 32 yards to the Wildcat 29. It was the first first down for the Lions.

Halfback Donnie Powell lost a yard, but Knighten picked up 12 on another reverse around the right side to the 18. That turned out to be the second and final first down for the Lions.

An offside penalty against El Dorado moved the Lions to the 13, and Quarterback Carl Gilstrap fumbled another yard to the 12 with the clock showing four minutes left.

Then the drive sputtered and came to grief in a hurry. Gilstrap's pass was incomplete, Knighten lost 10 back to the 22 on a reverse that failed to work, and Gilstrap was downed on the 28 trying to pass on fourth down. That ended Ouachita's offense for the night.

The Wildcats drove from their 47 to the Ouachita four the first time they got the ball in the opening period. But a 15 - yard clipping penalty pushed the Wildcats back to the 18, and Powell intercepted Self's pass on the seven and returned to the 14 to kill the threat.

On their next effort, the Wildcats marched to the Ouachita 30 only to fumble with the Lions recovering on their 27. Late in the second quarter, the Wildcats moved from their 28 to the Ouachita four as the half ended.

Late in the third quarter, the Wildcats started a drive on their 23 that carried to the shadow of the Ouachita goal - line. But the Lions stopped Thomas a yard short of a first on a fourth-and-two situation at the 12.

The only other threat of the game was El Dorado's scoring drive.

The Lions managed only two first downs and 31 total yards, including 30 on the ground. Hamilton picked up 34 yards on eight carries, while Powell gained nine on six tries and Walling had nine on three trips. But Knighten lost 13 and Gilstrap finished with a minus - nine.

Thomas, with his bull - like rushes up the middle, was the workhorse for the Wildcats as he hammered out 91 yards on 21 trips. El Dorado finished with 280 yards in total offense, including 202 on the ground and 78 through the air on eight completions in 15 attemtps.

OVER CANADA

U.S. Has Lead In Amateur Play

KAWANA, Japan (AP) — An all-North American duel for the Eisenhower Cup, symbol of world amateur golf supremacy, shaped up Saturday with a revived U.S. team taking a two-stroke lead over Canada going into the final round of the world team championship.

The U.S. team came back from a miserable second round to top the Canadians 649 to 651 strokes after 54 holes.

In the final 18-hole round Sunday, Canadian Gary Cowan battles Dick Sikes, a University of Arkansas physical education major, for individual honors. Cowan has scored 68-71-72—211 and Sikes 69-76-69—214 on the picturesque Fuji course, set along a small chunk of the Pacific.

The Britain-Ireland team, led by Michael Bonallack's 69 and Alexander Saddler's 72, moved into third place with 658 strokes, followed by New Zealand with 660. Mexico had another 69 shooter in Juan Estrada and moved into fifth place at 672.

Ninety-two players from 23 nations played in near seclusion at this somewhat isolated course 30 miles southwest of Tokyo. Team scored ranged from the United States' 649 to 797 for Pakistan. Scores for the low three golfers only are computed.

The Yanks picked up eight strokes on the Canadians in the third round on Sikes' 69, a 70 by Deane Beman of Bethesda, Md., and 72s by Labron Harris Jr., the U.S. national amateur king from Stillwater, Okla. and the always dangerous Billy Joe Patton of Morganton, N.C.

Beman, who bounced back after an 80 in the second round, unabashedly said that he played superb. He added "If we lose, it won't be because we weren't trying."

Canadian Bill Wakeham, 21-year-old British Columbia champion, had a 72 for his best round. But Cowan and Nick Weslock, a truly big hitter of 45, posted their high tournament rounds with 72 and 75, respectively.

This third world amateur provided a sharp contrast to its predecessor held at the Merion Club at Ardmore, Pa., in 1960.

Going into the final round then, the Americans led by 38 strokes. Friday, Formosa and Australia were tied in sixth place with 675. Japan and South Africa were tied for eighth with 678 and Argentina was in 10th place with 680.

AT HOMECOMING

Neville Takes District Victory From Ruston

By STUART HILL
World Sports Writer

Neville's Tigers used the ground gaining efforts of several swift backs Friday night to set - up three touchdowns and defeat Ruston's Bearcats, 19-0, in the Tiger's homecoming.

Jimmy Howard, Chip Planchard and Don Johnson, with the aid of hard blocking linemen, chewed up both short and long yardage while leading the Tigers to the district 2-AA win.

Howard scored mid - way in the second period from 10 yards out, after taking a 39 - yard pass from quarterback Don Saget and fighting his way to the 10 one play earlier.

Saget, plagued with a leg injury all season, hobbled across from the six - yard line later in the fourth quarter to cap a 65-yard Tiger drive. Howard made good the PAT, his only successful conversion in three kicking attempts.

Fullback Don Johnson scored the final Tiger tally in the final quarter with about two minutes remaining, after carrying the ball to within inches of the Bearcat goal line.

Ruston offered Tiger defenses something to work on the entire game with the passing of quarterback Melvin Shows and the running of fullback Eddie Taylor.

Punting proved to be one of the points lacking in the contest. Left halfback Billy Adney, while trying to kick the Bearcats out of trouble, got off eight kicks for a 22 - yard average, including one eight - yarder.

During the first quarter, a battle of defenses raged with both teams swaping punts twice. The Tigers mustered their first sustained drive of the night early in the second period with the short gaining efforts of Howard, Planchard and Johnson. The Bearcats stopped the drive on their own 27-yard line, but the Tigers finally broke the ice on the next drive.

Neville's defense, which was characterized the entire contest by gang tackling, took over the ball on Ruston's 49 - yard line after forcing the Bearcats to punt from their own 26 - yard line.

After Saget tossed an incomplete pass and called a draw play that didn't work, the ailing quarterback connected with Howard who fought his way to the 10-yard line. He went across on the following play picking and choosing his way into pay - dirt. Howard attempted to kick the PAT, but was caught short of the goal after the holder fumbled.

SUMMARY	Ruston	Neville

Ruston ended the first half with a screen pass which caught the Tigers off guard. Shows hit Taylor on the sidelines and the 170-pound fullback scooted from the sideline to mid - field and back and carried the pigskin a total of 15 long yards on the play.

Howard, Planchard and Johnson did the bulk of the ball carrying early in the fourth quarter to lead a 65 - yard drive and set-up Saget's sojourn across the goal. Planchard broke loose for 21 - yards on the first play on the drive and 13 plays later the big quarterback went over.

With the ball resting on the six-yard line in a fourth and goal situation, Saget took the ball and headed for the flag on his far right. He made it in spite of obvious difficulty with his right knee.

On the next series of Ruston plays Neville's group tackling methods threw the Bearcats for a seven yard loss including an eight - yard pass play from Shows to Billy Works and forced the visitors to punt from their own 18-yard line.

Neville took control of the punt on the Ruston 46 - yard line and sent Johnson across ten plays and three first downs later.

Johnson's tally came from inches away after Saget passed to Gary Hart for 13 - yards and both Howard and Johnson had picked up short yardage during the drive. Howard's kick was wide on the PAT.

BULLDOGS 2ND SEC WIN

Mississippi State Romps On Hapless Tulane, 35-6

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Halfback Odie Burrell's 90-yard run ignited Mississippi State Friday night and the Maroons rode Charlie Furlow's passing arm to a 35-6 Southeastern Conference victory over winless Tulane.

Furlow, a 22-year-old senior from Mendenhall, Miss., passed for two touchdowns to end Randy Hutton and set up a third with a 30-yard aerial to end Tommy Inman.

It was the first back-to-back SEC victory for the Maroons since 1957.

In all, Furlow completed 8 of 10 passes for 126 yards.

The game was marred by penalties, with Mississippi State rolling up a school record of 175 yards in ruled infractions—164 of them in the first half. Tulane was also penalized heavily.

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Statistics of the Mississippi State-Tulane football game:

	Miss. State	Tulane
First downs	15	15
Rushing yardage	182	64
Passing yardage	163	149
Passes	11-20	17-41
Passes intercepted by	2	0
Punts	8-34.8	6-38.6
Fumbles lost	0	1
Yards penalized	175	114

Burrell's touchdown gallop came five minutes into the opening stanza, after a Tulane drive bogged down at the Maroon 10-yard stripe.

State dominated the second half as Tulane threw a record 41 passes in a vain effort to score. The Greenies completed only 17 throws.

A fumbled punt by Tulane halfback Terry Terrebonne at his own 40 set up the fourth MSU touchdown. Pass interference gave the Maroons a first down at the Tulane 16, and after Furlow had been dropped for a short loss, he threw 17 yards to Hutto for the score.

A pass interception by center Johnny Windham late in the third quarter set up the final Maroon touchdown. Linebucks by fullback Mackie Weaver gained most of the yardage and third string quarterback Jim McBride threw 15 yards to halfback Larry Swearengen for the tally.

The victory gave State a 2-1 season record, all in SEC play. Tulane is now 0-4 overall and 0-1 in the Dixie Dozen.

On the first State play from scrimmage, the 173-pound Burrell broke through right tackle and burst to the outside, outrunning the last Tulane defnders. Sammy Dantone kicked the first of five successful extra points.

Mississippi State scored again early in the second quarter. Furlow's pass to Inman was the big gainer in a drive which covered 55 yards in 13 plays. Tackle Howard Benton accounted for the six points, recovering J. E. Loicano's fumble in the Tulane end zone.

Tulane's touchdown came after penalties forced Furlow to punt from his own end zone. Starting at the Maroon 47, Tulane scored in 15 plays with passes from quarterbacks Ron Melton and Ted Miller to end Clem Dellenger picking up most of the yardage.

Miller's pass to Gordon Rush covered the final 2 yards. Rush's conversion attempt was wide to the right.

Tulane was even in first downs with the Maroons with 15 each but MSU gained 345 yards to 213 for the Greenies.

FAVORED OVER MIAMI

LSU Is Unbeaten At Home Since '60

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—A Florida hurricane roars into the Louisiana Bayou country Saturday night, hoping to do what no other football team has accomplished since 1960—beat Louisiana State in Tiger Stadium.

But Miami, despite the needle-threading passing of All America candidate George Mira, is a two touchdown underdog for its clash with LSU, sixth-ranked in the nation.

A sell-out crowd of 67,500 is expected. It will be the third straight full house this season at Tiger Stadium.

Despite its favorite role, LSU must continue to tighten its pass defense, one of the weaker facets of the Bengal team this season, to stop Mira.

The Tigers managed to do just that last weekend and stopped Billy Lothridge, the ace Georgia Tech quarterback. LSU beat Tech 10-7 and knocked the Engineers from the unbeaten ranks.

Both LSU and Miami are undefeated, but the Tigers have a 6-6 tie with Rice on their record.

Spearheading the Bengal offense will be Jerry Stovall, the elusive triple-threat halfback who ran 98 yards with a Georgia Tech kickoff for a touchdown.

Upsets May Be Order For Day

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Texas, Penn State, Michigan State and Washington are uneasy favorites Saturday in the games which headline the fourth week of the college football season.

Although they are picked from 6 to 13½ points over stout sectional rivals, it wouldn't be a great surprise to see one or more of them beaten, thus scrambling the national rankings.

Texas, second only to Alabama in the ratings, is 13½ over Oklahoma in their game at Dallas. Penn State, No. 3, is a 7-point pick over Army's platoons at West Point's cozy Michie Stadium. Michigan State is 7½ over Michigan at East Lansing and Washington, No. 7, is a slender 6 over Oregon State at Portland.

Three of these games will be beamed to home television screens on a regional basis by CBS-TV.

The Eastern seaboard gets a look at Penn State and Army, starting at 1 p.m. EST. The North Central area can switch on Michigan State-Michigan at 1:30 p.m. EST. The Southwest, West and Northwest can view Texas-Oklahoma starting at 3 p.m. EST.

Outside of Texas, Penn State and Washington, none of the top-ranking teams appears in danger of being tripped up this week.

Alabama, the defending national champion, is host to Houston at Tuscaloosa and should win by three touchdowns—more if Coach Bear Bryant happens to be in an uncharitable mood.

Louisiana State, No. 6, is host to Miami (Fla.) and George Mira's potent passing arm at Baton Rouge and favored by 11 points. Arkansas, No. 8, is 19½ points over Baylor at Fayetteville, Ark. Purdue, No. 9, is 20 over unbeaten but overmatched Miami (Ohio) at Lafayette, Ind., and Ohio State, No. 10, is a whooping 27 points over an Illinois team which hasn't won a game in the last two years.

The game at Dallas, pitting the brains of Oklahoma's coach Bud Wilkinson against those of former pupil Darrell Royal, is a 75,000 sellout. Texas, with a powerful fullback in Ray Poage, is unbeaten in three games. Oklahoma's sophomore-studded squad was good enough to beat Syracuse but lost a squeaker to Notre Dame.

Penn State was impressive in beating Navy, Air Force and Rice but runs into a new hard-hitting Army team with a fresh winning spirit instilled by Coach Paul Dietzel. Coach Rip Engle of Penn State fears a repetition of 1961 when Army rebounded from a loss to Michigan to beat the Staters 10-6.

Michigan State figures to have too much overall speed for Michigan but this is a game of such intense rivalry that form usually can be discounted. Both won games last week after losing openers.

Washington, unbeaten but once tied, is counting on a strong defense to halt Terry Baker, the multiple threat Oregon State quarterback whose running and passing smothered a big Stanford team last week.

West Virginia renews an old rivalry with Pitt at Pittsburgh and Cornell invades Navy for two of the better games in the East. Tennessee's visit to Georgia Tech, Maryland's game against North Carolina at Chapel Hill and Duke's intersectional clash with California at Durham spices the Dixie program.

In the Middle West, Wisconsin's offensive-minded sophomores are favored over Notre Dame and Northwestern, with 994 yards in two games, is given an almost negligible one-half point edge over rugged Minnesota, which hasn't yielded a point. Oregon invades Rice and Stanford takes on Washington State at Spokane in Southwest and Far West features.

Other games:

East — Dartmouth at Brown, Yale at Columbia, Holy Cross at Harvard, Princeton at Pennsylvania, Colgate at Rutgers, Boston College at Syracuse.

BEAT OUACHITA, 7-0

El Dorado Scores In Last Seconds To Win

By HOWARD PAGE
World Staff Writer

The visiting El Dorado, Ark., Wildcats punched over a touchdown with only 55 seconds left to play here Friday night to nip the Ouachita Parish Lions, 7-0, in a non - district struggle.

Loss was the sixth straight for Coach Bob Ellen's Lions this season and the second in a row by the same 7-0 margin. They lost by a similar score to Bastrop last week. The win over Ouachita squared El Dorado's record at 3-3.

The Lions return to District 1-AAA warfare next Friday night in a match with Fair Park at Shreveport.

El Dorado marched 43 yards in 10 plays in the waning minutes of the final period for the only touchdown of the night.

Two big breaks, both against Ouachita, aided the Wildcats in getting their TD, although the visitors had to overcome one five - yard penalty assessed against them during the drive.

With 5:15 left to play, the Wildcats took over on their 28, lost one yard in three plays, and were forced to punt. Halfback Jay Johnston, a left - footed kicker, punted to the Ouachita 40 on fourth down.

Then came the first of two costly breaks against the Lions. Fielding the punt on his 40, Halfback Johnny Knighten let the ball get away and the Wildcats recovered on the 43.

Wildcat quarterback David Self tried one pass that fell incomplete.

Then came the second break against the Lions. Halfback Donnie Powell picked off Self's second passing attempt at the 41 and raced 59 yards to paydirt with the interception.

But offsetting penalties nullified Powell's brilliant effort, and the Wildcats still had possession at the 43 with second - and - 10 and 3:12 left to play.

Halfback Junior Pittman started the Wildcats goalward with an 18 - yard sweep around the right side to the 25. Halfback Chet Blackmon tackled on five, and Fullback Jimmy Thomas, a 208- pound blockbuster, rambled to the 15.

A five - yard offside penalty moved the Wildcats back to the 20, but Pittman and Halfback Bobby Sims moved to the eight in three plays. Thomas bulled his way to the three, and quarterback Bill Rainer sneaked a yard to the two for the first on a fourth and one - foot situation. On the next play, Pittman found an opening at right tackle and lunged into the end zone for the score.

Johnston left - footed the extra point and the Wildcats had their 7-0 lead with the scoreboard showing 55 seconds left.

Ouachita had time for only two plays after the kickoff, and Knighten was smothered on the 17 for a nine - yard loss trying to get off a pass on the last play.

The Lions, who have scored only once in six games this season, mustered only one mild threat. And that came midway of the second quarter when they picked up their only two first downs of the game in driving from their 39 to the El Dorado 12.

Taking over following an El Dorado punt, the Lion's lone thrust of the night got off to a fast start when Fullback Ronnie Hamilton turned the corner at right end on a reverse and sprinted 32 yards to the Wildcat 29. It was the first first down for the Lions.

Halfback Donnie Powell lost a yard, but Knighten picked up 12 on another reverse around the right side to the 18. That turned out to be the second and final first down for the Lions.

An offside penalty against El Dorado moved the Lions to the 13, and Quarterback Carl Gilstrap fumbled another yard to the 12 with the clock showing four minutes left.

Then the drive sputtered and came to grief in a hurry. Gilstrap's pass was incomplete, Knighten lost 10 back to the 22 on a reverse that failed to work, and Gilstrap was downed on the 28 trying to pass on fourth down. That ended Ouachita's offense for the night.

The Wildcats drove from their 47 to the Ouachita four the first time they got the ball in the opening period. But a 15 - yard clipping penalty pushed the Wildcats back to the 18, and Powell intercepted Self's pass on the seven and returned to the 14 to kill the threat.

On their next effort, the Wildcats marched to the Ouachita 30 only to fumble with the Lions recovering on their 27. Late in the second quarter, the Wildcats moved from their 28 to the Ouachita four as the half ended.

Late in the third quarter, the Wildcats started a drive on their 23 that carried to the shadow of the Ouachita goal - line. But the Lions stopped Thomas a yard short of a first on a fourth-and-two situation at the 12.

The only other threat of the game was El Dorado's scoring drive.

The Lions managed only two first downs and 31 total yards, including 30 on the ground. Hamilton picked up 34 yards on eight carries, while Powell gained nine on six tries and Walling had nine on three trips. But Knighten lost 13 and Gilstrap finished with a minus - nine.

Thomas, with his bull - like rushes up the middle, was the workhorse for the Wildcats as he hammered out 91 yards on 21 trips. El Dorado finished with 280 yards in total offense, including 202 on the ground and 78 through the air on eight completions in 15 attempts.

AT HOMECOMING

Neville Takes District Victory From Ruston

By STUART HILL
World Sports Writer

Neville's Tigers used the ground gaining efforts of several swift backs Friday night to set - up three touchdowns and defeat Ruston's Bearcats, 19-0, in the Tiger's homecoming.

Jimmy Howard, Chip Planchard and Don Johnson, with the aid of hard blocking linemen, chewed up both short and long yardage while leading the Tigers to the district 2-AA win.

Howard scored mid - way in the second period from 10 yards out, after taking a 39 - yard pass from quarterback Don Saget and fighting his way to the 10 one play earlier.

Saget, plagued with a leg injury all season, hobbled across from the six - yard line later in the fourth quarter to cap a 65-yard Tiger drive. Howard made good the PAT, his only successful conversion in three kicking attempts.

Fullback Don Johnson scored the final Tiger tally in the final quarter with about two minutes remaining, after carrying the ball to within inches of the Bearcat goal line.

Ruston offered Tiger defenses something to work on the entire game with the passing of quarterback Melvin Shows and the running of fullback Eddie Taylor.

Punting proved to be one of the points lacking in the contest. Left halfback Billy Adney, while trying to kick the Bearcats out of trouble, got off eight kicks for a 22 - yard average, including one eight - yarder.

During the first quarter, a battle of defenses raged with both teams swapping punts twice. The Tigers mustered their first sustained drive of the night early in the second period with the short gaining efforts of Howard, Planchard and Johnson. The Bearcats stopped the drive on their own 27-yard line, but the Tigers finally broke the ice on the next drive.

Neville's defense, which was characterized the entire contest by gang tackling, took over the ball on Ruston's 49 - yard line after forcing the Bearcats to punt from their own 26 - yard line.

After Saget tossed an incomplete pass and called a draw play that didn't work, the ailing quarterback connected with Howard who fought his way to the 10-yard line. He went across on the following play picking and choosing his way into pay - dirt. Howard attempted to kick the PAT, but was caught short of the goal after the holder fumbled.

Ruston ended the first half with a screen pass which caught the Tigers off guard. Shows hit Taylor on the sidelines and the 170-pound fullback scooted from the sideline to mid - field and back and carried the pigskin a total of 15 long yards on the play.

Howard, Planchard and Johnson did the bulk of the ball carrying early in the fourth quarter to lead a 65 - yard drive and set-up Saget's sojourn across the goal. Planchard broke loose for 21 - yards on the first play on the drive and 13 plays later the big quarterback went over.

With the ball resting on the six-yard line in a fourth and goal situation, Saget took the ball and headed for the flag on his left knee. He made it in spite of obvious difficulty with his right knee.

On the next series of Ruston plays Neville's group tackling methods threw the Bearcats for a seven yard loss including an eight - yard pass play from Shows to Billy Works and forced the visitors to punt from their own 18-yard line.

Neville took control of the punt on the Ruston 46 - yard line and sent Johnson across ten plays and three first downs later.

Johnson's tally came from inches away after Saget passed to Gary Hart for 13 - yards and both Howard and Johnson had picked up short yardage during the drive. Howard's kick was wide on the PAT.

OVER CANADA

U.S. Has Lead In Amateur Play

KAWANA, Japan (AP) — An all-North American duel for the Eisenhower Cup, symbol of world amateur golf supremacy, shaped up Saturday with a revived U.S. team taking a two-stroke lead over Canada going into the final round of the world team championship.

The U.S. team came back from a miserable second round to top the Canadians 649 to 651 strokes after 54 holes.

In the final 18-hole round Sunday, Canadian Gary Cowan battles Dick Sikes, a University of Arkansas physical education major, for individual honors. Cowan has scored 68-71-72—211 and Sikes 69-76-69—214 on the picturesque Fuji course, set along a small chunk of the Pacific.

The Britain-Ireland team, led by Michael Bonallack's 69 and Alexander Saddler's 72, moved into third place with 658 strokes, followed by New Zealand with 660. Mexico had another 69 shooter in Juan Estrada and moved into fifth place at 672.

Ninety-two players from 23 nations played in near seclusion at this somewhat isolated course 30 miles southwest of Tokyo. Team scored ranged from the United States' 649 to 797 for Pakistan. Scores for the low three golfers only are computed.

The Yanks picked up eight strokes on the Canadians in the third round on Sikes' 69, a 70 by Deane Beman of Bethesda, Md., and 72s by Labron Harris Jr., the U.S. national amateur king from Stillwater, Okla, and the always dangerous Billy Joe Patton of Morganton, N.C.

Beman, who bounced back after an 80 in the second round, unabashedly said that he played superb. He added: "If we lose, it won't be because we weren't trying."

Canadian Bill Wakeham, 21-year-old British Columbia champion, had a 72 for his best round. But Cowan and Nick Weslock, a truly big hitter of 45, posted their high tournament rounds with 79 and 75, respectively.

This third world amateur provided a sharp contrast to its predecessor held at the Merion Club at Ardmore, Pa., in 1960.

Going into the final round then, the Americans led by 38 strokes. Friday, Formosa and Australia were tied in sixth place with 675, Japan and South Africa were tied for eighth with 678 and Argentina was in 10th place with 680.

BULLDOGS 2ND SEC WIN

Mississippi State Romps On Hapless Tulane, 35-6

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Halfback Odie Burrell's 90-yard run ignited Mississippi State Friday night and the Maroons rode Charlie Furlow's passing arm to a 35-6 Southeastern Conference victory over winless Tulane.

Furlow, a 22-year-old senior from Mendenhall, Miss., passed for two touchdowns to end Randy Hutton and set up a third with a 30-yard aerial to end Tommy Inman.

It was the first back-to-back SEC victory for the Maroons since 1957.

In all, Furlow completed 8 of 10 passes for 126 yards.

The game was marred by penalties, with Mississippi State rolling up a school record of 175 yards in ruled infractions—164 of them in the first half. Tulane was also penalized heavily.

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Statistics of the Mississippi State-Tulane football game:

	Miss. State	Tulane
First downs	15	15
Rushing yardage	182	64
Passing yardage	163	149
Passes	11-20	17-41
Passes intercepted by	2	0
Punts	8-34.8	6-38.6
Fumbles lost	0	1
Yards penalized	175	114

Burrell's touchdown gallop came five minutes into the opening stanza, after a Tulane drive bogged down at the Maroon 10-yard stripe.

State dominated the second half as Tulane threw a record 41 passes in a vain effort to score. The Greenies completed only 17 throws.

A fumbled punt by Tulane halfback Terry Terrebonne at his own 40 set up the fourth MSU touchdown. Pass interference gave the Maroons a first down at the Tulane 16, and after Furlow had been dropped for a short loss, he threw 17 yards to Hutto for the score.

A pass interception by center Johnny Windham late in the third quarter set up the final Maroon touchdown. Linebucks by fullback Mackie Weaver gained most of the yardage and third string quarterback Jim McBride threw 15 yards to halfback Larry Swearengen for the tally.

The victory gave State a 2-1 season record, all in SEC play. Tulane is now 0-4 overall and 0-1 in the Dixie Dozen.

On the first State play from scrimmage, the 173-pound Burrell broke through right tackle and burst to the outside, outrunning the last Tulane defenders. Sammy Dantone kicked the first of five successful extra points.

Mississippi State scored again early in the second quarter. Furlow's pass to Inman was the big gainer in a drive which covered 35 yards in 13 plays. Tackle Howard Benton accounted for the six points, recovering J. E. Loiacono's fumble in the Tulane end zone.

Tulane's touchdown came after penalties forced Furlow to punt from his own end zone. Starting at the Maroon 47, Tulane scored in 15 plays with passes from quarterbacks Ron Melton and Ted Miller to end Clem Dellenger picking up most of the yardage.

Miller's pass to Gordon Rush covered the final 2 yards. Rush's conversion attempt was wide to the right.

Tulane was even in first downs with the Maroons with 15 each but MSU gained 345 yards to 213 for the Greenies.

Miss. State	7	14	7	7	—35
Tulane	0	6	0	0	— 6

Quarterback Essex Johnson scored on a two - yard sneak in the opening quarter to put Washington in front 6-0. The pat try failed.

Carroll came back, scoring on halfback Joe Everett's 10 - yard run, and going in front 7-6 on James Harris' PAT kick in the second period.

But Washington forged in front again on an 20 - yarder by halfback James Williams and led 12-7 at the half.

In the fourth period Carroll halfback Joe Baker went around right end for 20 - yards and the go - ahead touchdown. The extra point try failed.

FAVORED OVER MIAMI

LSU Is Unbeaten At Home Since '60

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—A Florida hurricane roars into the Louisiana Bayou country Saturday night, hoping to do what no other team has accomplished since 1960—beat Louisiana State in Tiger Stadium.

But Miami, despite the needle-threading passing of All America candidate George Mira, is a two touchdown underdog for its clash with LSU, sixth-ranked in the nation.

A sell-out crowd of 67,500 is expected. It will be the third straight full house this season at Tiger Stadium.

Despite its favorite role, LSU must continue to tighten its pass defense, one of the weaker facets of the Bengal team this season, to stop Mira.

The Tigers managed to do just that last weekend and stopped Billy Lothridge, the ace Georgia Tech quarterback. LSU beat Tech 10-7 and knocked the Engineers from the unbeaten ranks.

Both LSU and Miami are undefeated, but the Tigers have a 6-6 tie with Rice on their record.

Spearheading the Bengal offense will be Jerry Stovall, the elusive triple-threat halfback who ran 98 yards with a Georgia Tech kickoff for a touchdown.

Upsets May Be Order For Day

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Texas, Penn State, Michigan State and Washington are uneasy favorites Saturday in the games which headline the fourth week of the college football season.

Although they are picked from 6 to 13½ points over stout sectional rivals, it wouldn't be a great surprise to see one or more of them beaten, thus scrambling the national rankings.

Texas, second only to Alabama in the ratings, is 13½ over Oklahoma in their game at Dallas. Penn State, No. 3, is a 7-point pick over Army's platoons at West Point's cozy Michie Stadium. Michigan State is 7½ over Michigan at East Lansing and Washington, No. 7, is a slender 6 over Oregon State at Portland.

Three of these games will be beamed to home television screens on a regional basis by CBS-TV.

The Eastern seaboard gets a look at Penn State and Army, starting at 1 p.m. EST. The North Central area can switch on Michigan State-Michigan at 1:30 p.m. EST. The Southwest, West and Northwest can view Texas-Oklahoma starting at 3 p.m. EST.

Outside of Texas, Penn State and Washington, none of the top-ranking teams appears in danger of being tripped up this week.

Alabama, the defending national champion, is host to Houston at Tuscaloosa and should win by three touchdowns—more if Coach Bear Bryant happens to be in an uncharitable mood.

Louisiana State, No. 6, is host to Miami (Fla.) and George Mira's potent passing arm at Baton Rouge and favored by 11 points. Arkansas, No. 8, is 19½ points over Baylor at Fayetteville, Ark. Purdue, No. 9, is 20 over another unbeaten but unmatched Miami (Ohio) at Lafayette, Ind., and Ohio State, No. 10, is a whooping 27 points over an Illinois team which hasn't won a game in the last two years.

The game at Dallas, pitting the brains of Oklahoma's coach Bud Wilkinson against those of former pupil Darrell Royal, is a 75,000 sellout. Texas, with a powerful fullback in Ray Poage, is unbeaten in three games. Oklahoma's sophomore-studded squad was good enough to beat Syracuse but lost a squeaker to Notre Dame.

Penn State was impressive in beating Navy, Air Force and Rice but runs into a new hard-hitting Army team with a fresh winning spirit instilled by Coach Paul Dietzel. Coach Rip Engle of Penn State fears a repetition of 1961 when Army rebounded from a loss to Michigan to beat the Staters 10-6.

Michigan State figures to have too much overall speed for Michigan but this is a game of such intense rivalry that form should be discounted. Both won games last week after losing openers.

Washington, unbeaten but once tied, is counting on a strong defense to halt Terry Baker, the multiple threat Oregon State quarterback whose running and passing smothered a big Stanford team last week.

West Virginia renews an old rivalry with Pitt at Pittsburgh and Cornell invades Navy for two of the better games in the East. Tennessee's visit to Georgia Tech, Maryland's game against North Carolina at Chapel Hill and Duke's intersectional clash with California at Durham spices the Dixie program.

In the Middle West, Wisconsin's offensive-minded sophomores are favored over Notre Dame and Northwestern, with 994 yards in two games, is given an almost negligible one-half point edge over rugged Minnesota, which hasn't yielded a point. Oregon invades Rice and Stanford takes on Washington State at Spokane in Southwest and Far West features.

Other games:

East — Dartmouth at Brown, Yale at Columbia, Holy Cross at Harvard, Princeton at Pennsylvania, Colgate at Rutgers, Boston College at Syracuse.

South—Chattanooga at Auburn, Georgia at Clemson, Texas A&M at Florida, Wake Forest at South Carolina, The Citadel at Vanderbilt, Virginia Military at Virginia, Boston U. at George Washington, Howard at Furman, William & Mary at Davidson.

Midwest—Iowa at Indiana, Kansas at Iowa State, Missouri at Kansas State, North Carolina State at Nebraska, Colorado at Oklahoma State, North Texas State at Tulsa, New Mexico State at Wichita.

Southwest—Texas Tech at Texas Christian, Wyoming at Texas Western, Air Force at Arizona, West Texas State at Arizona State.

Far West—Utah State at New Mexico, Weber at Montana, Utah at Brigham Young.

Area Football Roundup

Sicily Island Romps

WINNSBORO (Special) — Sicily Island's surging Tigers made ruins of Winnsboro's homecoming Friday night with a 27-0 victory over the home team.

The visiting class B squad scored seven in second period, 13 in the third and seven more in fourth to down the district 2-A Winnsboro club.

Halfback John Dennis got Sicily Island into a lead with a seven - yard jaunt in the second and Joe Bondurant kicked the PAT.

Bondurant got the scoring underway in the second half when he intercepted a Winnsboro pass and raced for 41 yards to paydirt. His kick was no good.

Arnold Ready then got into the act with a 15-yard TD late in the third and added another score when he skirted left end and scooted 51 - yards to score. Bondurant kicked after both tallies.

The loss leaves Winnsboro with a 2-3-1 mark, and pushed Sicily Island's record to 5-1.

Trojans Take Rayville

TALLULAH (Special) — Tallulah climaxed its homecoming celebration with a 14-6 victory over district 2-A rival Rayville Friday night.

The Trojans found themselves down 6-0 in the opening period after Mark Brown's pass to Bubba Lane was good for 14 yards and a score. The PAT failed.

Tallulah fought back in the second period when a pass interception gave them the ball on Rayville's 31. The touchdown came on a 15 - yard scamper by Buddy Caldwell. Don Martin then kicked the extra point.

The Trojans' last TD came midway in the fourth quarter following a 56 yard drive. Donald Collins passed the final seven to Ed Lee.

The conference game gives Tallulah a 3-0 mark in district play and leaves Rayville winless after five outings.

Ferriday 33-7

FERRIDAY (Special) — Quarterback Red Walker led Ferriday's Bulldogs to a 33-7 victory over Waterproof here Friday night, scoring on a pass interception, throwing a TD aerial and blocking a kick that resulted in another score.

Walker returned an intercepted pass 66 - yards in the opening quarter and George Fields kicked the point.

In the second period, Walker blocked a punt on the Waterproof 30 and C. C. Rabb picked the ball up and ran it over. Fields kicked the point.

EVEN IN HIGH SCHOOL

Jesse Branch Is Razorback Type

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. — Jesse Oliver Branch has been a Razorback football player since high school days — at least he was the type Arkansas recruiters were looking for in the first year under Frank Broyles.

Assistant athletic director George Cole remembers the first and only time he watched the 167 - pound Watson Chapel tailback in action. "I don't even remember who they were playing — but it was a big game. I was a little disappointed to hear before the game that Branch had cracked a bone in his leg and had the thing in a cast. That meant I wouldn't get to see him play — and we were interested in him," he continued.

"Well sir — there wasn't a more surprised person in the stands than I was when Jesse lumbered out on the field in the first half — cast and all — to throw three or four straight complete passes. I decided right then that he was the kind of football player we needed. He wasn't very big and I couldn't tell a thing about his speed — but he certainly had a football heart."

Now over 20 - pounds heavier (as a result of long hours working with weights), Branch has become one of the most consistent of all Razorback ball carriers and a vital part of Arkansas' gridiron success story. He is also back at his favorite tailback slot and off to his finest year as a Razorback. It hasn't been easy but Cole's analysis was correct.

Southeastern Downs Florence

HAMMOND, La. (AP) — Southeastern Louisiana got four touchdowns on two passes and two runs Friday night to whip Florence, Ala., 25-7.

SLC opened the scoring in the first quarter on fullback Darryl Morris' one-yard plunge.

Brent Roussell passed 7 yards to Frank Gennusa for Southeastern's third touchdown in the third period, and Roussell converted. Harry Nunez got another in the last period on a 13-yard dash.

Florence scored in the second period when tailback Tarrie Hyche passed 6 yards to end David Thomas. Fullback Bobby Jackson converted.

Dallas Stuns Boston, 27-7

BOSTON (AP)—Dallas stunned Boston 27-7 with a pair of Abner Haynes touchdowns, the second on a startling 63-yard pass play for the clincher, in their American Football League battle Friday night.

Otts got Bernice's first tally in the second period when he fell on a blocked punt in the end zone. The extra point attempt failed.

Then in the fourth period with Bernice trailing 6-7 it was Otts to the rescue again. This time he trapped Robert Boughton, who was trying to punt, behind the end zone and gave the Bears their 8-7 victory.

Mangham had taken the lead in the second period when Carl Tailette passed to Billy Joe White for eight yards and a score. Huey Johns ran the extra point, which at the time looked like it might be enough for victory.

Wisner In Win

HOLLY RIDGE (Special) — The Holly Ridge Eagles gave Wisner's undefeated Bulldogs a run for their money here Friday night before bowing, 14-7 in the non - district tilt.

Wisner scored first in the opening period when Morgan Ensminger scooted over from 10 yards out. He then kicked the PAT.

Mickey Carroll got Wisner's other tally in the second quarter with a 10 yard scamper. Ensminger added the extra point.

Holly Ridge came back in the third quarter with its scoring drive which was capped by Wayne McManus' 15 yard scoring run. Bo Miller kicked the PAT.

Rams Lose, 6-0

SHREVEPORT (Special — Fair Park defenses, sparked by halfback Roger Mann, led the way to a 6-0 victory over Bastrop in a district 1-AAA here Friday night.

Mann swaped a Bastrop aerial at the visitors' 21 - yard line in the third period and slanted into the corner of the end zone for the only marker of the contest.

The Indian defenses held for four downs inside their four yard line to thwart a second period threat by the Rams.

Mann's intercepetion handcuffed another and Steve Schmidt intercepted another Ram aerial in his own end zone to stop the final Bastrop drive with 2:15 left.

The Rams had to down some defensive gymnastics on their own block in a 31 - yard field goal try by the Indians in the first period and blunting an Indian drive in the third quarter.

Columbia, 28-6

STERLINGTON (Special)—Undefeated Columbia used breaks to set up three touchdowns and sent halfback Jimmy Duff across for two of them to defeat Sterlington 28-6 in a district 2-B game here Friday night.

Duff set up the first score racing 30 - yards to the Sterlington nine, and Bruce Kenny went across from there. Clint Thornton kicked the extra point.

Sterlington got in the game then, recovering a loose ball at the Columbia 13. Buddy Hemler scored the touchdown from the three, but the extra point attempt failed.

The Crimson Tide hawked a bobble at the Sterlington six in the second quarter and Duff went across on the following play. Thornton ran the extra point.

A Sterlington fumble on the Panther 40 set up the next touchdown in the third period. Duff went over from the four.

Lanny Dark snared a Sterlington pass in the final period and returned it to the four where Mott scored on a quarterback sneak. Kenny got the point after.

Sterlington drove to the Columbia three and the 15 at other points in the game, but couldn't score.

Vidalia Sets Records

VIDALIA (Special) — Vidalia's Vikings were not satisfied with 'just a victory' Friday night, they wouldn't stop until they racked up 59 points, to Newellton's 19, and in the process set two school records.

The Vikings racked up 435 yards rushing for a record and, with the 283 yards they accumulated passing, the total yardage was 718 yards for another school record.

Butch Wiggins was the main cog in the Viking offensive machine. The swift quarterback ran for touchdowns of 30, 76, and 59 yards. He also passed for three more scores. His scoring tosses were to Bill Poole for 29 yards, Larry Richardson for 79 and to Bruce Byrd for 47.

Poole also ran for 78 yards and a TD. The other two Viking tallies were scored by Ray Ainsworth on a five yard plunge and Mike New from the one. New also ran two extra points. Wilbert Nations ran three.

Allen Bozeman passed for two of Newellton's scores and George Cooper, who caught one of Bozeman's scoring tosses, ran the other TD. Danny Kifer was on the receiving end of Bozeman's other TD toss. Bozeman ran the only PAT.

Bogalusa Wins

BOGALUSA, La. (AP)—Fourth-ranked Bogalusa protected its perfect record Friday night with a 20-0 triple-A victory over West Jefferson. The brilliant passing of Lumberjack quarterback Greg Honaker again proved the margin for Bogalusa.

Honaker tossed 18 yards to Larry Libert for the first Bogalusa touchdown. Late in the fourth quarter he moved the ball to the West Jeff 1-yard stripe where Paul Calamari plunged over for another tally.

The final Bogalusa score came on Larry Magee's 85-yard punt return.

Bossier 19-6

BOSSIER, La. (AP) — Triple-A Bossier roared past double-A Springhill 19-6 Friday night with halfbacks Lee Harville and Neal Prather leading the assault.

Harville scored the final Bossier tally on a 3-yard run and led the Bearcats in rushing with 132 yards. Prather didn't score but got off several long runs and ground out 107 yards.

Springhill scored first when fullback Don Howell ran 10 yards in the opening quarter. Bossier tied the score in the final 30 seconds of the half on a 33-yard pass from quarterback Mike White to halfback Bob Armour.

Fullback Joe Redding scored the other Bossier touchdown on a 4-yard run in the third quarter. Bossier is now 5-1 and Springhill 4-2.

Istrouma Barely

SULPHUR, La. (AP) — Jim Scott's conversion in the fourth period Friday night gave second-ranked Istrouma a triple-A 7-6 victory over Sulphur.

Jimmy Dousay plunged across from two yards out for the touchdown.

Sulphur took the lead in the second period when guard Terry Lyons grabbed an Istrouma fumble in mid - air and dashed 55 yards untouched. The kick attempt was high.

Block Gets Win

CROWVILLE (Special) — Block upped its district record to 3-1 here Friday night with a 22-0 victory over Crowville.

Wilbert Trisler led the victory march with three touchdowns. His scoring comrades were Doyle Sikes, who kicked two extra points, and Mays who scored in the first quarter on a safety.

Trisler scores came on 15, 25 and 30 yard runs. He tallied once in each of the first three periods.

The loss was the third in district competition for Crowville.

Byrd In Win

ALEXANDRIA, La. (AP) — The Byrd Yellow Jackets pushed across scores in the second and fourth periods to down Bolton 14-0 in a triple-A intersectional scuffle Friday night.

Fullback David Porter crashed one-yard for the first Byrd score and halfback John Smith sprinted 14 yards for the other. Jim Ryan kicked both extra points.

The victory left Byrd, 10th ranked triple-A team, with a 4-1 record. Bolton is now 2-4 for the season.

Kentucky Races By Detroit, 27-8 For First Win

DETROIT (AP) — Kentucky shook Perky Bryant loose for three short touchdown runs Friday night and methodically ground out a 27-8 football victory over the University of Detroit.

The Wildcats, winning for the first time in four games under new coach Charlie Bradshow, relied almost entirely on their pounding ground game.

A tough defense led by tackle Junior Hawthorne kept the Titans' passing tame, third best in the nation, under control except for one scoring strike.

Jerry Gross, leading the nation's passers, had three of his aerials intercepted. The Wildcats turned two of the interceptions into touchdowns.

Bryant, a chugging fullback, scored on runs of 1 and 7 yards the first two times the Wildcats had the ball. He scored again on a 3-yard burst in the fourth period.

TWO CHANGES in the Louisiana Tech lineup for the Arlington State game in Ruston tonight are halfback Mickey Strother (left), who will replace first-teamer Paul Labenne, and freshman Charlie Miller of Sicily Island who has been switched from guard to fullback. Labenne, Tech's leading rusher was hurt in the Southwestern game, and it was decided late this week to hold him out of action. Miller started at fullback for Tech earlier, but was moved to guard before the injury bug hit the Canine camp.

EVEN IN HIGH SCHOOL

Jesse Branch Is Razorback Type

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. — Jesse Oliver Branch has been a Razorback football player since high school days — at least he was the type Arkansas recruiters were looking for in the first year under Frank Broyles.

Assistant athletic director George Cole remembers the first and only time he watched the 167 - pound Watson Chapel tailback in action. "I don't even remember who they were playing — but it was a big game. I was a little disappointed to hear before the game that Branch had cracked a bone in his leg and had the thing in a cast. That meant I wouldn't get to see him play — and we were interested in him," he continued.

"Well sir — there wasn't a more surprised person in the stands than I was when Jesse lumbered out on the field in the first half — cast and all — to throw three or four straight complete passes. I decided right then that he was the kind of football player we needed. He wasn't very big and I couldn't tell a thing about his speed — but he certainly had a football heart."

Now over 20 - pounds heavier (as a result of long hours working with weights), Branch has become one of the most consistent of all Razorback ball carriers and a vital part of Arkansas' gridiron success story. He is also back at his favorite tailback slot and off to his finest year as a Razorback. It hasn't been easy but Cole's analysis was correct.

Southeastern Downs Florence

HAMMOND, La. (AP) — Southeastern Louisiana got four touchdowns on two passes and two runs Friday night to whip Florence, Ala., 25-7.

SLC opened the scoring in the first quarter on fullback Darryl Morris' one-yard plunge.

In the next period, SLC tallied when quarterback Dick Cothern tossed 14 yards to end Ronnie Bradham in the end zone.

Brent Roussell passed 7 yards to Frank Gennusa for Southeastern's third touchdown in the third period, and Roussell converted. Harry Nunez got another in the last period on a 13-yard dash.

Florence scored in the second period when tailback Tarrie Hyche passed 6 yards to end David Thomas. Fullback Bobby Jackson converted.

Dallas Stuns Boston, 27-7

The Emphasis Is Traditional

Contemporary settings aren't overlooked in the new drapery lines for fall but, as in the new furniture offerings, the emphasis is on traditional. There's a wider choice than ever in curtains and yard goods, says Home Furnishings Daily.

Formality is to the forefront, even in Early American where there's a leaning towards Chippendale to take away the quaint, homespun look. In solid color fabrics, the shimmer of silk is in greater evidence. More panel prints will be seen, especially those with a metallic glint which will go with the increased interest in French Provincial furniture. Vying with panels are the prints in stripe formation with ticking types popular. Also in stripe formation are the new florals with a Louis XVI influence.

Art Noveau, with its emphasis on stained glass effects, will add sparkle to many windows this fall. Colored wraps, judiciously used in solids, also add a new iridescence to the fabric scene. Sparkle, too, is added to many of the new fabrics through the use of metallic threads — gold especially — against black or white or the brighter pastels: rose, green, turquoise and tangerine.

The Emphasis Is Traditional

Contemporary settings aren't overlooked in the new drapery lines for fall but, as in the new furniture offerings, the emphasis is on traditional. There's a wider choice than ever in curtains and yard goods, says Home Furnishings Daily.

Formality is to the forefront, even in Early American where there's a leaning towards Chippendale to take away the quaint, homespun look. In solid color fabrics, the shimmer of silk is in greater evidence. More panel prints will be seen, especially those with a metallic glint which will go with the increased interest in French Provincial furniture. Vying with panels are the prints in stripe formation with ticking types popular. Also in stripe formation are the new florals with a Louis XVI influence.

Art Noveau, with its emphasis on stained glass effects, will add sparkle to many windows this fall. Colored wraps, judiciously used in solids, also add a new iridescence to the fabric scene. Sparkle, too, is added to many of the new fabrics through the use of metallic threads — gold especially — against black or white or the brighter pastels: rose, green, turquoise and tangerine.

YOUR PROBLEMS

By Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Now that most people have had their vacations I'd like to ask if you think my husband and I are crazy — or is it the rest of the world?

Almost everyone we know takes a two or three week vacation during the summer. They work like dogs all year long and look forward to that glorious time when they can forget about the alarm clock and take life easy.

So, what do they do? They plan a motor trip and drive 3,000 miles with the kids and the dog in the back seat. Naturally they come home exhausted.

Others try to see the whole world in 18 days. The major part of their so-called vacation is spent packing, unpacking, soaking their feet in hot water, rinsing out things in a basin the size of a bird bath and sleeping on lumpy mattresses in third-class hotels. They come home half-dead, but armed with 350 color slides of "their trip."

My husband and I don't take a summer vacation — we are weekenders. Every Saturday morning we take off for some small town within driving distance. We shop, bowl a few games, have a good dinner and sleep at a fine motel. We loaf in the sun, meet nice people and get home Sunday evening, refreshed.

When vacation time comes we stay home and do the general repair work on our home. Which plan makes the most sense to you? — V. L.

DEAR V. L.: This is purely a matter of choice and has no bearing on sense or nonsense.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have two daughters-in-law who have not spoken to each other for three years. The fuss was over their children.

The nephew of one daughter-in-law was married last week. I received an invitation to the wedding. I accepted and had a fine time. Now the other daughter-in-law refuses to speak to me because I attended the wedding. She claims I should not have accepted the invitation because she didn't get one. Her husband (who is my son) says she's dead wrong but she accuses him of sticking up for me out of duty.

Please give me your opinion.—GLADYS

DEAR GLADYS: Obviously you were under no obligation to turn down the invitation because your daughter-in-law didn't receive one. She is behaving childishly and if you pay any attention to this complaint you will also be acting like a 10-year-old.

CONFIDENTIAL TO EMPTY DREAMS: Your dreams match your head, Lady. That man did the best selling job since Samuel Insull. Instead of moaning because he left, be thankful he didn't hang around another three years and talk you out of everything.

To learn the booby-traps of teen-age drinking, write for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Teenage Drinking," enclosing with your request 20c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Baskin Woman's Club Hold Thursday Meet

The Baskin's Women's Club met in the home of Mrs. Dudley Odom with Mrs. R. P. Stewart and Mrs. Lonez Shipman as co-hostesses on October 4, at 7:30 p.m.

After calling the meeting to order, the President, Mrs. George Busby, led the group in the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag.

In an inspiring devotional entitled "Are We Worth Saving," Mrs. Cecil Brown pointed out that God thought men was worth saving and man himself should be willing to help society.

Mrs. Busby then called on Mrs. C. W. Looney, Program chairman, who introduced the guest speaker for the occasion, Mrs. George Cotton. Mrs. Cotton gave an informative talk on "Great Plays of the Century." She chose six different types of plays beginning with "Green Pastures" in 1930, and ended with "My Fair Lady" of the present day.

Mrs. Busby introduced next Miss Judy Lawrence, the Club's delegate to Girls' State held in Baton Rouge in August, 1962. Judy gave a very informative talk on her trip and stay at Girls State. The Club members were all delighted that Judy won Parish Finance Commissioner in her Parish and was a candidate for State Treasurer.

A financial report and minutes of the previous meeting were read by Mrs. J. W. Jarrette, secretary - treasurer and were approved.

Mrs. Busby presented Mrs. Cotton with a little gift in appreciation for her talk.

Mrs. Janie Goforth read a note she had received from Mrs. Julian Shipp, who was a guest of the club at the last meeting.

Miss Kathlyn Goforth reported on a meeting she attended at the Paragon Club in Monroe.

Mrs. Busby read a letter the Club had received from Mrs. Donna Gill concerning a Junior Conference in Rayville on October 13. She had also received a letter and pamphlet from General Headquarters on the care of the eyes and another pamphlet on the Junior Improvement Program.

Mrs. Goforth thanked the club members for buying cards and reported she had them with her. Thank yous were also extended to Mrs. Busby to the committees who had worked on the yearbook and had given her assistance in other ways.

The meeting was adjourned by everyone standing and repeating the Club Collect. Refreshment were then served by the hostess.

The Club members welcomed guests Mrs. George Cotton, Miss Judy Lawrence, and her mother, Mrs. Lenell Lawrence.

HINTS FROM Heloise

DEAR HOMEMAKERS:

Every once in a while we get a letter that is the greatest. A woman has exploded! This, we love!

Today we are publishing one such letter. It has been cut down, but we think she has some terrific ideas. If you have any "explosions" to get off your heart—write to Heloise, c-o this paper. That's what this column is for . . . You . . . My friends.

Here's our friend's letter —

DEAR HELOISE:

Here is my housekeeping procedure: I am sure it would vary according to house size, number of children, and whether a woman likes to do as little as possible, or enjoys a floor which she can eat off of. Me? I'm lazy!

I have a large house and a family of seven, and I hate to clean house. The following is the easiest method that I've discovered so far, but I'm hoping that there is still a better one.

I clean house on Monday, because the kids and animals tracked things up so much over the weekend, I have to! I clean thoroughly on rare occasions . . . perhaps twice a year.

My secrets are: Don't use the vacuum cleaner attachment. This is much slower than a treated dust cloth or a treated dust mop. The vacuum dust brush, for instance, covers such a small area that to do a table top will take twenty - five motions, whereas a cloth will do it in two motions. Moreover, your hands are much more flexible than your vacuum. Your hands go around curved surfaces.

Don't do one room at a time. This will involve carting a basket of cleaning supplies, and since some operations require hot water, one can't cart that anyway! I do operation by operation all over the house (or over one area). My house is large.

I take a treated dust cloth in one hand and a polishing cloth in the other hand and go through the downstairs, dusting and-or polishing everything.

I wear a big apron with a pocket, in which I carry a whisk broom, and I use this for upholstery. I find it's much faster than using the vacuum. Don't try to clean the draperies, except on rare occasions. Just give them a shake with your hand!

I use a treated dustmop to go over the baseboards and bare floor edges around the rug. If you get debris from the floors, leave it in little piles!

Later take a broom and sweep up the little piles which you made in the above procedure. The broom will adequately work in small traffic areas. If you have a heavy traffic area, or one where you get a lot of lint, then take out the vacuum cleaner attachment, pick up the piles and the few clinging oddments of dirt in that area. I have found this ten times faster than trying to pick up ALL the dirt in ALL areas with my tank!

Take an upright vacuum. I find this less tiring, as I don't have to bear the weight of the wand. Vacuum all of your rugs. (This would not do with wall to wall carpeting, but I don't have it.)

Mix some solution in your kitchen sink. Spot clean woodwork and painted surfaces. Dip a terry cloth rag in this and go over the house wiping up any spots, etc. Then get a fresh rag and you can use the same water to clean the kitchen woodwork! And, if your bathroom is nearby, clean it too.

I use a window cleaner and go through the house, doing the mirrors and any spots on windows. This is not a thorough window washing project. I just do the messy ones!

Get a wet mop and clean any moppable areas. In my case, this is a large tile hall, the bathrooms, the kitchen and the back stairs.

Get out the wax and polisher and wax traffic floor areas. You're done.

I can clean my whole house—five bedrooms — in one day with this method. I never touch it again until the following week.

New way to analyze yourself is by color preferences, according to psychologist Faber Birren, who has just published a paperback called "Color in Your World."

Orange lovers are sweet but fickle, good salesman or politicians. Greens are civic workers and moral. But blue - green lovers are cold women who love themselves only.

Mr. Birren tells why so many women love pink, even hardheaded business women. Pink speaks to them of the sheltered life, the frilly feminism they often can't express otherwise.

Intellectuals like yellow, conservatives go for blue, red is the extrovert's color. Blue, it seems, is the world's most popular color, and if you hate it you are an antisocial rebel.

HINTS FROM Heloise

DEAR HOMEMAKERS:

Every once in a while we get a letter that is the greatest. A woman has exploded! This, we love!

Today we are publishing one such letter. It has been cut down, but we think she has some terrific ideas. If you have any "explosions" to get off your heart—write to Heloise, c-o this paper. That's what this column is for . . . You . . . My friends.

Here's our friend's letter —

DEAR HELOISE:

Here is my housekeeping procedure: I am sure it would vary according to house size, number of children, and whether a woman likes to do as little as possible, or enjoys a floor which she can eat off of. Me? I'm lazy!

I have a large house and a family of seven, and I hate to clean house. The following is the easiest method that I've discovered so far, but I'm hoping that there is still a better one.

I clean house on Monday, because the kids and animals tracked things up so much over the weekend, I have to! I clean thoroughly on rare occasions . . . perhaps twice a year.

My secrets are: Don't use the vacuum cleaner attachment. This is much slower than a treated dust cloth or a treated dust mop. The vacuum dust brush, for instance, covers such a small area that to do a table top will take twenty - five motions, whereas a cloth will do it in two motions. Moreover, your hands are much more flexible than your vacuum. Your hands go around curved surfaces.

Don't do one room at a time. This will involve carting a basket of cleaning supplies, and since some operations require hot water, one can't cart that anyway! I do operation by operation all over the house (or over one area). My house is large.

I take a treated dust cloth in one hand and a polishing cloth in the other hand and go through the downstairs, dusting and-or polishing everything.

I wear a big apron with a pocket, in which I carry a whisk broom, and I use this for upholstery. I find it's much faster than using the vacuum. Don't try to clean the draperies, except on rare occasions. Just give them a shake with your hand!

I use a treated dustmop to go over the baseboards and bare floor edges around the rug. If you get debris from the floors, leave it in little piles!

Later take a broom and sweep up the little piles which you made in the above procedure. The broom will adequately work in small traffic areas. If you have a heavy traffic area, or one where you get a lot of lint, then take out the vacuum cleaner attachment, pick up the piles and the few clinging oddments of dirt in that area. I have found this ten times faster than trying to pick up ALL the dirt in ALL areas with my tank!

Take an upright vacuum. I find this less tiring, as I don't have to bear the weight of the wand. Vacuum all of your rugs. (This would not do with wall to wall carpeting, but I don't have it.)

Mix some solution in your kitchen sink. Spot clean woodwork and painted surfaces. Dip a terry cloth rag in this and go over the house wiping up any spots, etc. Then get a fresh rag and you can use the same water to clean the kitchen woodwork! And, if your bathroom is nearby, clean it too.

I use a window cleaner and go through the house, doing the mirrors and any spots on windows. This is not a thorough window washing project. I just do the messy ones!

Get a wet mop and clean any moppable areas. In my case, this is a large tile hall, the bathrooms, the kitchen and the back stairs.

Get out the wax and polisher and wax traffic floor areas. You're done.

I can clean my whole house—five bedrooms — in one day with this method. I never touch it again until the following week.

YOUR PROBLEMS

By Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Now that most people have had their vacations I'd like to ask if you think my husband and I are crazy — or is it the rest of the world?

Almost everyone we know takes a two or three week vacation during the summer. They work like dogs all year long and look forward to that glorious time when they can forget about the alarm clock and take life easy.

So, what do they do? They plan a motor trip and drive 3,000 miles with the kids and the dog in the back seat. Naturally they come home exhausted.

Others try to see the whole world in 18 days. The major part of their so-called vacation is spent packing, unpacking, soaking their feet in hot water, rinsing out things in a basin the size of a bird bath and sleeping on lumpy mattresses in third-class hotels. They come home half-dead, but armed with 350 color slides of "their trip."

My husband and I don't take a summer vacation — we are weekenders. Every Saturday morning we take off for some small town within driving distance. We shop, bowl a few games, have a good dinner and sleep at a fine motel. We loaf in the sun, meet nice people and get home Sunday evening, refreshed.

When vacation time comes we stay home and do the general repair work on our home. Which plan makes the most sense to you? — V. L.

DEAR V. L.: This is purely a matter of choice and has no bearing on sense or nonsense.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have two daughters-in-law who have not spoken to each other for three years. The fuss was over their children.

The nephew of one daughter-in-law was married last week. I received an invitation to the wedding. I accepted and had a fine time. Now the other daughter-in-law refuses to speak to me because I attended the wedding. She claims I should not have accepted the invitation because she didn't get one. Her husband (who is my son) says she's dead wrong but she accuses him of sticking up for me out of duty.

Please give me your opinion.—GLADYS

DEAR GLADYS: Obviously you were under no obligation to turn down the invitation because your daughter-in-law didn't receive one. She is behaving childishly and if you pay any attention to this complaint you will also be acting like a 10-year-old.

CONFIDENTIAL TO EMPTY DREAMS: Your dreams match your head, Lady. That man did the best selling job since Samuel Insull. Instead of moaning because he left, be thankful he didn't hang around another three years and talk you out of everything.

To learn the booby-traps of teen-age drinking, write for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Teenage Drinking," enclosing with your request 20c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Baskin Woman's Club Hold Thursday Meet

The Baskin's Women's Club met in the home of Mrs. Dudley Odom with Mrs. R. P. Stewart and Mrs. Lonez Shipman as co-hostesses on October 4, at 7:30 p.m.

After calling the meeting to order, the President, Mrs. George Busby, led the group in the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag.

In an inspiring devotional entitled "Are We Worth Saving," Mrs. Cecil Brown pointed out that God thought men was worth saving and man himself should be willing to help society.

Mrs. Busby then called on Mrs. C. W. Looney, Program chairman, who introduced the guest speaker for the occasion, Mrs. George Cotton. Mrs. Cotton gave an informative talk on "Great Plays of the Century." She chose six different types of plays beginning with "Green Pastures" in 1930, and ended with "My Fair Lady" of the present day.

Mrs. Busby introduced next Miss Judy Lawrence, the Club's delegate to Girls' State held in Baton Rouge in August, 1962. Judy gave a very informative talk on her trip and stay at Girls State. The Club members were all delighted that Judy won Parish Finance Commissioner in her Parish and was a candidate for State Treasurer.

A financial report and minutes of the previous meeting were read by Mrs. J. W. Jarrette, secretary - treasurer and were approved.

Mrs. Busby presented Mrs. Cotton with a little gift in appreciation for her talk.

Mrs. Janie Goforth read a note she had received from Mrs. Julian Shipp, who was a guest of the club at the last meeting.

Miss Kathlyn Goforth reported on a meeting she attended at the Paragon Club in Monroe.

Mrs. Busby read a letter the Club had received from Mrs. Donna Gill concerning a Junior Conference in Rayville on October 13. She had also received a letter and pamphlet from General Headquarters on the care of the eyes and another pamphlet on the Junior Improvement Program.

Mrs. Goforth thanked the club members for buying cards and reported she had them with her. Thank yous were also extended to Mrs. Busby to the committees who had worked on the yearbook and had given her assistance in other ways.

The meeting was adjourned by everyone standing and repeating the Club Collect. Refreshment were then served by the hostess.

The Club members welcomed guests Mrs. George Cotton, Miss Judy Lawrence, and her mother, Mrs. Lenell Lawrence.

THIS WAS THE CIVIL WAR

By MERTON T. AKERS
United Press International

The Confederate invasion of Kentucky reached its high water mark early in October, 1862 and then receded south.

After dogging the Rebel invaders all the way across Tennessee and Kentucky, Maj. Ge. Don Carlos Buell reorganized his Union army in Louisville and absorbed the short term troops that had been called out to defend Ohio Valley cities threatened by the Confederates of Gen. Braxton Bragg and Maj. Gen. Edmund Kirby Smith.

On Oct. 1 Buell moved his army south from Louisville to offer battle to Bragg and Kirby Smith. Part of Bragg's army was at Bardstown, Ky., but Bragg himself was in Frankfort, the capital, inaugurating a Confederate governor.

One of Bragg's objectives in the invasion was to lure Kentucky into the Confederacy. That state already had an exile Confederate government. If a governor could be formally installed with fanfare, Bragg believed, Kentuckians might rally to the Stars and Bars.

On Oct. 4 Bragg inaugurated Richard Hawes as provisional governor. As Hawes was delivering his inaugural address, Federal guns started throwing shells into Frankfort. Hawes packed up and left and that ended attempts at Confederate rule in the state for the rest of the war.

The Union cannon shots which sent Hawes packing came from a column under Brig. Gen. Joshua W. Sill, feinting toward Frankfort while Buell with his main force marched against Bragg's army.

Buell's main army was organized into three corps. One was under the command of Charles C. Gilbert, a Regular Army captain who suddenly overnight became a major general in one jump in the confusion of defending Louisville Gilbert substituted two stars for two bars and led the corps south.

One of Gilbert's division commanders was Philip H. Sherridan, 31, his brigadier's star only a couple of weeks old. This stocky, fiery, undersized Irishman was spoiling for a fight.

"Little Phil" — he was only 5 feet 5 inches tall — had got off to a slow military start. He was a year late graduating from West Point because he had taken out after Cadet Sgt. W. R. Terrill with a bayonet at drill and later had fought him with his fists. Now Terrill was a brigadier in the same army with Sheridan and they shook hands and made up.

A lieutenant in the Far West when the war started, Sheridan finally managed to wangle a transfer east and became a captain and quartermaster officer in Missouri but missed the fighting. Almost by chance he became colonel of the 2nd Michigan Calvary.

In two weeks he was leading a calvalry brigade and had won the battle of Booneville, Miss., an engagement in which he showed considerable tactical skill in dismounting his troopers and fighting them as infantry.

After Booneville five brigadiers petitioned for Sheridan's promotion, saying "he is worth his weight in gold." In 35 days the appointment came through.

Buell's and Bragg's armies clashed Oct. 8 at Perryville, Ky. about 35 miles southeast of Bardstown. Bragg had only a part of his army in the line, about 16,000 of 52,000. The rest were scattered opposing the feinting column of General Sill. Buell had about 58,000 on hand but only about 22,000 saw any fighting.

Seldom have two opposing generals on the eve of battle known so little about the other's strength. Buell thought all of Bragg's army faced him. Bragg, until the last minute, was equally certain that Sill's force was the main Union army.

The battle started over a lack of drinking water. Central Kentucky was in the grip of a drought. The only water in sight was in Doctor's Creek, a tributary of the Chaplain River which ran through Perryville.

On the night of Oct. 7, early arrivals of the Federal army sighted the pools in Doctor's Creek and charged downhill for a drink.

Confederate sharpshooters on the hills across the creek drove them off twice and the thirsty Federals spent the night in a dry camp.

At dawn on the 8th a brigade of Sheridan's division, parched by that time, captured the precious water holes. Refreshed by a drink and their canteens filled, Sheridan's troops continued up the heights beyond, captured them and dug in.

Sheridan's men held on to their positions in the face of several Confederate attacks but Federal fortunes on the other end of the line — the left — were not so good.

About 2 p.m. the Rebels hit two divisions on the Federal left. The green brigade commanded by Terrill crumpled and Terrill was killed. Another brigade of Federal recruits under Brig. Gen. James S. Jacksor also folded and Jackson was killed.

Buell was two and one - half miles away from the fighting but it was 4 p.m. before he knew there was a battle.

As occurred in several Civil War battles, the so - called acoustic shadow played tricks, making the firing inaudible to Buell at close range and audible to others much farther away.

The battle died away at nightfall and the moon — barely past full — flooded the field in silver. Several Union commanders wanted to counterattack but Buell only ordered Maj. Gen. Thomas L. Grittenden, whose corps had seen little fighting on the 8th, to be ready to attack at dawn.

But at midnight Bragg ordered his forces back, after learning belatedly he faced Buell's whole army.

Casualties at Perryville — a drawn battle — were comparatively heavy. The Federals lost 845 killed, 2,851 wounded and 515 missing, Confederates losses: 510 killed, 2,635 wounded and 251 missing.

By the night of Oct. 11 the armies again faced each other at Harrodsburg, Ky., Bragg and Kirby Smith now having joined forces.

"For God's sake, general, let us fight Buell here." Kirby Smith quoted himself as saying to Bragg.

"I will do it," Bragg replied.

But he didn't. He fell back in stages, Buell following cautiously. By Oct. 13 he began a withdrawal from Kentucky.

Why didn't Bragg fight there? He "could not make up his mind to assume the offensive, evincing in fact a perplexity and vacillation which now had become simply appalling . . ." a Southern critic wrote.

Bragg himself said he did not wish to mire down his army "in a northern clime" and that the Kentuckians didn't want to be "saved" anyway.

So, with his captured wagon trains bulging with supplies and Texas troops acting as cowboys driving herds of cattle, Bragg went back to Tennessee rich in spoils but barren of victory.

Counterfeiting Confederate banknotes was a common partice during the Civil War. When Federal prisoners were reported reproducing the currency, the New York Times said: "If any ordinarily cute Yankee could not make a better looking article than the wretched shinplasters of which we have seen specimens, he would not be worthy of the name."

The 109 men in Co. 1 of the 8th Alabama regiment in the Civil War, 104 were Irishmen. The company carried a flag with the Confederate emblem on one side and the green flag of Ireland with harp and shamrocks on the other.

Disease killed more than twice as many soldiers in the Union armies during the Civil War as died in battle. The numbers are: battle deaths, 110,070; deaths from disease, 250,052.

Voice Of Broadway

By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

Apparently Broadway finally has a new hit on the way. Things have been pretty disastrous for many of the shows in their out of town tryouts, but "Little Me" won admiring adjectives from the Philadelphia critics and the audience opening night, and suddenly the rush of ticket sales became so great the Erlanger had to open a third box office. Gothamites who went to Philly to catch the show say Sid Caesar's scene as an autocratic Hollywood director is worth the price of admission, and they rave about his versatility.

It may shape up as the biggest musical hit since "How To Succeed," which opened more than a year ago.

The duo of the season in Hollywood: Jayne Mansfield and Georgie Jessel, spotted dining together several times recently, and don't they make a peach of a pair? . . . MGM is rushing their "Marilyn Monroe Story" while David Wolper is pushing ahead with his television documentary on the same subject. The talk among her intimates: Will Marilyn's estate come in for a share on the profits of either of the projects? . . American rock 'n' roll record stars were caught with their pancakes down when almost overnight the entire disc market flipped over to the Basso Nova jazz instrumentalists. Suddenly nobody was buying rock 'n' roll.

James B. Donovan, the lawyer appointed to defend the spy, has written a book titled "The Case of Colonel Abel," and those who've seen it predict it will be a sensational "inside story." It's due to hit the book stores in January . . .

Lyn Duddy and Jerry Bressler have been offered three new Broadway shows — and without a single audition — just on the strength of the marvelous material they wrote for Gordon and Sheila MacRae's act at the Waldorf. And there's quite an advance buzz about tehir contributions to Robert Goulet's new act.

Larry Blyden, who is directing the new Tony Perkins show, "Harold," spends a lot of his off-stage time with Bernice Massi of "No Strings." (Well if Hugh O'Brian is going to stay in Europe for such a long time, he's got to expect that kind of competition) . . . Are you old enough to remember when Pat Boone wouldn't kiss a girl, even just for a fictional movie. And now he owns a race horse! And it won the first race he entered it in. I tell you, there aren't many illusions left to cling to these days.

Maria Lanza Cocozza, mother of the late Mario Lanza, is helping promote the career of South Philadelphia singer Art Perri . . . The St. Regis will have as one of its guests a gentleman familiar to most Americans who've spent much time in Rome. He's Alberto Pino, one of the most influential men in Italy — for 40 years chief concierge of the Excelsior Hotel . . . Donald O'Connor discovered it's living dangeriously to make like a star. While he was signing autographs in the lobby of NBC, somebody swiped a topcoat he had tossed over his shoulder.

In musical circles they say Sol Hurok is among those who hope the Metropolitan Opera House won't be demolished. They think he'd love to use the revered building for his ballet companies and international attractions that could keep it open as a classic showcase for most of the year 'round . . . Madison Avenue is paying plenty of attention to New York's growing Latin population. As an example: The Trio Canela, strolling guitarists in the Sunday Fiesta at La Fonda del Sol, have contracts to do 16 radio and TV commercials in Spanish.

The flies lay their eggs in the river. The minute worm is transmitted to man via the bite of the infested bloodsucking fly. The parasite settles under the skin and in time, a large tumor - like swelling is noted on the chest, lower trunk, or head.

Tese knots teem with the microfilarial and the parent worms. The flies are reinfected from this source. The best remedy if to remove the swellings as soon as they appear.

Blindness occurs when a multitude of these microfilaria linvade the eyes or the optic nerve. This aspect of the disease is variable because eye involvement is rare among certain of the African and Central American countires.

The World Health organization is concentrating on preventive measures aimed at eradicating the fly hosts. The gnat breeds in the running water of streams and rivers. DDT was sprayed from the air over Leopoldville and the surrounding area, with excellent results. In one district in Kenya, the insecticide was put into the rivers where the flies lay their eggs. All flies were wiped out and they have not been detected during the last seven years.

EDEMA OF ANKLES

E. S. writes: Why does heart disease cause swollen ankles?

REPLY

Because the heart is unable to force the blood along the vascular pathways; nor can the organ accept the blood returning from the extremities, head, and trunk. The back pressure accumulates in the legs, lungs, and liver. But this is only the mechanical side of the story. Chemical changes occur also, making the kidneys hold back on salt. As a result, sodium remains in the tissues and encourages dropsy.

A. G. writes: Will eating an egg a day cause a heart attack?

REPLY

No. There is more to the cholesterol problem than eating a daily egg. Moreover we have no proof that heart attacks are caused by too much cholesterol in the blood or that they can be prevented by lowering the level of this substance.

THIS WAS THE CIVIL WAR

By MERTON T. AKERS
United Press International

The Confederate invasion of Kentucky reached its high water mark early in October, 1862 and then receded south.

After dogging the Rebel invaders all the way across Tennessee and Kentucky, Maj. Ge. Don Carlos Buell reorganized his Union army in Louisville and absorbed the short term troops that had been called out to defend Ohio Valley cities threatened by the Confederates of Gen. Braxton Bragg and Maj. Gen. Edmund Kirby Smith.

On Oct. 1 Buell moved his army south from Louisville to offer battle to Bragg and Kirby Smith. Part of Bragg's army was at Bardstown, Ky., but Bragg himself was in Frankfort, the capital, inaugurating a Confederate governor.

One of Bragg's objectives in the invasion was to lure Kentucky into the Confederacy. That state already had an exile Confederate government. If a governor could be formally installed with fanfare, Bragg believed, Kentuckians might rally to the Stars and Bars.

On Oct. 4 Bragg inaugurated Richard Hawes as provisional governor. As Hawes was delivering his inaugural address, Federal guns started throwing shells into Frankfort. Hawes packed up and left and that ended attempts at Confederate rule in the state for the rest of the war.

The Union cannon shots which sent Hawes packing came from a column under Brig. Gen. Joshua W. Sill, feinting toward Frankfort while Buell with his main force marched against Bragg's army.

Buell's main army was organized into three corps. One was under the command of Charles C. Gilbert, a Regular Army captain who suddenly overnight became a major general in one jump in the confusion of defending Louisville Gilbert substituted two stars for two bars and led the corps south.

One of Gilbert's division commanders was Philip H. Sherridan, 31, his brigadier's star only a couple of weeks old. This stocky, fiery, undersized Irishman was spoiling for a fight.

"Little Phil" — he was only 5 feet 5 inches tall — had got off to a slow military start. He was a year late graduating from West Point because he had taken out after Cadet Sgt. W. R. Terrill with a bayonet at drill and later had fought him with his fists. Now Terrill was a brigadier in the same army with Sheridan and they shook hands and made up.

A lieutenant in the Far West when the war started. Sheridan finally managed to wangle a transfer east and became a captain and quartermaster officer in Missouri but missed the fighting. Almost by chance he became colonel of the 2nd Michigan Calvary.

DEAR FAMILY: Aren't there Laws? And those who break them might risk having the book thrown at them. Including the Good Book:

"When thou seest the naked cover him." Isaiah, LVIII, 7.

DEAR ABBY: I am very puzzled over your attitude towards people who let their small children run naked in their yards. You are fair in most respects but so unfair in this one. A naked child is a beautiful thing. Your thinking reveals either a sick or nasty mind.

DISAPPOINTED

DEAR DISAPPOINTED: My reason for objecting to small children playing naked in their yards is that child molesters and sex maniacs always seem to turn up where they are least expected. Parents who allow their children to romp unclothed should build high fences.

DEAR ABBY: I met an artist about six months ago and fell for him brush, pallette and easel. I started taking painting lessons from him but he told me to save my money because I had no imagination and was wasting my time and his. (I knew this, but took the lessons to get to know him better.) He is not married and doesn't appear to have any inclinations in that direction. I have bought more of his paintings than I have room for, but I can't seem to get anywhere with him. I can't sleep nights for thinking about him. Tell me how to get this man to realize how I feel about him.

NO ARTIST

DEAR NO: You don't have to be an artist to draw conclusions. This man is in love with his art. All you will ever get from him is the brush.

DEAR ABBY: Regarding OLD-FASHIONED MOTHER who reported the children's misbehavior to Father at the end of the day so that he could do the punishing:

My mother did that, and half the time we didn't kow what we were being punished for. We grew to fear our father, and instead of running to greet him, we'd hide. Then Father passed away when we were in our teens. Our mother had no control over us because she had no one to do the disciplining for her. All she could say was, "If you father were only alive!" She was fortunate because we never got into any real trouble. So, I want to agree with you, Abby. Tell parents again that disciplining children is a joint effort, and should take place the moment a child needs it and not "when Daddy comes home."

Gov. Barnett May Seek To Expel Negro

OXFORD, Miss. (UPI)—A state college board official confirmed Friday that Gov. Ross Barnett has been exploring possible grounds on which Negro James Meredith could be expelled from the University of Mississippi.

Tom Tubb, chairman of the board, said the governor had phoned to ask what action the board could take if a psychiatrist should declare Meredith "mentally incompetent."

Tubb said that while the governor had not specifically asked the board to expel Meredith, the purpose of his call was to discuss ways the Negro could be "removed from the school."

The school board official said he informed Barnett it was not the function of the board to handle expulsions and that any such action would have to originate with the university. Tubb said the board wouldn't expel Meredith under any circumstances.

However, Tubb noted that the board is scheduled to hold its regular monthly meeting next Thursday in Jackson.

He said Barnett could appear before the board at that time and "make any request he wants."

The maneuvering recalled the case of Autherine Lucy, a Negro girl who fought a successful court battle and finally was admitted to the University of Alabama. She weathered the riots that marked her entrance to the school, but was finally expelled on grounds she had unjustly criticized school officials.

Meredith, meanwhile, was winding up his second full week of classes at the school. He was expected to leave the campus again this weekend and travel to Jackson, where his wife attends the Jackson State College for Negroes.

The campus, scene of a bloody riot when Meredith first arrived at the school, has been relatively quiet since then, although Meredith still is the target of occasional taunts and jeers.

Women Voters Outnumber Men, Census Reports

WASHINGTON (Special) — "Never underestimate the power of a woman," is good advice for candidates up for election in November.

For according to figures released Friday by the Census Bureau, women of voting age outnumber men 57.7 to 52.

The bureau said there are 5.7 million more women 21 years of age and over then men in the civilian population of the 50 states, based on latest between census estimates.

If members of the armed forces of voting age are included, the excess of women over men is reduced to 3.6 million, the bureau added.

Of the nation's 109.7 million eligible voters, only 11.2 million are non - white.

In Louisiana the number of citizens of voting age is estimated at 1,811,000. However, in the 1958 congressional election, only 10.4 per cent of the state's eligible voters exercised their voting privilege.

There were only 29 states in which more than half the population of voting age actually voted in 1958. The three states in which the highest proportion of voters turned up at the polls were South Dakota, 66.5 per cent: Rhode Island, 65.6 per cent: and Idaho, 65.4 per cent.

Less than 10 per cent voted in South Carolina, Georgia, Mississippi and Arkansas.

Two Louisiana Editors Named ASNE Directors

NEW YORK (AP) — Newbold Noyes Jr., executive editor of The Washington Star, was named Friday to the board of directors of the American Society of Newspaper Editors to serve until the next regular election in April.

The board, meeting here named him to the vacancy created when Wallace Lomoe retired last month as executive editor of The Milwaukee Journal. Under the constitution, retired members are not eligible as directors and the board is empowered to make interim appointments.

The society is an organization of 600 directing editors of newspapers with over 20,000 daily circulation. Its semiannual board meeting Friday dealt wholly with organizational affairs, including elections of new members, and planning for the annual convention in Washington in April.

New members elected — from 50,000 to 100,000 circulation — included: Ernest Gueymard, managing editor Baton Rouge State-Times; and Alfred L. Hewitt, managing editor, Shreveport Times.

Boy Loses His Toy Air Rifle As JFK Passes

NEW YORK (AP)—A Secret Service man took a toy air rifle from a nine-year-old boy 20 minutes before President Kennedy returned to the city Friday from Newark, N. J.

The rifle was returned to the boy after the President passed by.

The boy, Frank Sabellico, had gone with his mother to a Ninth Avenue market. When she learned the President would drive along Dyer Avenue, she took the boy there to get a look at him.

The Secret Service man spotted the rifle and told the boy he would have to surrender it until the President left.

Louisiana Highway Department engineers are conducting a survey to determine the advisability of installing a boat landing ramp under the I-20 traffic bridge on the West Monroe side of the Ouachita River.

Chamber of Commerce Manager Eugene Smith quoted Highway Director Ray Burgess to this effect Friday.

As the next step in line, it must be presented to the administrator of the Bureau of Public Roads for his view and approval, said Smith.

O'Hearn Lashes Russell Long

SHREVEPORT (Special) —Taylor W. O'Hearn, campaigning for election for the United States Senate in the Nov. 6th general election, again directed sharp comment against his opponent, Russell Long.

In a statement Friday before the Shreveport Optimist Club, O'Hearn referred to his challenge to Long to meet him in open debate in the State of Louisiana on certain specific issues.

O'Hearn said: "Long took time off from his job in the senate to come to Louisiana to campaign in a local election in this state, but I doubt seriously that he will take the time to debate the issues in his own race with me because I do not believe he has the courage to face the people of this state on these issues.

"I am of the opinion that if he campaigns actively in his own behalf, he will cost himself votes in this state."

O'Hearn, commenting on the proposed ransom of the prisoners taken in the Bay of Pigs Cuban invasion, said:

"I desire as much as any other sympathetic American to save the lives of these prisoners and to prevent any further suffering on their part, but I feel we must remember two things: First, that it was the colossal blunder of the Kennedy administration that put them there and it would be the shame of the Kennedy administration that they must purchase them back; and, secondly, that for the president to participate in the ransom of these prisoners is an act beyond the scope of his authority; that if he violates the authority of his office again, the precedent established will be almost without parallel in the domestic historical events of this nation.

"Where will the scope of his authority then terminate and what will prevent future presidents from acting as they please on any matter whatsoever?"

Bonn Pledges Aid To Meet Berlin Threats

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer said Friday he has pledged to President Kennedy that West Germany will help the United States, Britain and France meet any threats to Berlin.

"I explicitly told the American President of our government's readiness to share the risks in Berlin," the 86-year-old chancellor told Parliament.

Then, as two days of foreign policy debate concluded, his government of coalition parties pushed through a resolution calling upon the government and the Western Allies to negotiate with the Soviet Union on establishment of a permanent conference dedicated to solution of the German problem.

Bids On Gravel Slated Thursday

JONESVILLE (Special) — Bids for 1,200 yards of surface coarse and clay gravel to be spot-dumped on Larto Lake Road in Catahoula Parish will be received by the Louisiana Department of Highways Thursday, according to Rep. W. S. Peck Jr.

The state highway personnel recently completed raising several low spots on the road around the lake. However, the parish was unable to furnish the gravel to complete the job and it was requested from the state by the parish Police Jury through Peck.

Police juror Moddy Tradewell said that the road would be in good shape after the application of the gravel. Traffic in the past was halted during the high water periods due to the overflow of the low places on the road.

Stockman New Vote Registrar

HARRISONBURG (Special) — Douglas Stockman has assumed the duties of the registrar of voters in Catahoula Parish.

Stockman, who resigned as office deputy for the sheriff's department Oct. 2 to accept the post, was given the unanimous approval of the Catahoula Parish Police Jury.

He was appointed to replace the vacancy left by the death of Mrs. Mary Swaggart.

LAKE CHARLES (Special) — With 3,131 students registered, enrollment at McNeese State College here has reached an all-time high, according to Dr. Wayne N. Cusic, president.

Registration statistics, compiled by Mrs. Inez S. Moses, registrar, carry forward a trend maintained since early last decade when the enrollment upsurge began, the president said.

AGAINST RED TAKEOVER

Britain Supports West Berlin Stand

LLANDUDNO, Wales (AP)—Foreign Secretary Lord Home assured Chancellor Konrad Adenauer on Friday that Britain wholeheartedly supports Western efforts to prevent the Communist from swamping Berlin.

In one of his firmest statements on the subject, the foreign secretary said Britain could never agree to a Berlin settlement "which is merely a cover for a Communist takeover."

Lord Home used the Conservative party conference as a forum to give this clearcut definition of British policy: The Western Allies must remain in West Berlin "as trustees of the people's liberty" so long as the Russians deny the right of self-determination to the residents of East Germany and East Berlin.

Lord Home expected his remarks to be noted in Moscow, but the Russians already know of his stand as a result of a conversation he had in New York a couple of weeks ago with Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko. Informants said the foreign secretary particularly wanted Bonn to take notice of what he said.

Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's government is bending every effort now to take Britain into the European Common Market. Adenauer's attitude toward Britain's membership application is one of the decisive factors in this matter.

Ever since Macmillan's visit to Moscow in 1959, the West German chancellor has suspected the British might take a softer line toward the Communists than other nations in the Western camp. Hesitation which Adenauer has shown about helping Britain get into the Common Market apparently traces back to this suspicion.

With French President Charles de Gaulle still lukewarm about bringing Britain into Europe, it is of major importance for Macmillan and Lord Home to get Adenauer on their side.

The 4,500 party delegates listened attentively Friday when Lord Home said the Berlin problem remains "stubborn and dangerous."

He insisted the West should remain willing to talk with the Soviet Union but should never negotiate away the liberties of the two and a quarter million residents of West Berlin.

AGAINST RED TAKEOVER

Britain Supports West Berlin Stand

LLANDUDNO, Wales (AP)—Foreign Secretary Lord Home assured Chancellor Konrad Adenauer on Friday that Britain wholeheartedly supports Western efforts to prevent the Communist from swamping Berlin.

In one of his firmest statements on the subject, the foreign secretary said Britain could never agree to a Berlin settlement "which is merely a cover for a Communist takeover."

Lord Home used the Conservative party conference as a forum to give this clearcut definition of British policy: The Western Allies must remain in West Berlin "as trustees of the people's liberty" so long as the Russians deny the right of self-determination to the residents of East Germany and East Berlin.

Lord Home expected his remarks to be noted in Moscow, but the Russians already know of his stand as a result of a conversation he had in New York a couple of weeks ago with Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko. Informants said the foreign secretary particularly wanted Bonn to take notice of what he said.

Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's government is bending every effort now to take Britain into the European Common Market. Adenauer's attitude toward Britain's membership application is one of the decisive factors in this matter.

Ever since Macmillan's visit to Moscow in 1959, the West German chancellor has suspected the British might take a softer line toward the Communists than other nations in the Western camp. Hesitation which Adenauer has shown about helping Britain get into the Common Market apparently traces back to this suspicion.

With French President Charles de Gaulle still lukewarm about bringing Britain into Europe, it is of major importance for Macmillan and Lord Home to get Adenauer on their side.

The 4,500 party delegates listened attentively Friday when Lord Home said the Berlin problem remains "stubborn and dangerous."

He insisted the West should remain willing to talk with the Soviet Union but should never negotiate away the liberties of the two and a quarter million residents of West Berlin.

O'Hearn Lashes Russell Long

SHREVEPORT (Special)—Taylor W. O'Hearn, campaigning for election for the United States Senate in the Nov. 6th general election, again directed sharp comment against his opponent, Russell Long.

In a statement Friday before the Shreveport Optimist Club, O'Hearn referred to his challenge to Long to meet him in open debate in the State of Louisiana on certain specific issues.

O'Hearn said: "Long took time off from his job in the senate to come to Louisiana to campaign in a local election in this state, but I doubt seriously that he will take the time to debate the issues in his own race with me because I do not believe he has the courage to face the people of this state on these issues.

"I am of the opinion that if he campaigns actively in his own behalf, he will cost himself votes in this state."

O'Hearn, commenting on the proposed ransom of the prisoners taken in the Bay of Pigs Cuban invasion, said:

"I desire as much as any other sympathetic American to save the lives of these prisoners and to prevent any further suffering on their part, but I feel we must remember two things: First, that it was the colossal blunder of the Kennedy administration that put them there and it would be the shame of the Kennedy administration that they must purchase them back; and, secondly, that for the president to participate in the ransom of these prisoners is an act beyond the scope of his authority; that if he violates the authority of his office again, the precedent established will be almost without parallel in the domestic historical events of this nation.

"Where will the scope of his authority then terminate and what will prevent future presidents from acting as they please on any matter whatsoever?"

Bonn Pledges Aid To Meet Berlin Threats

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer said Friday he has pledged to President Kennedy that West Germany will help the United States, Britain and France meet any threats to Berlin.

"I explicitly told the American President of our government's readiness to share the risks in Berlin," the 86-year-old chancellor told Parliament.

Then, as two days of foreign policy debate concluded, his government of coalition parties pushed through a resolution calling upon the government and the Western Allies to negotiate with the Soviet Union on establishment of a permanent conference dedicated to solution of the German problem.

Bids On Gravel Slated Thursday

JONESVILLE (Special) — Bids for 1,200 yards of surface coarse and clay gravel to be spot-dumped on Larto Lake Road in Catahoula Parish will be received by the Louisiana Department of Highways Thursday, according to Rep. W. S. Peck Jr.

The state highway personnel recently completed raising several low spots on the road around the lake. However, the parish was unable to furnish the gravel to complete the job and it was requested from the state by the parish Police Jury through Peck.

Police juror Moddy Tradewell said that the road would be in good shape after the application of the gravel. Traffic in the past was halted during the high water periods due to the overflow of the low places on the road.

Stockman New Vote Registrar

HARRISONBURG (Special) — Douglas Stockman has assumed the duties of the registrar of voters in Catahoula Parish.

Stockman, who resigned as office deputy for the sheriff's department Oct. 2 to accept the post, was given the unanimous approval of the Catahoula Parish Police Jury.

He was appointed to replace the vacancy left by the death of Mrs. Mary Swaggart.

McNeese State Enrollment Up

LAKE CHARLES (Special) — With 3,131 students registered, enrollment at McNeese State College here has reached an all-time high, according to Dr. Wayne N. Cusic, president.

Registration statistics, compiled by Mrs. Inez S. Moses, registrar, carry forward a trend maintained since early last decade when the enrollment upsurge began, the president said.

TESTS TWICE AS STRONG

UPPSALA, Sweden (UPI) —The director of the Uppsala Seismological Institute said Friday nuclear-test explosions set off by Russia had twice the force of those of the United States, Britain and France combined.

"Bombs with a force of some 600 megatons (millions of tons of TNT) have been detonated, including 400 (megatons) by the Soviet Union," Institute Director Marcus Baath said in a press release.
